Three Commuters Die As Pipe Pierces Train

Several Hurt In San Bruno

SAN BRUNO (UPI)—A 50-foot piece of steel pipe pierced a double-deck commute car on a speeding Southern Pacific train today, killing at least three passengers and injuring more than a score.

San Bruno police said three or four persons were killed, including a woman who was decapitated by the pipe, and between 20 and 25 hurt. The injured were shuttled to a pair of hospitals by ambulance and bus.

"From the outside it just looked like a bunch of busted windows," said Welden McDaniel, driver of the first ambulance to reach the train. "But inside the car it looked like a tornado had hit."

OTHER SIDE

McDaniel said the pipe, eight inches in diameter, had gone through a side of the car, then smashed all the way to the back on the other side.

"The six in front were so bad we didn't know where to start," the ambulance driver said. "It was hard to tell who was hurt worst."

An S.P. spokesman said Train No. 127 on the morning San Jose to San Francisco commute run was travelling between 60 and 70 miles per hour when its engine clipped the pipe, which then smashed into the lead passenger car.

A contractor, ARB Co. of Bakersfield, was removing the pipe from the railroad right-of-way. A small crane had picked it up and either lost control of it or backed too close to the tracks, the S.P. spokesman said. ARB Co. finished laying an oil line on the east side of the tracks last week for Southern Pacific Pipelines Co., leaving excess pipe behind.

DERAILED

The train was not derailed and left the scene about an hour after the accident, followed by four other commuter trains delayed by the mishap.

Police pressed an empty school bus into service to carry some of the less seriously injured to nearby Peninsula Hospital. A few of the injured were taken to St. Mary's Help Hospital in neighboring Daly City.

15-Inch Snow Hits New York

NEW YORK (AP) — New York was crippled and cut off from its suburbs this morning in the wake of a storm that dumped 15 inches of snow, piled into drifts whipped by high winds.

The New York and American stock exchanges closed.

The Long Island Rail Road shut down, cutting off 90,000 commuters. The Penn Central and New Haven railroads drastically cut schedules, and buses were mired in huge traffic jams caused by stalled and deserted vehicles.

The State Thruway was closed from Albany to New York City —148 miles—for the first time in its history, and more than 1,000 cars were stranded on the Tappan Zee Bridge, a span across the Hudson River at Tarrytown. The passengers took shelter locally.

Subways were running near normal. All public and parochial schools and colleges were closed, as were all branches of the public library.

Kennedy International, La Guardia and Newark airports were closed. More than 6,000 persons were stranded at Kennedy, where food supplies were being rapidly exhausted. Roads to the airport were blocked by stalled vehicles. One jetliner with 39 passengers was snowbound on a runway for nine hours yesterday before plows could free it.

National Airlines appealed this morning for a helicopter airlift of food for 500 passengers stranded at its terminal.

A spokesman said the strand-

MARIN WATER PROJECT

Biggest Bond Issue Planned

By JOANNE GRANT
(First of three articles)

The largest bond issue in the history of Marin County is expected to go to Marin Municipal Water District voters this year as the district begins a 10-year heavy construction program aimed at providing more than 14.5 billion additional gallons of water by 1990.

The bond issue is expected to be in the $30-$40 million range depending on results of studies scheduled for completion this month and on what kind of a bond issue it will be.

It would include money for a giant water transportation system from the Russian River and about $10 million to make the district what Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger calls "first class."

That the water should come from the Russian River is a decision reached after years of studies from the prolific state Department of Water Resources, the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, North Marin County Water District and Marin Municipal Water District.

Ten years ago, Marin was interested in a totally different plan, the North Bay Aqueduct, which the state contended would cost less than any other source, but which bogged down in disagreements among the four counties involved, conflicting cost estimates and worries over extensive treatment requirements.

The aqueduct, part of the State Water Plan, was proposed to divert water from the Lindsay Slough of the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta through a 60-mile channel in Solano, Napa, Sonoma and Marin counties, terminating in Novato.

Nixon Will Not Drop Plans To Visit Berlin

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla., (UPI) —The White House today reaffirmed President Nixon's intention to visit West Berlin later this month despite East German plans to limit land access routes to the city in connection with the upcoming West German presidential election.

As the president prepared to return to Washington during this afternoon his press secretary, Ronald Ziegler, said Russian and other comments critical of Nixon's trip plans would not, at least at this point, deter the chief executive.

Responding to a question about the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia statement that Nixon's scheduled Feb. 27 visit to West Berlin would "further complicate" the situation posed by the partial blockade, Ziegler said "The President will make the trip to West Berlin as the plan stands now."

Ziegler said the president also "fully supported" a statement

BERLIN (UPI)—The Western allies told the Soviet Union today they would hold it responsible for any East German harassment of Berlin traffic growing out of Communist protests against West German political activities in Bonn.

The United States, Britain and France delivered the mildly worded statement to the Russians in Bonn protesting the East German threat to bar land travel of 1,038 members of the West German electoral college to Berlin to elect a new federal president.

The situation was taking on crisis aspects with developments ranging from Bonn to Berlin, from Moscow to Washington. Adding a new and unexplained note was the arrival today in Berlin of Marshal Ivan I. Yakubovski.

Huge Pay Demand For County

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County now faces half-million-dollar demands for a 35-hour week and pay raises amounting to 20 to 30 per cent over the next two years for the county's social workers, on top of other county employee's demands estimated at $2 million a year.

The demands, presented by the county's Social Workers Union Local No. 535, go "even further than demands made by the Marin County Employees Association," said County Administrator Alan Bruce.

The county has about 70 social workers out of a total work force of close to 1,200 employees.

Salary and benefit demands are still to come from two other recognized bargaining units — the probation workers union, and the county nurses represented by the California Nurses Association.

The county administrator estimated that an additional half-million dollars would have to be added to the county budget over the next two years for the 70 social workers if all their demands were met. The union seeks a two-year contract, for both the 1969 and 1970 fiscal year.

The Social Workers Union seeks salary increases ranging from 10 per cent to 17.5 per cent for 1969, and another 10 to 15 per cent for the 1970 fiscal year. These, plus the 14 per cent raise represented by the 35-hour work week (instead of the present 40 hours), would mean a 46 per cent raise in the next two years for one category of social workers.

Other fringe benefits demanded by the Scoial Workers Union include these:

9-Year-Old Drowns In Center's Lagoon

The victim was David Blain Fust, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fust of 9 Geneva Way.

Children have been playing at the lagoon, canoeing, riding rafts and fishing, since the lagoon was formed about six years ago, but David's was the first fatality.

The drowning was reported by Gene Paul Niles, 10 of 293 North San Pedro Road, David's companion, sheffi's deputies said.

David and Gene were playing at the water's edge about 3:30 p.m. when David walked out in water to his waist, reportedly to catch a duck, deputies said.

It was not known if the water was that deep or if he had sunk in mud part-way. His last known position was about 20 feet southwest of the east shore, deputies reported.

Gene reported the incident, but because he was in shock deputies, who received the call at 4:04 p.m., could not immediately get information on the exact location of the drowning, they reported.

David, who was five feet tall, was found in five feet of water about 10 feet west of the south shore near a drain pipe, deputies said. He was taken to Marin General Hospital and pronounced dead on arrival at 5:55 p.m.

Ironically the lagoon has been drained in recent days to permit a cleanup operation, but apparently was filling with rain water, acting as a drainage pond for a wide, flat surrounding area.

Donald R. Frost, county public works director, said the gates had been open all week to let the water out of the lagoon for the cleanup job.

Surviving are his parents, and a sister, Denise.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m., tomorrow at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Greenbrae. Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael. Friends may call at Keaton's Mortuary after 5 p.m. today.

San Franciscan Believed Seashore Drowning Victim

Sheriff's deputies received a report Friday that a man, identified as Timothy Morton, about 25, of San Francisco, fell from a cliff at Point Reyes National Seashore and was swept out to sea.

Phillip W. Ward, head ranger, at the Bear Valley Ranger Station, relayed to deputies a report from three witnesses that Morton fell to the beach at the end of Bear Valley Trail. Deputies, who received the report at 5:15 p.m., listed the time of the fall at 2:30 p.m.

Robert Ross of 1 Green Pasture, Boardwalk 1, Larkspur, listed as Morton's brother-in-law; Mark Shapiro of Berkeley and Angela Mueller of Santa Monica, were on a nearby point.

They reportedly saw Morton on the cliff, turned away for a few moments, and when they looked back, he was gone, deputies said. Then they saw Morton's body on the beach below and said a wave came in and swept his body out to sea.

The three tried to get to the beach but couldn't because of the "blow hole" at that spot, Ranger Ward reported. They got word to a couple passing on horseback, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schultz, and Schultz rode to the ranger station with the alarm, deputies said.

A Coast Guard helicopter was called out to search, but the body wasn't recovered, deputies reported. Invesitgation is continuing deputies said.

Search Fails To Recover Surf Victims

Two men, in separate incidents, are believed to have perished yesterday when they fell into heavy surf at Fort Cronkite.

An intensive air and sea search has failed to locate the two men, one of whom was a Mill Valley resident.

Charles Wilson Stephens of 522 Pixie Trail was hiking with his wife, Madeline, along the cliffs at Rodeo Cove in the afternoon, when he sliped off a rock and tumbled into the ocean.

In another incident, earlier in the morning, Gene Stegan, 29, of Antioch, also fell off the rocks into the heavy surf. He was hiking near Tennessee Point.

A Coast Guard helicopter and a 44-foot cutter searched in vain for hours over a radius of one-half mile.

An Army spokesman said the chances of recovering the men are very slight since the strong currents off Fort Cronkite would probably sweep them far out to sea.

U.C. Campus Is Reported Calm

BERKELEY (AP) — For the first time since last month, early classes at the University of California at Berkeley got under way today without any student pickets outside.

About 50 highway patrol men were stationed at a garage on campus. One squad of sheriff's deputies was nearby.

A coalition of militant student groups called the strike to back up is demands for a Third World College specializing in courses dealing with minority groups.

Strikers had called for support of the student body.

Message Satellite Sent Aloft

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The most powerful communications spacecraft yet developed by the Western world hovered high over the Pacific Ocean today, the herald for a new era when small combat units on front lines can speed messages via satellite.

The $30 million experimental craft, called TACCOMSAT for Tactical Communications Satellite, might be used by U.S. forces in Southeast Asia if it passes as test program expected to take several months.

The 1,600-pound payload rocketed atop a powerful Titan 3C rocket yesterday into a spot 22,300 miles over the equator off the west coast of South America. At that altitude, the satellite's rotation to keep the payload in a seemingly stationary position over the Galapagos Islands.

With a cluster of antennae sticking out the top of a soup-can-shaped body, the two-story-tall spacecraft was designed to test the feasibility of using satellites so mobile military units can communicate over great distances.

Its size permits enough power for ground forces to use portable lightweight receiving antennae as small as one foot in diameter.

50 Monster Rockets Found Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Fifty monster rockets that one American adviser said could "raise hell" in Saigon have been found only one day's travel from the capital. They were part of one of the biggest enemy rocket stockpiles uncovered in the war.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said it was the first capture of 240mm rockets, warheads of which are twice the size and nearly seven times as powerful as the Russian 122mm and Chinese 107mm missiles regularly used by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

"It's not anything like we've seen before," said an American officer. "Someone fabricated this, and it is not a mass produced item like you'd find in a Moscow parade."

Military spokesmen said the warheads probably had been improvised at arms factories in Cambodia and were hauled into South Vietnam on bicycles. Seventy bicycles were found with the rockets.

They speculated the big rockets were to be fired from crude launchers that would limit them to a range of one to four miles. The 122mm rockets have a range of seven miles.

The spokesmen said the 240mm warheads could carry 100 pounds of explosives, compared to 14 and one-half pounds in the 122mm rockets. Thus the 50 rockets had a total punch of 5,000 pounds of explosives, or one-twelfth of the average bomb load of a U.S. B52 bomber.

South Vietnamese marines found the new type rockets in a 30-ton munitions cache in 34 man-made caves in War Zone C, 60 miles north of Saigon and 18 miles from the Cambodian border.

The cache also contained 500 122mm and 107mm rockets; six launchers for the 240mm missiles; 15 antiaircraft machine guns; 42 mortar tubes; 309 rifles; 10 tons of various small-arms ammunition; three tons of rice; 2,000 uniforms; 500 field packs and some smaller bazooka-type rocket launchers. The rockets alone weighed 15 tons.

The 3rd Vietnamese Marine Battalion launched a sweep operation in War Zone C last Friday, transported into the enemy's backyard by American helicopters. They clashed with North Vietnamese troops several times during the weekend, killing at least 20 and capturing an engineering officer described by one marine officer as "obviously a very important man in this setup."

16 Riot Deaths

BOMBAY, India (AP) — There are at least 16 persons dead, 30 injured and 2,000 arrested, and the Indian Army was ordered to stand by in North Bombay today after four days of riots.

Police have fired repeatedly on mobs attacking police stations, looting stores and markets and setting fires to cars and houses in the 10-square-mile riot area.

The riots were touched off by demands of the right-wing Shiv Sena organization for a self-governing state for the Marathi-speaking people who make up 90 per cent of the population of northwestern India.

Barkley Grandson Faces Charges

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — The grandson of the late U.S. Vice President Alben Barkley is back in the United States to face charges of air piracy and kidnaping.

But Alben W. Truitt, 35, says he is guilty only of foolish conduct in events which led to him being charged with forcing the pilot of a chartered Cessna 177 to fly him from Key West, Fla., to Cuba last Oct. 23.

The FBI took Truitt into custody Saturday at the U.S.-Canadian border in nearby Champlain after he withdrew an appeal to an order deporting him from Canada.

Truitt, being held in lieu of $100,000 bail, was to be arraigned here today.

Jordan Claims Fresh Fight With Israelis

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jordan said it fought a seven-hour artillery duel with Israel in the Ghor Safi area south of the Dead Sea today.

The Israelis made no immediate comment.

PLAN DISTURBS

In another development a Beirut newspaper, Al Nahar, said Jordan is disturbed over a plan by the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLC), to move its armed force from Egypt to the east bank of the Jordan River.

Al Nahar said Jordanian Prime Minister Bahjat Talhouni is going to Cairo tomorrow to discuss the issue with President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Talhouni is expected to protest that Jordan was not consulted on the move.

PLO's new leader, Yasser Arafat, announced last week that the 4,000-man guerrilla force stationed in Egypt would be shifted.

In Israel, authorities expelled six Arab youths and a teacher from the occupied west bank yesterday, accusing them of taking part in or inciting anti-Israeli demonstrations last week.

EXPELLS YOUTHS

Today seven convicted Arab saboteurs began serving jail sentences ranging from 15 years to life for planting grenades in the Jewish sector of Jerusalem. The grenades wounded nine Israelis last August, touching off an anti-Arab riot by Jewish youths.

About 200 Arab youths demonstrated in East Jerusalem today, chanting the name of Yas-Arafat. They called for a merchants strike but were largely ignored before police dispersed them and arrested 10.

OTHER OPPOSITION

There were other expressions of Arab opposition to the occupation. Schools were closed in Nablus, Jenin, Tulkarm, Ramallah and El Bireh. About 80 women staged a sitdown strike in El Birhe's old mosque. Moslem and private schools were closed in East Jerusalem. Mounted Police patrolled outside the old walled city, while other police —some using walkie-talkies— patrolled the narrow, twisting alleys of the old quarter.

Amman Radio reported a possibly significant concession from Iraq. It said Iraqi Information Minister Abdullah Sallum Samarrai told a news conference the Arabs should no longer advocate throwing the Jews into the sea or exterminating them. He said Iraq favors "establishment of a democratic Palestinian Arab state of Arabs and Jews" as a move toward settlement of Middle East problems.

But Samarrai also repeated that his government rejects any peaceful settlement based on the U.N. Security Council resolution of November 1967 because "it tends to liquidate the Palestine problem in Israel's favor."

GABBY HAYES
Hopalong's sidekick

Gabby Hayes, 83, Dies In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)— Gabby Hayes, the cantankerous character actor who played the "durn tootin" sidekick to Hopalong Cassidy and Roy Rogers, died yesterday at the age of 83.

He was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital a week ago for treatment of a heart ailment. Funeral services will be private.

Hayes usually appeared in westerns as an irascible but lovable character dressed in baggy pants, a plaid shirt and a floppy hat with its brim held up in front by a huge safety pin.

The bewhiskered Hayes appeared in 174 motion picutres, including most of the Hopalong Cassidy films as "Windy Halliday" ("Yur durn tootin', Hoppy!") and later the Roy Rogers series of musical westerns.

He grew his beard in 1929 and shaved it off only once, in 1939, when he had four months off.

"But my housekeeper saw me without it and was scared to death," Hayes once joked. "I looked in the mirror and it sure scared me too. I never shaved it again."

George Francis Hayes was born a tenderfoot in Wellsville, N.Y., May 7, 1885. He played semipro baseball during high school but ran away from home at 17 to join a stock company.

Although Hayes strove for a studied shabbiness on the screen, he was known as one of Hollywood's most tasteful dressers and an authority on wines and food.

He made rare appearances at state fairs, greeting the crowd and tipping his hat, and did some fishing and hunting. His wife, actress Dorothy Earle, died in 1957. They had been married 45 years.

Hickel Facing Firing Line Over Appointee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, less than three weeks into his new job, is under fire again from Capitol Hill, this time for naming an ex-lobbyist to an undefined but high-level departmental post.

The appointee is James G. Watt, who registered as a lobbyist for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in 1967 and fought against stricter federal control over conservation measures in water pollution and reclamation of strip-mined land as a spokesman for business and industry last year.

One Interior Department official said Watt was "some sort of consultant or special assistant or something." A spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce said Watt would hold the title of deputy undersecretary but the Interior Department would neither confirm or deny it.

The Oil and Gas Journal described Watt as Hickel's "eyes and ears on oil." Oil Daily called him an "oil specialist" for the Interior Department.

Watt could not be reached, despite repeated calls.

Watt's job, whatever it is, rekindled smoldering Capitol Hill doubts about the conservation views of the newly appointed officials at Interior, Hickel included. As a consultant or special assistant, Watt would not be subject to Senate confirmation.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., a leader in the unsuccessful fight against Hickel's confirmation by the Senate, wrote Hickel over the weekend protesting the appointment of Watt.

"Although I realize that you are entitled to hire those whom you wish to work on your staff," Proxmire wrote, "I think the appointment of a man who is so identified with the private interests can only create a credibility gap between your statements of concern for the public interest . . . and your actions as secretary of the interior . . ."

Last year when the House Public Works Committee was considering new water pollution control standards written by then Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall, Watt opposed them on the ground that Udall was overstepping his authority. He also argued in written testimony that they would be too expensive for industry to implement.

The standards would have required a minimum of two stages of treatment for municipal wastes and "comparable" treatment for industrial wastes.

Watt said the standards would require two stages of treatment for industrial wastes as well—a point denied by Interior officials —and said that if the federal government insisted on such standards, the federal government should help pay for them by granting loans, tax credits and greater annual depreciation allowances for industry constructing new waste treatment facilities.

His position prompted a Capitol Hill source to remark that Watt "is willing to accept whatever industry has to do if the public will pay for it."

Drinking Deaths

GENEVA, (AP) — Alcoholism kills more people in France than in all other major Western industrialized countries put together, a survey by the World Health Organization showed today.

France also registered the highest rate of fatalities from cirrhosis of the liver, a disease frequently caused by excessive drinking.

In 1965, the last year included in the statistics, alcoholism took 5,816 lives in France, 2,665 in the United States, 626 in West Germany, 608 in Japan, 385 in Italy, and 82 in Britain.

Boeing 747 Flies, Has One Defect

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — The huge Boeing 747 jet airliner designed to carry up to 490 passengers flew for the first time yesterday and but for a single flaw its pilot called the test trip "absolutely ideal."

"It's a pilot's dream...it flies like an arrow," declared pilot Jack Waddell, 45, as he stepped from the cockpit of the $20 million, 355-ton prototype of the new fleet of superjets.

The flaw—an improperly aligned wing flap—forced the jet to return to Paine Field here after one hour, 15 minutes of a scheduled two and one-half hour flight. The trouble was discovered 34 minutes into the flight.

The faulty flap was discovered by Flight Engineer Jess Wallick at about the same time Waddel radioded feeling "a bump" during tests of the wing control system.

Waddell said he hoped the second flight could be held within a day or two.

The cars for people who believe that style never goes out of style.

When the conversation turns to cars, a Cadillac owner is seldom asked the model and year of the one he drives. The fact that he drives the car of cars is sufficient. For a Cadillac, regardless of its year, is the most universally desired of all motor cars.

This is because the beauty, craftsmanship, luxury and performance inherent in a Cadillac never go out of style. A case in point is the 1966 model shown above. Its Turbo Hydra-matic transmission, variable-ratio power steering and other refinements have only recently become available on some lesser cars.

Message Satellite Sent Aloft

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The most powerful communications spacecraft yet developed by the Western world hovered high over the Pacific Ocean today, the herald for a new era when small combat units on front lines can speed messages via satellite.

The $30 million experimental craft, called TACCOMSAT for Tactical Communications Satellite, might be used by U.S. forces in Southeast Asia if it passes as test program expected to take several months.

The 1,600-pound payload rocketed atop a powerful Titan 3C rocket yesterday into a spot 22,300 miles over the equator off the west coast of South America. At that altitude, the satellite's rotation to keep the payload in a seemingly stationary position over the Galapagos Islands.

With a cluster of antennae sticking out the top of a soup-can-shaped body, the two-story-tall spacecraft was designed to test the feasibility of using satellites so mobile military units can communicate over great distances.

Its size permits enough power for ground forces to use portable lightweight receiving antennae as small as one foot in diameter.

Crews Attack Oil Slicks Along Beaches

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — A growing army of cleanup men is trying to rid the blue Pacific of an ugly, black scar stretching along California's beaches for 30 miles.

An undersea well that sent 231,000 gallons of crude oil bubbling to the surface was capped Saturday, sealed with mud and cement. But the huge slick still wallows, broken slightly by winds, occasionally still seeping to land.

USING STRAW

Crews are trying to sop it up, along the edges nearest land, with absorbent straw. Along the sandy beaches, more sophisticated methods are being used or planned.

More than 500 workmen from state conservation camps and the Union Oil Co., which drilled the well, have worked since the sludge moved ashore last week. Another 225 inmates from conservation camps join the crews tonight.

By midweek 1,500 men will be working along the coast. The cleanup is expected to require three weeks.

STEADY WORK

Most of the cleanup men are spreading straw on the oil as it nears shore. Then they pick up the refuse after it is washed on beaches. Other workmen used steam jets to wash boulders along the shore. Plans were made for a giant "sea sweep" to be tested tomorrow.

The "sweep," towed by two tugs, is expected to funnel oil into a pipe wedge, then to a scoop where it will be pumped into an 11,600-barrel oil barge.

Oil still floated in streaks and blobs off the coast from Santa Barbara southward. Although log booms were erected to keep it off Los Angeles-area beaches 90 miles south, the Coast Guard said it expects the slick to stay in Santa Barbara harbor.

Sierra Members Ask Offshore Drill Ban

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Sierra Club, embroiled in a bitter internal dispute, ended a two-day meeting yesterday with a call for a halt to all offshore oil operations.

The conservationist organization urged a "thorough investigation" by state and congressional authorities of the huge oil slick off southern California.

The resolution passed by the club demanded a moratorium on the drilling "until assurances can be given that no repetition of the Santa Barbara channel disaster can occur."

In other action yesterday, the club gave its support to the proposed Rio Grande National Historical Park in New Mexico and opposed construction of the Ben Franklin Dam in Washington and the Lompoc Narrows Dams in northern Santa Barbara County.

A 1969 budget of $2.8 million was also approved by the club's board of directors. The budget in 1968 was $2.7 million.

On Saturday the directors approved suspension of executive director David Brower's spending power.

They then gave Brower, 56, a two - month leave of absence from his $25,000 a year post so he could campaign for a position on the board of directors.

Brower, who led the club's recent successful fights for a Redwood National Park and against construction of dams in the Grand Canyon, wants to expand the organization's concerns to include all environmental pollution in the world.

His opponents, led by nature photographer Ansel Adams, want to curb the club's book publishing efforts and concentrate on U.S. conservation problems.

Both factions will compete in an election April 15 when the club's 70,000 members will determine which direction the organization will take.

Adams accused Brower of wielding "dictatorial control" and bringing the club to the brink of financial disaster with his book programs.

Mother Reports Threat To Sons

A Tiburon mother has received anonymous telephone threats against the lives of her three sons in the armed services, sheriff's deputies reported.

Jack L. Nicholson of 16 Janet Way, Apt. 157, told deputies last Wednesday that his wife received three calls from a woman threatening their three sons.

One of the caller's threats was: "We know you have three murderers that are being trained to kill. We are going to kill them," deputies reported.

Hollywood Resident Leaps To His Death

A man about 50 years old jumped to his death from the south tower of the Golden Gate Bridge at noon Saturday after telling a California Highway Patrol officer earlier he was waiting for his children to come back from walking across the bridge.

The man, identified from his papers as Sam Rosenberg of Hollywood, was seen leaning against the south tower at 11 a.m.

At 11:30 a.m., Officer L. G. Cook, responding to the report of a man acting suspiciously, asked him if he were going to jump. The man explained that he was tired and waiting for his children.

At noon, 13-year-old John Stelz of San Francisco, reported seeing the man take off his coat, hat and watch, place them on the sidewalk, then climb over the east railing and jump.

His body was recovered by the Coast Guard.

Crews Attack Oil Slicks Along Beaches

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — A growing army of cleanup men is trying to rid the blue Pacific of an ugly, black scar stretching along California's beaches for 30 miles.

An undersea well that sent 231,000 gallons of crude oil bubbling to the surface was capped Saturday, sealed with mud and cement. But the huge slick still wallows, broken slightly by winds, occasionally still seeping to land.

USING STRAW

Crews are trying to sop it up, along the edges nearest land, with absorbent straw. Along the sandy beaches, more sophisticated methods are being used or planned.

More than 500 workmen from state conservation camps and the Union Oil Co., which drilled the well, have worked since the sludge moved ashore last week. Another 225 inmates from conservation camps join the crews tonight.

By midweek 1,500 men will be working along the coast. The cleanup is expected to require three weeks.

Pueblo Blood Bath Reported By Seaman

CORONADO (AP) — An engineman aboard the USS Pueblo said today some of its classified papers were so soaked with blood they wouldn't burn when the intelligence ship was attacked off North Korea.

Engineman 3C. Peter Bandera of Carson City, Nev., said he discovered this as he tried to destroy classified material near where another crewman Duane Hodges of Creswell, Ore., lay mortally wounded.

"I belive they were all burned," Bandera said of secret documents in his area, "all but a very few which were splattered on the deck and covered with blood.

"They were soaked with so much blood they wouldn't burn."

Bandera said that while he worked at burning the classified material for "a half hour or 20 minutes," he could discern no destruction efforts in the ship's research department.

"Weren't you surprised no effort was being made to defend the Pueblo?" asked Vice Adm. Harold T. Bowen, president of a court of inquiry investigating the ship's capture.

"Yes, sir," Bandera replied.

Engineman 1/C William D. Scarborough of San Pedro, told the court the Pueblo suffered two hits — cannon fire which caused two holes about six inches in diameter four-to-five feet above the water line.

"I think he's one of the best commanding officers I've ever had," Scarborough said when asked his opinion about the Pueblo's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher.

Chief Engineman Monroe Goldman of Lakewood, Los Angeles County, said he was never informed of the Pueblo's mission — and assumed the ship was conducting oceanographic research.

"You never seriously considered the possibility of having to scuttle an oceanographic ship?" asked Capt. William Newsome, counsel for the court.

"No, sir," Goldman replied.

"Did the possibility enter your mind of destroying the engines?"

"Yes, sir, but I know I would have only gotten started... before he (a North Korean guard) shot us."

Goldman said a North Korean officer beat one of his crew as he was taken off the vessel.

The crewmen were also expected to begin testifying—possibly later in the day — about their ordeal in North Korean prison.

NIXON

in Bonn issued today by three allied powers saying they did not respect the right of East Germany to restrict land access to West Berlin.

The Urban Affairs Council meeting set for the White House today was rescheduled for Wednesday. Eastern weather prevented some of the participants from getting to Washington today, including Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Nixon would have missed the meeting had it been held according to original schedule.

Other announcements from the Florida White House:

The president, through his staff, emphasized that he will have the final say in the controversial Trans-Pacific Airline route case.

Robert E. Ellsworth, assistant to the president, sent a memorandum to airlines involved in the dispute, plus congressional leaders and chairmen of the House and Senate Foreign Affairs Committees.

In 11 new directives to departments and agencies, Nixon called for a broad range of new studies and recommendations from the vote for 18-year-olds which he favors, to "an expeditious and forceful" Justice Department move against narcotics traffic. He also asked his labor and agriculture secretaries for a joint report on advisability of placing farm workers under the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Act.

Theft Of Two Cars Reported

Theft of two cars Saturday night were reported today by San Rafael police.

One, a silver Prosche, license RMZ 178, was stolen from the carport of Lysle I. Williams, 135 Martins Boulevard, and the other, a 1964 white Ford Fairlane, license CYX 991, owned by Sarah H. Humphries, 1224 DuBois Street, was taken while parked in the Montecito Shopping Center.

The Williams vehicle was taken sometime during the night, and the Humphries vehicle between 11:30 and 11:45 p.m.

Transit Bus System Backed

The San Anselmo Homes Association tomorrow night will urge the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to set up a public transit bus system for Marin County, according to the association's transportation representative, Mrs. John F. West.

Such an operation by the bridge authority was proposed last year in a report by Arthur C. Jenkins, retired engineer for the bridge and highway district, and district directors will hold a public hearing on the proposal at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

A bus system operated by the bridge authority would feed passengers to any future ferries and would provide the backbone for development of an intra-county transportation system, the San Anselmo group said.

Check Cashing Suspect Booked

A 20-year-old Oregon woman was booked into Marin County Jail Friday on suspicion of cashing stolen checks.

The suspect, Zola Mac VanDolah was arrested after she allegedly cashed a $131 payroll check at the Emporium at about 5 p.m., police reported. The check, and several others she admitted to cashing in Marin, were stolen from the Atlas Paper Co. of San Francisco, police said.

The suspect had tried unsuccessfully to cash a check at the Emporium on Wednesday, and was recognized by a store employee when she tried again on Friday, police said.

She told police she left Oregon two weeks ago with her 14-month-old son. He was with a baby sitter in San Francisco at the time she was arrested. She said a man she met in San Francisco gave her the checks to cash and deposit in a bank account.

She was released on $625 bail, and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Burglaries Are Reported

Three burglaries were reported to Mill Valley police during the weekend.

Daniel Bower of 88 Florence Avenue said burglars took a Smith and Wesson revolver and portable radio, valued at $105, from his home between 8:15 a.m. and 5:20 p.m. Thursday.

A stereo and four speed phonograph, valued at $300, were taken from the home of John A. Ziegler Jr., 31 Glen Drive, between 7:15 and 10:50 p.m. Thursday.

Anthony E. Desmond of 2 Redwood Lane, reported a record changer, AM-FM receiver and speaker, valued at $75 were taken from his home between 1:30 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

War Hero's Medals, Uniform Stolen

A Vietnam war hero, home on leave, had his uniform and combat medals stolen from his car Friday night while it was parked in front of the Tiburon Lodge, Tiburon sheriff's deputies reported.

Lt. Geoffrey Barker told deputies he had left his Army lieutenan't uniform decorated with numerious medals and ribbons, including the Bronze Star and Purple Heart, in his locked car while he was visiting in Tiburon en route to Fort Benning, Ga., from Vietnam.

ed passengers had had no food since 8:30 p.m. last night. About 30 children and three chronically ill persons were in the group.

"If they don't get food soon, they'll be in bad shape," the airline official said.

In the Atlantic about 180 miles southeast of Nantucket, a passenger-freight ship, the Exminster, was described by the Coast Guard as inching slowly with 46 persons aboard.

The Coast Guard which dispatched a rescue vessel, said winds were up to 40 knots in the area.

Thirteen of New York City's 15 inches fell yesterday, a record for a single day.

Winds gusting to more than 40 miles per hour and temperatures in the 20s complicated the snow removal problem, as city officials declared a "snow emergency" and urged motorists to stay at home.

Upstate New York escaped the brunt of the storm and airliners were diverted from Kennedy to Montreal and Niagara Falls.

Northern New Jersey was equally crippled, but three commuter train lines into New York City were reported in operation. The Erie-Lackawanna Railroad said its electric-powered trains were operating normally, but diesel service was subject to delays.

Public schools in seven Northern New Jersey counties were closed, and many other areas reported partial closings.

The New Jersey Turnpike was shut from New Brunswick to Newark, and other parkways were plagued by deserted autos. Arteries leading to New York City were jammed and moving slowly.

The state legislatures in Trenton, N.J., and Albany N.Y., canceled today's session.

Connecticut commuters had it no better, as sections of the turnpike were closed and many secondary roads were impassable. A stalled train on the New Haven Railroad further delayed the irregular schedules.

Canaan, in northwestern Connecticut, reported 35 inches of snow.

The storm center moved into the Atlantic Ocean off Nantucket, Mass., at 3:30 a.m., the Weather Bureau said. It had originated off the Virginia Capes Saturday night, and dumped five inches of snow in portions of Virginia and Maryland.

The near-blizzard moved from the metropolitan area into New England, dumping 16 inches of snow at Scituate, R.I., near Providence. Massachusetts, Maine and southern New Hampshire and Vermont also bore the brunt of the storm.

Driver Is Poor From Accident

A Richmond couple was hospitalized, the husband in poor condition after their minibus hit a culvert on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard early yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Werner H. Fabig, 47, was in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital with head injuries, a forehead cut and broken ribs. His wife Marjorie, 48, was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital with scalp cuts and multiple bruises and scrapes.

The highway patrol said Fabig's bus ran into a ditch near San Quentin Prison at 4:15 a.m. yesterday.

Three More File For Post

Three more persons have applied for the seat on the Tamalpais High School District board vacated by trustee William B. Lewis of San Anselmo, who resigned a week ago.

They are: Robert W. Corlett, San Anselmo attorney and long-time trustee of the San Anselmo School District; Thomas E. Dugan of Mill Valley and William Bentley, accountant, of Mill Valley. Richard W. Jahnke of San Anselmo and Col. Brice Pace of Fairfax, who previously filed for the post, have reconfirmed their interest.

The board of trustees will interview candidates and appoint a new member at its special meeting to be held at 8 p.m., Thursday, in the district office.

Closed Session Set By Ross Trustees

Ross School District trustees will meet in closed session at 7:30 p.m. today at Ross School to consider disciplinary action against a pupil.

The regular meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and will include a discussion on the philosophy and objectives of education at Ross School.

PAY

employees with 10 years or more of service.

A dental plan paid by the county.

Sick leave credit of 24 days per year to be given at the start of each employment year, with no limitation on the accumulation of sick leave. (At present, the limit is 90 days). When an employee quits or is discharged, unused sick leave to be paid in cash.

A county-paid disability insurance plan.

Employees required to use their own cars on county business be given $40 per month, in addition to the present 12 cents per mile.

Employees discharged by the county to be paid one month's severance pay.

In addition, the union seeks staff changes in the Marin County Department of Public Social Services. For example, the union asks for specialists such as staff development supervisors for probationary workers, community resources coordinator, coordinator of day care, and special assignment social workers.

It also calls for the hiring of a program coordinator to coordinate workers and supervisory consultants and a consumer consultant to serve both social workers and welfare clients.

County Auditor Michael Mitchell said he had not had time to study the social workers demands to compute its impact on the county budget.

Demands of the Marin County Employees Association, made last month, would take close to $2 million to fullfill completely, Mitchell estimated. This plus the social workers demands and demands still to come from other bargaining units would reach "astronomical figures," Mitchell predicted. "This may be the toughest budget year we've ever had."

commander of the Warsaw Pact military forces.

In Moscow the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said President Nixon's planned visit to West Berlin would "further complicate" the situation in the city. In Key Biscayne, the White House reaffirmed Nixon's intent to visit West Berlin late this month despite the East German plans to harass land travel.

In Moscow, Izvestia hailed the East German action and expressed "bewilderment" about Western support of the West German plans to elect their president in Berlin in March.

The ban, on road, rail, and waterway access which goes into effect Saturday "until further notice," does not affect U.S.-British-French air corridors into the outpost city over which Communist East Germany has no control.

Guilty Plea To Lesser Charge

A 24-year-old former Sausalito man, who was charged with performing a criminal abortion Sept. 24, 1966 on a Petaluma woman who died two days later, changed his plea to guilty today in Marin Superior Court to a lesser charge.

John F. Milos, 24, who now lives in San Francisco, said he was guilty of soliciting a woman to have the illegal operation.

Milos was sought for a year after the death of the woman but was arrested November 1967 in connection with a shoplifting charge in San Francisco.

No Candidate Gets A Plurality

None of the five candidates for Redwood High School sophomore class president received a plurality of seven votes in last Friday's election, so there will be another election, tentatively slated for Friday.

The five candidates in the race are Kirk Pessner, William Challender, Scott Winston, Sue Foley and Jon Broderick, William D. Wilkinson, dean of student activities, reported today.

The American Stock Exchange said the last time it closed for a full day because of weather was in 1918—when trading was done outdoors.

Pueblo Blood Bath Reported By Seaman

CORONADO (AP) — An engineman aboard the USS Pueblo said today some of its classified papers were so soaked with blood they wouldn't burn when the intelligence ship was attacked off North Korea.

Engineman 3C. Peter Bandera of Carson City, Nev., said he discovered this as he tried to destroy classified material near where another crewman Duane Hodges of Creswell, Ore., lay mortally wounded.

"I belive they were all burned," Bandera said of secret documents in his area, "all but a very few which were splattered on the deck and covered with blood.

"They were soaked with so much blood they wouldn't burn."

Bandera said that while he worked at burning the classified material for "a half hour or 20 minutes," he could discern no destruction efforts in the ship's research department.

"Weren't you surprised no effort was being made to defend the Pueblo?" asked Vice Adm. Harold T. Bowen, president of a court of inquiry investigating the ship's capture.

"Yes, sir," Bandera replied.

Engineman 1/C William D. Scarborough of San Pedro, told the court the Pueblo suffered two hits — cannon fire which caused two holes about six inches in diameter four-to-five feet above the water line.

"I think he's one of the best commanding officers I've ever had," Scarborough said when asked his opinion about the Pueblo's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher.

Chief Engineman Monroe Goldman of Lakewood, Los Angeles County, said he was never informed of the Pueblo's mission — and assumed the ship was conducting oceanographic research.

"You never seriously considered the possibility of having to scuttle an oceanographic ship?" asked Capt. William Newsome, counsel for the court.

"No, sir," Goldman replied.

"Did the possibility enter your mind of destroying the engines?"

"Yes, sir, but I know I would have only gotten started... before he (a North Korean guard) shot us."

Goldman said a North Korean officer beat one of his crew as he was taken off the vessel.

The crewmen were also expected to begin testifying—possibly later in the day — about their ordeal in North Korean prison.

NIXON

in Bonn issued today by three allied powers saying they did not respect the right of East Germany to restrict land access to West Berlin.

The Urban Affairs Council meeting set for the White House today was rescheduled for Wednesday. Eastern weather prevented some of the participants from getting to Washington today, including Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Nixon would have missed the meeting had it been held according to original schedule.

Other announcements from the Florida White House:

The president, through his staff, emphasized that he will have the final say in the controversial Trans-Pacific Airline route case.

Robert E. Ellsworth, assistant to the president, sent a memorandum to airlines involved in the dispute, plus congressional leaders and chairmen of the House and Senate Foreign Affairs Committees.

In 11 new directives to departments and agencies, Nixon called for a broad range of new studies and recommendations from the vote for 18-year-olds which he favors, to "an expeditious and forceful" Justice Department move against narcotics traffic. He also asked his labor and agriculture secretaries for a joint report on advisability of placing farm workers under the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Act.

Theft Of Two Cars Reported

Theft of two cars Saturday night were reported today by San Rafael police.

One, a silver Prosche, license RMZ 178, was stolen from the carport of Lysle I. Williams, 135 Martins Boulevard, and the other, a 1964 white Ford Fairlane, license CYX 991, owned by Sarah H. Humphries, 1224 DuBois Street, was taken while parked in the Montecito Shopping Center.

The Williams vehicle was taken sometime during the night, and the Humphries vehicle between 11:30 and 11:45 p.m.

Transit Bus System Backed

The San Anselmo Homes Association tomorrow night will urge the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to set up a public transit bus system for Marin County, according to the association's transportation representative, Mrs. John F. West.

Such an operation by the bridge authority was proposed last year in a report by Arthur C. Jenkins, retired engineer for the bridge and highway district, and district directors will hold a public hearing on the proposal at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

A bus system operated by the bridge authority would feed passengers to any future ferries and would provide the backbone for development of an intra-county transportation system, the San Anselmo group said.

Check Cashing Suspect Booked

A 20-year-old Oregon woman was booked into Marin County Jail Friday on suspicion of cashing stolen checks.

The suspect, Zola Mac VanDolah was arrested after she allegedly cashed a $131 payroll check at the Emporium at about 5 p.m., police reported. The check, and several others she admitted to cashing in Marin, were stolen from the Atlas Paper Co. of San Francisco, police said.

The suspect had tried unsuccessfully to cash a check at the Emporium on Wednesday, and was recognized by a store employee when she tried again on Friday, police said.

She told police she left Oregon two weeks ago with her 14-month-old son. He was with a baby sitter in San Francisco at the time she was arrested. She said a man she met in San Francisco gave her the checks to cash and deposit in a bank account.

She was released on $625 bail, and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Burglaries Are Reported

Three burglaries were reported to Mill Valley police during the weekend.

Daniel Bower of 88 Florence Avenue said burglars took a Smith and Wesson revolver and portable radio, valued at $105, from his home between 8:15 a.m. and 5:20 p.m. Thursday.

A stereo and four speed phonograph, valued at $300, were taken from the home of John A. Ziegler Jr., 31 Glen Drive, between 7:15 and 10:50 p.m. Thursday.

Anthony E. Desmond of 2 Redwood Lane, reported a record changer, AM-FM receiver and speaker, valued at $75 were taken from his home between 1:30 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

War Hero's Medals, Uniform Stolen

A Vietnam war hero, home on leave, had his uniform and combat medals stolen from his car Friday night while it was parked in front of the Tiburon Lodge, Tiburon sheriff's deputies reported.

Lt. Geoffrey Barker told deputies he had left his Army lieutenan't uniform decorated with numerious medals and ribbons, including the Bronze Star and Purple Heart, in his locked car while he was visiting in Tiburon en route to Fort Benning, Ga., from Vietnam.

STORM

ed passengers had had no food since 8:30 p.m. last night. About 30 children and three chronically ill persons were in the group.

"If they don't get food soon, they'll be in bad shape," the airline official said.

In the Atlantic about 180 miles southeast of Nantucket, a passenger-freight ship, the Exminster, was described by the Coast Guard as inching slowly with 46 persons aboard.

The Coast Guard which dispatched a rescue vessel, said winds were up to 40 knots in the area.

Thirteen of New York City's 15 inches fell yesterday, a record for a single day.

Winds gusting to more than 40 miles per hour and temperatures in the 20s complicated the snow removal problem, as city officials declared a "snow emergency" and urged motorists to stay at home.

Upstate New York escaped the brunt of the storm and airliners were diverted from Kennedy to Montreal and Niagara Falls.

Northern New Jersey was equally crippled, but three commuter train lines into New York City were reported in operation. The Erie-Lackawanna Railroad said its electric-powered trains were operating normally, but diesel service was subject to delays.

Public schools in seven Northern New Jersey counties were closed, and many other areas reported partial closings.

The New Jersey Turnpike was shut from New Brunswick to Newark, and other parkways were plagued by deserted autos. Arteries leading to New York City were jammed and moving slowly.

The state legislatures in Trenton, N.J., and Albany N.Y., canceled today's session.

Connecticut commuters had it no better, as sections of the turnpike were closed and many secondary roads were impassable. A stalled train on the New Haven Railroad further delayed the irregular schedules.

Canaan, in northwestern Connecticut, reported 35 inches of snow.

The storm center moved into the Atlantic Ocean off Nantucket, Mass., at 3:30 a.m., the Weather Bureau said. It had originated off the Virginia Capes Saturday night, and dumped five inches of snow in portions of Virginia and Maryland.

The near-blizzard moved from the metropolitan area into New England, dumping 16 inches of snow at Scituate, R.I., near Providence. Massachusetts, Maine and southern New Hampshire and Vermont also bore the brunt of the storm.

Driver Is Poor From Accident

A Richmond couple was hospitalized, the husband in poor condition after their minibus hit a culvert on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard early yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Werner H. Fabig, 47, was in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital with head injuries, a forehead cut and broken ribs. His wife Marjorie, 48, was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital with scalp cuts and multiple bruises and scrapes.

The highway patrol said Fabig's bus ran into a ditch near San Quentin Prison at 4:15 a.m. yesterday.

Three More File For Post

Three more persons have applied for the seat on the Tamalpais High School District board vacated by trustee William B. Lewis of San Anselmo, who resigned a week ago.

They are: Robert W. Corlett, San Anselmo attorney and longtime trustee of the San Anselmo School District; Thomas E. Dugan of Mill Valley and William Bentley, accountant, of Mill Valley. Richard W. Jahnke of San Anselmo and Col. Brice Pace of Fairfax, who previously filed for the post, have reconfirmed their interest.

The board of trustees will interview candidates and appoint a new member at its special meeting to be held at 8 p.m., Thursday, in the district office.

Closed Session Set By Ross Trustees

Ross School District trustees will meet in closed session at 7:30 p.m. today at Ross School to consider disciplinary action against a pupil.

The regular meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and will include a discussion on the philosophy and objectives of education at Ross School.

PAY

employees with 10 years or more of service.

A dental plan paid by the county.

Sick leave credit of 24 days per year to be given at the start of each employment year, with no limitation on the accumulation of sick leave. (At present, the limit is 90 days). When an employee quits or is discharged, unused sick leave to be paid in cash.

A county-paid disability insurance plan.

Employees required to use their own cars on county business be given $40 per month, in addition to the present 12 cents per mile.

Employees discharged by the county to be paid one month's severance pay.

In addition, the union seeks staff changes in the Marin County Department of Public Social Services. For example, the union asks for specialists such as staff development supervisors for probationary workers, community resources coordinator, coordinator of day care, and special assignment social workers.

It also calls for the hiring of a program coordinator to coordinate workers and supervisory consultants and a consumer consultant to serve both social workers and welfare clients.

County Auditor Michael Mitchell said he had not had time to study the social workers demands to compute its impact on the county budget.

Demands of the Marin County Employees Association, made last month, would take close to $2 million to fullfill completely, Mitchell estimated. This plus the social workers demands and demands still to come from other bargaining units would reach "astronomical figures," Mitchell predicted. "This may be the toughest budget year we've ever had."

BERLIN

commander of the Warsaw Pact military forces.

In Moscow the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said President Nixon's planned visit to West Berlin would "further complicate" the situation in the city. In Key Biscayne, the White House reaffirmed Nixon's intent to visit West Berlin late this month despite the East German plans to harass land travel.

In Moscow, Izvestia hailed the East German action and expressed "bewilderment" about Western support of the West German plans to elect their president in Berlin in March.

The ban, on road, rail, and waterway access which goes into effect Saturday "until further notice," does not affect U.S.-British-French air corridors into the outpost city over which Communist East Germany has no control.

Guilty Plea To Lesser Charge

A 24-year-old former Sausalito man, who was charged with performing a criminal abortion Sept. 24, 1966 on a Petaluma woman who died two days later, changed his plea to guilty today in Marin Superior Court to a lesser charge.

John F. Milos, 24, who now lives in San Francisco, said he was guilty of soliciting a woman to have the illegal operation.

Milos was sought for a year after the death of the woman but was arrested November 1967 in connection with a shoplifting charge in San Francisco.

No Candidate Gets A Plurality

None of the five candidates for Redwood High School sophomore class president received a plurality of seven votes in last Friday's election, so there will be another election, tentatively slated for Friday.

The five candidates in the race are Kirk Pessner, William Challender, Scott Winston, Sue Foley and Jon Broderick, William D. Wilkinson, dean of student activities, reported today.

the past because of snow, a spokesman said. In 1948 when the exchange held two-hour trading sessions on Saturdays, the exchange was closed on Saturday, Jan. 3, due to a snowstorm.

The American Stock Exchange said the last time it closed for a full day because of weather was in 1918—when trading was done outdoors.

Both exchanges attributed today's closings to lack of personnel. The American Exchange said its trading floor was about 10 to 15 per cent manned.

The commodity exchanges which closed included the New York Cocoa, New York Coffee and Sugar, Commodity Exchange Inc., New York Mercantile, New York Cotton, New York Produce, Wool Associates and Citrus Associates.

Salomon Brothers & Hutzler, national investment firm, said bids will be taken as scheduled in the Treasury Bill auction this afternoon for Thursday deliveries, but there will be no cash trading in government bonds today. The firm said technically there will be trading in municipal bonds today but no trading in corporporates.

Now in California America's No. 1 pre-soak

Colgate's enzyme active

AXION

Soaks out stains and dirt that bleaches can't bleach out, detergents can't wash out!

Axion may be new to you. But all over America more women are using Axion than all the other pre-soaks put together. Axion is an incredible new discovery. It is entirely different from any detergent. It is entirely different from any bleach. It is an enzyme active pre-soak that cleans away stains no other kind of washing product has ever been able to do.

Works on the stain—not on the fabric

Axion with active enzymes is the latest result of Colgate research. Axion's active enzymes biologically break down the molecular structure of the most stubborn stains... loosen stains so they wash away easily during the regular wash cycle.

Yet Axion won't harm synthetic fabrics or washable colors. So you can safely use Axion where you could never use chlorine bleach. Axion's enzyme active formula was developed to concentrate on stains and dirt... for cleaning, whitening, and brightening far beyond detergent or bleach.

See the difference. Both towels washed in detergent and bleach

Not pre-soaked, the stain remains! Pre-soaked in Axion, the stain is gone!

This test shows what Axion can do! Both of these towels had set beef liver stains. The one on the right was pre-soaked in Axion. Then they both were machine-washed with regular detergent and bleach. The towel that was only washed in bleach and detergent is still badly stained. The towel pre-soaked in Axion—stain free, really clean!

Axion attacks stain after stain

Important—saves you money

Axion helps keep laundry new... doesn't damage fabrics the way harsh bleaches can. Dozens of costly items will last longer and look better. So it's obvious you can save money by using Axion.

Works on your whole wash

You will see a striking difference in your entire wash the first time you pre-soak with Axion. Your whites will be noticeably brighter and cleaner. And pleasantly fresh-smelling. Perspiration stains will be gone. Yellowed sheets and soiled pillowcases will be white again. Those grimy children's white socks, your husband's shirt collars and cuffs—so clean you'll find it hard to believe. And, just by following package instructions you can use Axion effectively on synthetic fabrics and colors you wouldn't dare bleach. In fact, once you start using Axion, you'll find yourself pre-soaking everything you wash, every time you wash!

Axion is the Number 1 pre-soak!

Such Pile Relief She Can't Describe Says Mrs. H. Williams

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Hugh Williams of Louisville writes: "A good person recommended Preparation H to me and such help I can't describe. I don't know what in the world I'd do without it."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases – Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced.

There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Top Hanoi Aide Leaves Talk Scene

PARIS (AP) — A top counsellor of the North Vietnamese delegation left the scene of the Vietnam peace talks today to return to Hanoi.

Le Duc Tho, who ranks third in the ruling Politburo of North Vietnam, left for his capital via the Soviet Union and Red China on what a delegation spokesman said was a routine trip. This is his third flight home since he first arrived in Paris as a special counsellor in June.

His departure raised speculation that he would be seeking new instructions.

But there seemed little hope that Hanoi would be softening its demands. A broadcast from the North Vietnamese capital today renewed the demand that the United States must "unconditionally" meet the terms of Hanoi and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front if it wants peace.

Tho told newsmen before leaving: "I have the feeling that President Nixon is following the same policy as the administration of President Johnson. There is absolutely no difference between them."

The home was proposed by members of Marin Aid to Retarded Children.

Larry's Starts Garbage Service In West Marin

Larry's Sanitary Service of Petaluma, which won a 10-year exclusive franchise for garbage pickup in West Marin last Tuesday, began providing service in West Marin during the weekend, the county, administrator reported today.

On Wednesday, the day after the supervisors granted the franchise, West Marin-San Geronimo Valley Refuse Disposal Co., which had been serving the are, suddenly pulled out.

Charles Purtle, operator of the West Marin firm, phoned Wednesday and said he would no longer serve the area, said Michael A. Chrystal, administrative analyst in the administrator's office. Chrystal said he had hoped for an orderly transfer of operations, giving Larry's more time to take over.

The sudden pullout by the West Marin firm brought several phone calls from residents in the valley who wanted garbage pickup, said Chrystal. "As of Saturday, Larry's began serving the area," Chrystal said.

The bid for the West Marin franchise was marked by bitter rivaly. The West Marin firm offered to provide service at $1.25 per 30-gallon container, while Larry's price was $1.50.

The county awarded the contract to Larry's, the second low bidder, on the ground that the low bidder's financial resources were not well established, and the West Marin firm had caused a garbage crisis in West Marin last May by suddenly suspending collections.

Three Persons Are Injured In Head-On Crash

Three persons were injured in a head-on collision yesterday on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Marin Road, Fairfax.

Albertia Elizabeth Haas, 39, of 145 Redwood Drive, Woodacre, who was traveling west, said she fell asleep while driving, according to Fairfax police.

Her car went into the eastbound lane and collided head-on with a car driven by Dr. Abraham J. Sender, 48, of El Cerrito, at 12:20 p.m. police reorted.

Mrs. Haas, who suffered severe cuts of the right knee, was admitted to Marin General Hospital, where she was reported in good condition.

6-Year-old Transplant Progressing

CINCINNATI (AP) — Doctors report steady improvement in the condition of Christie Corhn, a 6-year-old recipient in heart transplant surgery Saturday.

She received the heart of William M. Becker, 7, who died 30 minutes earlier from auto accident injuries.

Doctors say Christie remains unconscious most of the time.

"There are a number of hurdles still to be overcome," said Dr. Edward Pratt, chief of staff at Children's Hospital where the operation was performed.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Corhn of High Point, visited the hospital yesterday.

"We didn't talk to her," said Mrs. Corhn. "She was asleep when we saw her. But she has talked to the doctors, asking for a glass of water and that sort of thing."

Christie was born with a severely malformed heart, and her condition was described as terminal before the nine and one-half hour operation.

The donor sustained brain damage in an accident Thursday. His father, William Becker, was injured.

The Beckers visited the Corhns yesterday.

"We exchanged pictures and tears," said Mrs. Becker.

Asked the extent of her husband's injuries, she said: "A broken leg, head cuts and a broken heart."

Recorder Taken

Burglars took a record player and a tape recorder from the Bernard E. Eldredge School, 207 Maria Drive, Petaluma, police discovered yesterday. They said the office door had been forced open. The items were valued at $218.

Laird Hints Antimissile System Not Dead As Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, hinting work may be resumed on the Sentinel antimissile system, says he has seen no evidence of a better proposal to defend the nation against nuclear attack.

Construction of the Sentinel "thin" antiballistic missile system, under fire from critics in Congress, was suspended recently for further study.

"There has been no slow-down in research and development," Laird emphasized yesterday. "There has been no slow-down as far as procurement is concerned."

(The Wolfback Ridge area above Sausalito has been chosen by the Army as its most likely site for such an antimissile system in the Bay Area, with Angel Island a possible alternate.)

He said the administration position on the project will be made public next month with budget revisions.

Laird appeared on the CBS television-radio program "Face the Nation."

He charged the Soviet Union had escalated the arms race during the past two years. Laird said the Soviets already have a defensive missile system around Moscow and are continuing missile defense efforts, but he conceded their progress was not as great as had been estimated earlier by U.S. experts.

The defense secretary also predicted Red China will either fire or have the capability of firing an intercontinental ballistic missile by early 1970.

He said Russia is outspending the United States at a ratio of about 7 to 1 for defensive nuclear weapons.

Panel Adopts Garbage Policy

The Stinson Beach County Water District board Saturday adopted an ordinance to set up a refuse collection system in the district.

Under the ordinance, the district would issue a franchise to a private refuse company.

Directors still have to iron out some of the terms of the franchise agreement, before the franchise is put out for bid, reported Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, district secretary.

Refuse is now collected by Henry's Service of Stinson Beach.

CAR DEMOLISHED, DRIVER LIVES

Lester James Skippingday of 819 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, survived this shattering accident yesterday when his car swerved shortly before 5:30 p.m. off Highway 37, east of Atherton Avenue near Black Point. Skippingday, 23, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital despite a broken pelvis and punctured gall bladder. The California Highway Patrol reported his car, traveling west on Highway 37, went onto the shoulder, ran up the embankment (right), spun around and ended upside down on the highway below. Gun Wielder Kidnap Try Is Reported

A Novato woman last night reported a case of kidnap and assault with a deadly weapon to Novato police.

Patricia G. Halloran, 22, of 10 Gustafson Court, reported that about 10 p.m. when she stopped her westbound car at the stop sign on Novato Boulevard at Tamalpais Avenue, a man opened the right front door and got in beside her.

He aimed a gun, thought to be a .38 or .45-caliber automatic, and said he was going to kill her, she told police. Then he told her to drive west. She drove as far as Wilson Avenue where she pulled over to the side of the street saying that was as far as she was going, according to police reports.

He then hit her on the right side of the face with either his fist or gun, she said. This time she drove on to Sutro Avenue where she stopped a second time, stating that she would not go any further, police reported.

The man then ripped two buttons from her blouse, she told police. She slumped down over the wheel and he left after rummaging through her purse, she said.

She flagged down a car driven by Donald F. McGills Jr. of 30 Roy Court, Novato, who took her to the Novato police station.

Miss Halloran described the man as a white male adult about 30 years of age, si xfeet tall of medium build, weighing 150 pounds. He had dark hair with sideburns. He was wearing blue denim pants and jacket, she said.

Police took her to Novato General Hospital for examination and then returned her to her car, according to police reports.

Park-Type Tiburon Boulevard Is Urged

Tiburon Boulevard, which will eventually and inevitably be widened to a four-lane highway, should be developed as a public park corridor, not just a road, Supervisor Michael Wornum said Saturday.

Speaking to a symposium on Richardson Bay, sponsored by the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission, Wornum, who said he was speaking as a resident-planner rather than as a politician, urged Tiburon Peninsula residents to recognize the inevitablity of the four-lane road.

He said the four-lane road was one of those "certain things that are going to happen and all we can do is make it as painless as possible."

He noted that the Williams, Cook and Mocine plan for Tiburon in 1990 called for a population of 30,000 on the peninsula.

"You can't keep giving out building permits and allowing commercial growth and keep Tiburon Boulevard a two-lane road."

Wornum noted that a rapid transit system may alleviate some of the traffic problems but warned that such a system is a "long way off."

In addition, he said, he "social conscience" of a community and the basic economic factors work against keeping the peninsula a low density, area for the rich.

Tourists lower taxes, he noted, but they, too, will add to the load on Tiburon Boulevard.

Wornum recommended a split level road with landscaping and a lineal park along the bay. Bicycle and hiking trails should be on the edge of the bay, he said, rather than on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way. However, until the road is widened, the right-of-way should be used for trails, he said.

He also suggested Tiburon Boulevard be used for primary traffic with local traffic diverted to side connecting roads. "Everyone will scream that they don't want a main road through their little cul-de-sac but it's either that ot an eight-lane Tiburon Boulevard.

He also warned the audience of more than 75 persons that they should not allow engineers to plan their roads.

Earlier in the afternoon Beverly Bastian, president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society, outlined the history of the conservation effort in Richardson Bay.

Mill Valley architect Clifford Hanssen and attorney Robert Capron outlined plans for a hotel and convention center on the west side of Richardson Bay, proposed by Tom Nowell, and urged those present to write the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission urging denial of the plan.

Representing the Marin Conservation League, the two also asked concerned residents to urge the commission to allow the City of Mill Valley to dump Saucelito Canal dredging spoils at Alcatraz.

Burglars Loot Three Residents

Burglars forced their way into three Corte Madera homes over the weekend taking $301 in cash and $500 in other items, police said today.

John F. Specht reported yesterday that someone broke a bedroom screen and window, entered his home at 7 Hawthorne Lane, and took $100 in cash plus two typewriters, and a slide projector.

Marilyn Varani of 72 Goldenhind Passage told officers that someone stole $200 from an envelope in a bedroom night table.

Bangkok Hit By Election Terror

BANGKOK (AP) — Terrorists killed one election official today and wounded two others as the people of Thailand voted in a national election for the first time in a decade. The government party was expected to win control of the new partiament.

The interior ministry said one band of 12 terrorists ambushed a carload of election officials en route to a polling booth in the northeast province of Kalasin, killed a tally clerk and wounded a policeman. A spokesman said another band of 10 terrorists fired on a polling booth in the deep south province of Narathivas and wounded an official.

The voting turnout in Bangkok was light.

Counselor Hiring On Kentfield Agenda

Hiring of a counselor for the seventh and eighth grades at Adaline E. Kent School next year is scheduled to be discussed at today's 8 p.m. meeting of the Kentfield School District board at Wolfe Grade School.

Matching funds for the $18,667 annual salary would be sought, school officials said. The counselor would be the district's first.

In Fair Condition

Patty Liggatt, 18, of 917 San Anselmo Avenue, San Anselmo, was reported in fair condition today at Marin General Hospital with possible internal injuries suffered yesterday afternoon in a traffic accident in San Francisco.

Mars Flights Are Questioned

LONDON (AP) — British space expert Sir Bernard Lovell said today that if the Russians send unsterilized spacecraft to Mars serious contamination of the planet would be inevitable.

Lovell, director of England's Jordrell Bank Observatory writing in the London Times, predicted one or more probes to the planet later this month or early in March.

He said the Russians had made no concessions to the international scientific community's declaration that Mars should be a biological preserve and its suggested levels of sterilization for spacecraft.

"The entire subject of the sterilization of spacecraft is becoming absolutely vital," Lovell said.

He said the four-lane road was one of those "certain things that are going to happen and all we can do is make it as painless as possible."

He noted that the Williams, Cook and Mocine plan for Tiburon in 1990 called for a population of 30,000 on the peninsula.

"You can't keep giving out building permits and allowing commercial growth and keep Tiburon Boulevard a two-lane road."

Wornum noted that a rapid transit system may alleviate some of the traffic problems but warned that such a system is a "long way off."

In addition, he said, he "social conscience" of a community and the basic economic factors work against keeping the peninsula a low density, area for the rich.

Tourists lower taxes, he noted, but they, too, will add to the load on Tiburon Boulevard.

Wornum recommended a split level road with landscaping and a lineal park along the bay. Bicycle and hiking trails should be on the edge of the bay, he said, rather than on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way. However, until the road is widened, the right-of-way should be used for trails, he said.

He also suggested Tiburon Boulevard be used for primary traffic with local traffic diverted to side connecting roads. "Everyone will scream that they don't want a main road through their little cul-de-sac but it's either that ot an eight-lane Tiburon Boulevard.

He also warned the audience of more than 75 persons that they should not allow engineers to plan their roads.

Earlier in the afternoon Beverly Bastian, president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society, outlined the history of the conservation effort in Richardson Bay.

Mill Valley architect Clifford Hanssen and attorney Robert Capron outlined plans for a hotel and convention center on the west side of Richardson Bay, proposed by Tom Nowell, and urged those present to write the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission urging denial of the plan.

Representing the Marin Conservation League, the two also asked concerned residents to urge the commission to allow the City of Mill Valley to dump Saucelito Canal dredging spoils at Alcatraz.

Mars Flights Are Questioned

LONDON (AP) — British space expert Sir Bernard Lovell said today that if the Russians send unsterilized spacecraft to Mars serious contamination of the planet would be inevitable.

Lovell, director of England's Jordrell Bank Observatory writing in the London Times, predicted one or more probes to the planet later this month or early in March.

He said the Russians had made no concessions to the international scientific community's declaration that Mars should be a biological preserve and its suggested levels of sterilization for spacecraft.

"The entire subject of the sterilization of spacecraft is becoming absolutely vital," Lovell said.

Let's face it: this winter hasn't been so hot.

That's why your PG&E bill may leave you a little cold.

Your winter PG&E bills are bound to be bigger because they stand for more: More days and nights with the thermostat turned up. More lights (and burning longer). More hot meals. More TV watching and stereo. More of just about all the wintertime comforts of home. But remember, spring is just around the corner. So your bill will be on its way back down. That should make you feel warm all over.

Inmate At Quentin Falls To His Death

The victim was Ernest Ballin of Los Angeles, a three-time loser serving five to 15 years for possession of marijuana.

Prison officials said no foul play was suspected, and that he may have been stricken with an epileptic seizure just before the fall. There were no witnesses to his fall, and no notes were found in his cell.

Deputy County Coroner Richard W. Madigan said Ballin died of multiple injuries. He fell from a fifth tier to a concrete floor.

Ballin had been at the prison since June 1955, serving his third term since 1950.

In this age of half-pint economy cars, is there a place for a 3,000-pound, 5-passenger sedan that can deliver up to 30 miles per gallon?

Mercedes-Benz thinks so.

The amazing 220 Diesel. On trips, it actually gets up to 50 miles for the cost of a gallon of regular gas!

Many people still think they have only two choices when it comes to buying a new car.

Marvelous maverick

The motor car at right presents an ingenious third choice.

Mercedes-Benz sells 15 defiantly unconventional gasoline-powered models in the U.S.—plus this, easily the most unconventional of all.

It is the legendary Diesel.

This marvelous maverick is built for people who want an economy car, but who simply refuse to venture onto today's highways in a featherweight, cramped machine.

If you are willing to make a sizable initial outlay for the safety and comfort of a big, 3000-pound sedan, the Mercedes-Benz 220 Diesel will reward you with fuel costs that match the flimsiest little half-pint on the road.

What's more, the Diesel will eliminate many of your usual repair bills—and is likely to be serving you faithfully when most of today's sleek new "dreamboats" have been chopped up for scrap!

Cuts fuel bills in half

The Diesel works its incredible fuel economy in two ways.

First, of course, it uses lowly diesel fuel, sold at the thousands of service stations across the country where diesel trucks fill up. The price of this fuel varies from state to state. In almost all states it is lower than regular gasoline. In some states it costs only half as much.

Second, the Diesel sips its fuel at a miserly rate. In fact, the engine burns every drop so efficiently that exhaust is virtually smoke-free. A surprise to many.

If you've been resigned to getting 12, 15, 18 miles a gallon from standard sedans, brace yourself:

The Diesel easily delivers over twenty-five miles to the gallon—and, on trips, when you get full benefit of diesel fuel's price advantage over gasoline, you can average 30, 40, even 50 miles for the cost of a gallon of regular!

Many repair costs vanish

The engine of the Mercedes-Benz 220 Diesel is such a gem of simplicity that it merely dispenses with many parts that normally end up costing you money. It has no spark plugs. No points. No condensers. Not even a carburetor to repair or replace.

It goes and goes and goes

Best of all, this 4-cylinder diesel injection engine is designed to give you uncommonly reliable service—for years.

Not only are there relatively few parts to go amiss, but the parts that are present have been engineered to have characteristic Mercedes-Benz stamina.

There's a rugged overhead camshaft—and a five-bearing crankshaft. Twelve of the 16 piston rings are coated with expensive molybdenum, an exotic "space age" metal that won't melt below 4,712 degrees!

Mercedes-Benz does not warrant the Diesel to last for 10 or 20 years. Any car's life depends on how hard it is driven and how carefully it is maintained. But a lifetime measured in decades is no pipe dream, either.

Of the 700,000 Diesels it has built since 1936, Mercedes-Benz estimates that fully 80 percent are still humming along.

First, a Mercedes-Benz

The engine makes the Diesel an economy car. But its real value lies not so much in the things that make it different from every other Mercedes-Benz as in the things that make it the same.

Like every Mercedes-Benz, the Diesel is welded into being, not bolted. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if it will ever rattle.

When the welding stops, the body is dunked in primer, baked, spray-painted, hand-sanded, sprayed again, then hand-sprayed. Even the insides of the hubcaps are coated. Total paint and primer rust protection: over 44 pounds.

► All-independent suspension, the same type used on racing cars for maximum roadholding and minimum lurch, wallow and sway.

The pinnacle of safety

The Diesel's almost uncanny evasive ability is its best defense against blundering motorists. However, if the worst happens, the car is designed to shield you. Naturally it meets all the U.S. safety regulations. But Mercedes-Benz safety goes beyond the letter of these laws.

The entire passenger compartment is built as a sturdy "safety zone." Doors are designed to stay shut on impact. The front and rear of the car are engineered to crumple in a crash at a controlled rate, absorbing shock and reducing the threat of serious injury.

The sober verdict of Car and Driver magazine: Of all the world's motor cars, the current Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

A matter of pride

Like every Mercedes-Benz, the Diesel is conceived and assembled by craftsmen who take intense pride in producing a machine its owner can be proud of.

Slip inside and flex your back. This is no marshmallow seat. It supports you, mile after mile. It should: it was contoured with help from orthopedic physicians.

Check the rear shelf. Carpeted. Run your finger along the finish of the car. No "orange peel" texture. Nudge the door shut. Ka-chunk.

Many cars are designed to win admiration for their owners. Mercedes-Benz cars are designed to win admiration from their owners.

Quite a distinction.

HOW TO PLAY WINNING BRIDGE

"If you want to be a proper English gentleman," my mother used to tell me, "draw trumps at your very first opportunity." But my mother was not a very good bridge player, and I decided to disregard her advice when we came to live in the United States. DOWN TWO?

In today's hand, for example, my mother would have been down two. She would win the first trick with the ace of hearts, draw three rounds of trumps with an air of conscious virtue, and then would quietly lose two hearts, a club and two diamonds. "Bad luck," she would sigh, and she would go on to the next hand with undiminished courage.

If you want to play such hands more successfully, I suggest that you use more judgment than courage. Count your losers before embarking on the play of the hand, and note that you are threatened with the loss of two hearts. You can avoid losing those tricks if you ruff your low hearts in the dummy. Obviously, you cannot do that after you have drawn dummy's trumps. You must do the ruffing first and then draw the trumps.

PROPER PLAN

The proper plan for the hand is to win the first trick with the ace of hearts, ruff a heart with dummy's six of spades (just in case of some weird break in hearts), return dummy's deuce of spades to your own ace, and then ruff the other low heart with dummy's nine of spades.

You return to your hand with the ace of diamonds, and only now can you afford to draw the rest of the missing trumps. You lead out the kind and queen of trumps, and can then cheerfully give up one club and two diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

You hold:
♠— J 10 7
♥— Q J 10 7 5
♦— 10 6 4
♣— 8 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass. You have four points in high cards and one point for the doubleton, not quite enough for a response. If partner opened with one heart you would raise to two hearts since you could then count something extra for the especially strong support for partner's suit.

Homestead Valley Man Found Dead

The body of Donald Edwin Scarf, 58, of 246 Morning Sun Avenue, Homestead Valley, was found in the patio of his home yesterday. Death was atributed to a gunshot wound in the head which the Marin County Coroner's Office said was self-inflicted.

Sheriff's deputies reported a 20-gauge shotgun was found by the body. No note was found.

Scarf's body was found at 4:15 p.m. by a neighbor, Mrs. Kathleen St. Clair, who said she had not seen Scarf since Wednesday and became worried when newspapers and mail began piling up.

Scarf, who was a certified public accountant in San Francisco, is survived by a sister living in the East Bay, but her identity is not yet known, Coroner's investigator Keith C. Craig said.

Funeral is pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

Airport Service To Be Studied

An application to provide limousine service between Novato and San Francisco International Airport will be considered by the Novato City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Novato Community House.

Ted Cohen, doing business as Ted's Airport Limousine and Taxi Service of P.O. Box 401, Tiburon, applied for the license to operate the service from Novato.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown compared his proposed rates with taxi rates. Brown reported that the differnece was that the limousine service would be allowed to charge per person and not per trip.

Other items to come before the council include the quarterly report from the chamber of commerce, revision of the sign section of the zoning ordinance, a report from the traffic safety committee and appointments to the downtown committee and ambulance service study committee.

Burglars Take Expensive Items

Two burglaries were committed in Sausalito last weekend, police reported today.

Burglars entered the home of Raymond R. Chmelika, 107-A South Street, Thursday night or early Friday and took two color television sets, a radio amplifier, a phonograph turntable and a tape recorder deck valued at a total of $965.

Saturday night, burglars entered the home of Irving Springer, 81 Crecienta Drive, and took a 35mm camera, radio and wristwatch valued at a total of $275.

ART REVIEW

Museum Is Featuring Fellowship Artists

By LAURA DEVENDORF

SAN FRANCISCO — Many recognized artists who have previously not attempted lithography have found it possible through Ford Foundation fellowships from the Tamarind Lithography Workshop and the result is a new interest in the media.

The San Francisco Museum of Art is currently featuring the Tamarind Suites, 12 series of lithographs by 10 artists, plus a one-man show of hand-colored prints executed by Frank Lobdell on a 1966 Tamarind grant.

RELATED SERIES

The suites are each artist's effort to produce a series of related prints which function as a group and yet are satisfying, seen separately. Most of the artists here have defined this in quite dissimilar ways, from developing literary themes, to illustrating bugs, to inventing a sort of mind-expanding soul-math.

Josef Albers, in his series "Midnight and Noon," extends a single composition through telescoping squares by shifting the intensity of blacks on black or yellows on yellow.

James Strombotne's images reach out brutally as he catches people in the act of living, while Jesse Reichek evolves three suites of biological silhouettes, clean, stark and identical except for color.

STRANGEST IDEAS

The strangest ideas are expressed in James Boynton's "Packaged Horizon, or a Guided Tour to Oblivion," where an underground root system is topped by strange surreal "things," lips or striped and spikey worms which are often screwed on to the horizon. But the most stunning format is Garo Antresian's "The Silver Suite," in which cool, undulating and striped geometric forms are printed in crisp hard-edge tones on silver foil paper.

Other artists included in the suites shown through March 9 are Jose Luis Cuevas, Rudy Pozzatti, Richard Hunt, Alfred Jensen and Walasse Ting.

LOBELL SHOWING

Until Sunday the museum will also show 28 lithographs and a major painting by San Francisco artist Frank Lobdell. There are an extended suite exploring symbols. Pods, boomerangs, and spikey seed shapes repeat through a series of variations which shift in emphasis, intensity and color.

The shapes read like tortured, jumbled figure forms whirling in space. They are not really recognizable yet they have a great subjective force. And the distrubing quality is only magnified in Lobdell's huge painting, "Summer, 1967: In Memory of James Budd Dixon," which looms as the brooding hub of the lithographs.

Fire Chief Hopefuls Due Detail Study

The Marinwood Community Services District board will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the community center to review applications for fire chief, to replace Albert F. Anderson who resigned last October.

The board will also discuss possible areas of cooperation with adjacent governmental units.

DRAMA REVIEW

Has 'Alice' Lost Out To Television?

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — After listening to a lot of grownup laughter and precious little from children in the American Conservatory Theater production of "Alice In Wonderland," one is forced to conclude that: (a) Lewis Carroll's story is funnier to grownups than to children; or (b) the children have been "mediumized" by the hours they spend before the TV set?

Since I have always felt that Carroll is primarily for adults, I must subscribe to a little of both theories. ACT's "Alice," under the direction of Barry McGregor, has lots of pace, good performers and a definite feeling for Carroll's nonsense. The company begins and ends with a reminder to its audience that it must ". . . never turn up your nose at nonsense . . ." and that ". . . Wonderland is all around . . ."

But somehow, this "Alice" did not seem to be creating much of a wonderland for the rather full house of little people I observed at a preview at Marines Theater. They enjoyed — yes — but the tense expectancy of a truly gripped theater was lacking .And the more I think about it, the more I'm convinced that Carroll may possibly be as dead as his own dodo, insofar as the turned-on generation's children — which are the children's theater will reach from now on — if it reaches them at all.

The question may be this: Can we woo them back to the "delightfully silly nostalgia of Carroll from an experience based upon amplified music, otherworldly lighting effects, and subliminally speeded-up films? This is the entertainment of today's young people, now picked up by hucksters to the extent that most TV commericals look like underground films.

And the second question, in fantasy, undoubtedly becomes the problem of competing on stage with the ability of film to create complete illusion. When only movie houses offered this superior ability it wasn't so bad. Now that our youth reach kindergarten with as much as 4,000 hours of TV behind them, the tube's influence becomes paramount.

In fact, if one goes along with Marshall McLuhan "The TV child finds it difficult if not impossible to adjust to the fragmented, visual goals of our education after having had all his senses involved by the electric media . . ." this would apply to theater.

ACT'S first children's theater attempt, "Johnny Moonbeam," was basically a western and as such may have reached the children more easily — at least this was my feeling as part of the audience.

In "Alice" I felt that of the various odd animals, only Jerry Franken's White Rabbit and Phyllis Rice's Chesire Cat caught us up and made us believe the fantasy. The rest of them never were more than actors playing animals, a flaw which children catch instantly. The "people" — Miss Rice's roaring Queen, Jane Percival's tart Duchess and Eileen Ramsey's precise Alice —came off better.

However, I do not think the acting ability of the remaining cast is at fault, rather the attempt to engender belief with too little costuming, scenery and with far too bright lighting.

All this brings us to the question attending satire today — how can a play be more absurd than the things which are happening as front page news? Perhaps satire and absurdity are things of the past.

"Alice" plays at the Marines Saturdays at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Sonoma State Sets Auditions For Carroll Play

Auditions for the Sonoma State College production of Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" will be held at 7 p.m. today, Wednesday and Thursday in Ives Hall.

Directed by Lynn Clark, drama instructor, the play will be done with an interracial cast. The auditions will be open to nonstudents and will not be based on the usual method of a person reading for two or three specific roles.

Mrs. Clark said there will be group Improvisational exercises in which she will look for flexibility of style rather than prior knowledge of a character.

She said the play technically will be made up of mixed media using film, amplified sound, illusionary projected sets, puppets and actors who appear to be puppets.

A professional comedienne, Mrs. Clark was managing director of the San Francisco Repertory Company before joining the Sonoma State staff. She wrote three plays before her curernt adaption of "Alice."

Columnist's Wife To Talk At College

The wife of syndicated columnist Stanton Delaplane will lecture on "A Wife's Eye View of a World Traveller" at 8:15 p.m. Friday in the Fine Arts Building at College of Marin.

Also on the program, part of the college concert-lecture series, will be Norm Wakefield, presenting a film, "Palm Springs to Lake Louise — A Tourist's Delight."

Jet Carrying 119 Hijacked To Havana

MIAMI (UPI)—A passenger pulled a gun on a stewardess today and skyjacked an Eastern Airlines jet to Cuba as it flew from San Juan, P.R., to Miami with 119 persons aboard.

It was the year's 14th successful hijacking to Cuba and the seventh of an Eastern Airlines plane. There also were two unsuccessful attempts.

The DC8 "stretchjet", which landed at Havana's Jose Marti Airport at 11 a.m. (EST), carried 111 passengers and a crew of eight. The plane, Eastern's Flight 950, had been scheduled to land in Miami at 10:40 a. m.

The jet took off from San Juan at 8:30 a. m. and at 9:34 a.m., as it winged over South Caicos Island in the southeastern Bahamas, pilot William C. Latimer radioed to Miami: "I have a man in back with a gun on the stewardess."

It was the first hijacking since Feb. 5 when a Colombian airliner carrying 47 persons was diverted from Cuba while flying from Barranquilla to Medellin, Colombia.

In the past, Cuban officials have allowed the crews of hijacked planes to return soon after landing in Havana.

But the passengers of hijacked planes—except the sick or very young—are normally forced to take a bus to nearby Varadero and ride shuttle planes back to Miami.

Cuban officials claim it is unsafe for a big commercial jet to take off fully loaded from Havana's short runways.

Jet Carrying 119 Hijacked To Havana

MIAMI (UPI)—A passenger pulled a gun on a stewardess today and skyjacked an Eastern Airlines jet to Cuba as it flew from San Juan, P.R., to Miami with 119 persons aboard.

It was the year's 14th successful hijacking to Cuba and the seventh of an Eastern Airlines plane. There also were two unsuccessful attempts.

The DC8 "stretchjet", which landed at Havana's Jose Marti Airport at 11 a.m. (EST), carried 111 passengers and a crew of eight. The plane, Eastern's Flight 950, had been scheduled to land in Miami at 10:40 a. m.

The jet took off from San Juan at 8:30 a. m. and at 9:34 a.m., as it winged over South Caicos Island in the southeastern Bahamas, pilot William C. Latimer radioed to Miami: "I have a man in back with a gun on the stewardess."

It was the first hijacking since Feb. 5 when a Colombian airliner carrying 47 persons was diverted from Cuba while flying from Barranquilla to Medellin, Colombia.

In the past, Cuban officials have allowed the crews of hijacked planes to return soon after landing in Havana.

But the passengers of hijacked planes—except the sick or very young—are normally forced to take a bus to nearby Varadero and ride shuttle planes back to Miami.

Cuban officials claim it is unsafe for a big commercial jet to take off fully loaded from Havana's short runways.

NO KITCHENS

Soviet Women Dislike Cooking

By ANTHONY C. COLLINGS

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet housewives, who often complain about the small size of their kitchens, are being offered as a model of the future an apartment with no kitchen at all.

An experimental project of two modernistic 16-story buildings, now nearing completion here, has 812 apartments but no facilities for the housewife to prepare complete meals.

An architectural oversight? Not at all.

THE CONTROVERSIAL project, called "House of New Life," deliberately excludes kitchens because its planners assume that the Soviet woman of the future will not want to cook.

Instead of eating in their apratments, the approximately 60 persons living on each of the 30 residential floors will take their meals in a communal dining room.

The effect will be something like that of a huge boarding house. The two buildings are designed to house some 2,000 persons.

Planners of the project say the kitchenless apartments will free Soviet women from the dreary task of spending hours every day waiting in lines in this country's shortage-plagued food stores.

THEY BACK up their argument with statistics, based on two-year scientific study begun in 1963 especially for this project. An 80-man group of experts found that in the new apartment houses the average Moscow housewife would spend an average of only 1.2 hours on activities connected with eating, less than half of the current average of 2.75 hours.

Those who occasionally want to eat in their flats can order catered food from the same kitchen supplying the communal dining room. Or they can prepares simple snacks themselves. In one corner of each apartment there will be a small refrigerator and an even smaller two-burner electric stove, plus a few shelves.

Furniture used only when company comes, such as extra chairs, will be kept in a storeroom for communal use and borrowed by each resident when needed.

Other items that will be borrowed from a public supply room include good silverware and china, and appliances such as vacuum cleaners.

"EVERYTHING YOU don't need every hour has been removed from the apartment," the Literary Gazette article said.

The apartments come already furnished. "In theory," construction supervisor Kornelayev said, "each resident will be able to choose from a selection of furniture styles before he moves in. But I don't know if this ideal will be achieved."

In another innovation, the plan calls for each apartment to have its own telephone — an item now missing from the average Soviet home. Unlike older Soviet buildings, these will have toilets and bathtubs in each apartment rather than having several families share them.

In an open space between the two apartment buildings will be an air-conditioned community center including a gymnasium, indoor pool, sauna baths, day care center for children, doctor's office, a widescreen movie theater, library, photo lab for amateurs, barbershop, dry cleaners and a glassed-in winter garden.

EACH FLOOR of the apartment buildings will have its own self-service automatic laundry rooms and places for ironing — again on a communal ironing board.

The communal concept is central to the plan, and carries with it Communist political overtones.

Literary Gazette noted the arguments of some workers who have grown used to collectivized Soviet farm and industrial life but retain a natural desire for individual privacy in their home life.

"The force of inertia is such," the paper complained, "that we don't even ask ourselves: might it not be that being a collectivist in daily (home) life is also good?"

THE PAPER said that, in contrast to previous dwellings, the New Life apartments would create "a different psychological atmosphere . . . and everyone will be interested in every other resident's cleanliness — including the moral kind."

In a separate article in the paper, Soviet academician S. G. Strumilin praised the project for creating a collectivist residential situation making it easy for communist propagandists to reach their targets.

In these new buildings, he said, "there are created the best possible conditions for activization of cultural and ideological-educational work among the workers at their place of residence, and the successful establishment of the norms and rules of Communist society in daily life."

Enthusiastically praising the New Life apartments, Soviet journalist Yuri Polukhinn wrote: "You will have no shops, no waiting in line, no net (shopping) bags. You will avoid getting irritated over petty things . . . people will smile more in the House of New Life."

POLUKHIN'S ARTICLE IN Literary Gazette, which often discusses non-literary questions, said the project could well be "a prototype for our future."

After reading his article, one Russian said: "Oh, it would be great. No waiting in line in food stores. And you can 'eat out' every day, inside your own building, without waiting in line at the reataurants."

But another Russian, reflecting the controversy around the project, complained: "I don't like it. No kitchen?"

Out at the snow-covered construction site, in a fast-growing new district called Noviye Cheryomysky (New Cherry Blossoms), construction supervisor Anatoly Kornelayev said he was convinced the project will be popular.

"Life here will be almost like in a hotel," he said with a big smile.

KORNELAYEV ADDED that each apartment will consist of only one room. Accordion-folding, screen-like walls will be used as room dividers, he said.

Apartments will vary in size from 124.2 square feet for one person to live in, to 432 square feet for up to four persons. Families of more than four will live in two adjacent apartments, he said.

Except for the four-person apartments, Kornelayev added, the rooms will have little closet

A Need Inspires Community Interest

One of a series of articles on interviews with wives of Marin County mayors.

By GRACE HENDERSON

"Everyone wants to keep our small-town atmosphere in Fairfax," said the wife of Mayor Robert R. Souza in an interview at the family home on Claus Circle one day. "We are happy Fairfax hasn't changed much," she added.

Louise Souza showed an outward composure that must be a result of her three-year training as a Navy WAVE. It was apparent no family could be this calm with four children, a small city of 7,375 population, scouts, church, an extra child or two most of the time and a paper boy to watch over.

A busy quartet of Souzas begins with twins Marian and Edward who are 12, followed by Paul, 9, and Donald, 6. Marian is studying creative music, and is a Cadette Scout; Edward carries the Independent-Journal and is working toward an Eagle Scout rating; Paul is a Cub Scout; and Donald carries the name of his maternal grandfather. The family attends St. Rita's Catholic Church and the children are enrolled at St. Rita's Parochial School. They come home for lunch, in three different shifts.

As if four children weren't enough to keep the home buzzing, Louise took on a "fun time" operation conducting a home nursery school a few years ago. This left her with one child to care for during the day the past three years, a child who calls her "Mom." Michael Walker was part of the troupe Mrs. Souza was forced to abandon for lack of time but he continues to make her home his headquarters when not in nursery school.

"Fairfax needs some high class recreation facilities, like a bowling alley with a good restaurant, but city administrators are our biggest problem," said the woman who describes herself as having a tendency to be a vice-mayor instead of a wife at times. The city administrator resigned in July and the town has been without one since, she said.

"I get lots of telephone calls, mostly pro to our position in city matters," Louise explained in answer to a question. Very few with differing philosophies tell her their views, she commented.

The Souzas were what might be described as a typical couple starting their marriage in an apartment in 1955, moving to her folks' home, then to the house in Farifax which was nothing but bare walls at the time. "We had a couple of chairs and some mattresses," Louise said telling of living with the then four-month-old twins.

This all followed a near-catastrophy of a wedding day. The Marin Catholic High School Chapel in Greenbrae was too small and St. Anselm's was undergoing a major remodeling job unknown to the pair when they selected the setting for their nuptials. When Louise and Robert arrived for their wedding rehearsal, they found to their dismay the ladders were up for painting, canvasses strewn about, kneeling benches disconnected and sawdust everywhere. It was after midnight when the bridegroom-to-be and his friends finished cleaning and the church was presentable.

The first taste of city government came to the couple through problems connected with the miniature park in the center of Claus Circle.

First it had been just a weed patch. Then periodically members of the 13 houses on the circle would get the city council to appropriate $500 towards its improvement which, each year, would go back into the general fund for lack of action. With the threat of the circle to be completely blacktopped, the residents again took their troubles to the council.

This time $800 was earmarked for landscaping, a firm became interested and action began. Grass and ivy were planted and households were deemed responsible for the care and watering of the greenery that was now theirs. More recently, however, the Park and Recreation Department determined the upkeep to be their responsibility and the little plot, that figures in the political life of the Souzas, became a small park.

When asked if she would approve of her husband advancing in the political world, Mrs. Souza contemplated it would be entirely up to him. The job takes a father away from his children at times, like having to miss a scout award night for a council meeting but as the mayor's wife put it "Someone has to serve the city."

MRS. ROBERT SOUZA welcomes home the family following their day at St. Rita's Parochial School in Fairfax. "Helping" her is Michael Walker whom she cares for part-time. The youngsters, left to right, are Marian, Donald, Paul and Edward. They keep their mother too busy to read much now but she has plans for the future when duties of being the wife of Fairfax's mayor and the mother of four children eases a bit. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

The children have attended city council meetings and were present when their father was installed as mayor last spring.

Mrs. Souza comes from a family of state employees and her father was president of the California state retirement system. Her sister is Mary Anne Gallagher who lives with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gallagher of Kentfield. Mr. Souza is from a family of 13 children and his father was with Smith news for many years.

For now, Louise Souza is dedicated to her family and their activities; her town and its welfare; her church and its duties; and the future of all. She likes to read but there isn't much time to explore the bookshelves in each room of the house. "We're a bookish family," she explained. She never wants to work away from her home on a full-time basis but does spend considerable time bicycling both for groceries and running errands and with her husband and children (six bicycles are housed in the yard).

Judging from action surrounding Mrs. Robert Souza, there is plenty to do at home and there will be action in the future as she follows through from her business degree to earn a CPA license. She is a graduate of Dominican College and carried out two years of graduate study at Stanford University. She took a maternity leave from her duties as statistician with the California Public Utilities Commission but never returned following the birth of the twins.

EACH FLOOR of the apartment buildings will have its own self-service automatic laundry rooms and places for ironing — again on a communal ironing board.

The communal concept is central to the plan, and carries with it Communist political overtones.

Literary Gazette noted the arguments of some workers who have grown used to collectivized Soviet farm and industrial life but retain a natural desire for individual privacy in their home life.

"The force of inertia is such," the paper complained, "that we don't even ask ourselves: might it not be that being a collectivist in daily (home) life is also good?"

THE PAPER said that, in contrast to previous dwellings, the New Life apartments would create "a different psychological atmosphere . . . and everyone will be interested in every other resident's cleanliness — including the moral kind."

In a separate article in the paper, Soviet academician S. G. Strumilin praised the project for creating a collectivist residential situation making it easy for communist propagandists to reach their targets.

In these new buildings, he said, "there are created the best possible conditions for activization of cultural and ideological-educational work among the workers at their place of residence, and the successful establishment of the norms and rules of Communist society in daily life."

Enthusiastically praising the New Life apartments, Soviet journalist Yuri Polukhinn wrote: "You will have no shops, no waiting in line, no net (shopping) bags. You will avoid getting irritated over petty things . . . people will smile more in the House of New Life."

POLUKHIN'S ARTICLE IN Literary Gazette, which often discusses non-literary questions, said the project could well be "a prototype for our future."

After reading his article, one Russian said: "Oh, it would be great. No waiting in line in food stores. And you can 'eat out' every day, inside your own building, without waiting in line at the reataurants."

But another Russian, reflecting the controversy around the project, complained: "I don't like it. No kitchen?"

Out at the snow-covered construction site, in a fast-growing new district called Noviye Cheryomysky (New Cherry Blossoms), construction supervisor Anatoly Kornelayev said he was convinced the project will be popular.

"Life here will be almost like in a hotel," he said with a big smile.

KORNELAYEV ADDED that each apartment will consist of only one room. Accordion-folding, screen-like walls will be used as room dividers, he said.

Apartments will vary in size from 124.2 square feet for one person to live in, to 432 square feet for up to four persons. Families of more than four will live in two adjacent apartments, he said.

Except for the four-person apartments, Kornelayev added, the rooms will have little closet

A Need Inspires Community Interest

One of a series of articles on interviews with wives of Marin County mayors.

By GRACE HENDERSON

"Everyone wants to keep our small-town atmosphere in Fairfax," said the wife of Mayor Robert R. Souza in an interview at the family home on Claus Circle one day. "We are happy Fairfax hasn't changed much," she added.

Louise Souza showed an outward composure that must be a result of her three-year training as a Navy WAVE. It was apparent no family could be this calm with four children, a small city of 7,375 population, scouts, church, an extra child or two most of the time and a paper boy to watch over.

A busy quartet of Souzas begins with twins Marian and Edward who are 12, followed by Paul, 9, and Donald, 6. Marian is studying creative music, and is a Cadette Scout; Edward carries the Independent-Journal and is working toward an Eagle Scout rating; Paul is a Cub Scout; and Donald carries the name of his maternal grandfather. The family attends St. Rita's Catholic Church and the children are enrolled at St. Rita's Parochial School. They come home for lunch, in three different shifts.

As if four children weren't enough to keep the home buzzing, Louise took on a "fun time" operation conducting a home nursery school a few years ago. This left her with one child to care for during the day the past three years, a child who calls her "Mom." Michael Walker was part of the troupe Mrs. Souza was forced to abandon for lack of time but he continues to make her home his headquarters when not in nursery school.

"Fairfax needs some high class recreation facilities, like a bowling alley with a good restaurant, but city administrators are our biggest problem," said the woman who describes herself as having a tendency to be a vice-mayor instead of a wife at times. The city administrator resigned in July and the town has been without one since, she said.

"I get lots of telephone calls, mostly pro to our position in city matters," Louise explained in answer to a question. Very few with differing philosophies tell her their views, she commented.

The Souzas were what might be described as a typical couple starting their marriage in an apartment in 1955, moving to her folks' home, then to the house in Farifax which was nothing but bare walls at the time. "We had a couple of chairs and some mattresses," Louise said telling of living with the then four-month-old twins.

This all followed a near-catastrophy of a wedding day. The Marin Catholic High School Chapel in Greenbrae was too small and St. Anselm's was undergoing a major remodeling job unknown to the pair when they selected the setting for their nuptials. When Louise and Robert arrived for their wedding rehearsal, they found to their dismay the ladders were up for painting, canvasses strewn about, kneeling benches disconnected and sawdust everywhere. It was after midnight when the bridegroom-to-be and his friends finished cleaning and the church was presentable.

The first taste of city government came to the couple through problems connected with the miniature park in the center of Claus Circle.

First it had been just a weed patch. Then periodically members of the 13 houses on the circle would get the city council to appropriate $500 towards its improvement which, each year, would go back into the general fund for lack of action. With the threat of the circle to be completely blacktopped, the residents again took their troubles to the council.

This time $800 was earmarked for landscaping, a firm became interested and action began. Grass and ivy were planted and households were deemed responsible for the care and watering of the greenery that was now theirs. More recently, however, the Park and Recreation Department determined the upkeep to be their responsibility and the little plot, that figures in the political life of the Souzas, became a small park.

When asked if she would approve of her husband advancing in the political world, Mrs. Souza contemplated it would be entirely up to him. The job takes a father away from his children at times, like having to miss a scout award night for a council meeting but as the mayor's wife put it "Someone has to serve the city."

MRS. ROBERT SOUZA welcomes home the family following their day at St. Rita's Parochial School in Fairfax. "Helping" her is Michael Walker whom she cares for part-time. The youngsters, left to right, are Marian, Donald, Paul and Edward. They keep their mother too busy to read much now but she has plans for the future when duties of being the wife of Fairfax's mayor and the mother of four children eases a bit. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

The children have attended city council meetings and were present when their father was installed as mayor last spring.

Mrs. Souza comes from a family of state employees and her father was president of the California state retirement system. Her sister is Mary Anne Gallagher who lives with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gallagher of Kentfield. Mr. Souza is from a family of 13 children and his father was with Smith news for many years.

For now, Louise Souza is dedicated to her family and their activities; her town and its welfare; her church and its duties; and the future of all. She likes to read but there isn't much time to explore the bookshelves in each room of the house. "We're a bookish family," she explained. She never wants to work away from her home on a full-time basis but does spend considerable time bicycling both for groceries and running errands and with her husband and children (six bicycles are housed in the yard).

Judging from action surrounding Mrs. Robert Souza, there is plenty to do at home and there will be action in the future as she follows through from her business degree to earn a CPA license. She is a graduate of Dominican College and carried out two years of graduate study at Stanford University. She took a maternity leave from her duties as statistician with the California Public Utilities Commission but never returned following the birth of the twins.

Criticizing Wife Begins Series Of Marital Troubles To Husband

DEAR HELEN:

Wimmin!

My wife was asked to give a speech to the P-TA. She is pretty good at talking, and has spoken at various clubs, but she complained to me that nobody will give her objective criticism. The tendency is, when people get a free talk, to praise the giver, she says. So she asked me to be her critic at the P-TA meeting. "Tell it like it is," she said, "And if I goof, say so."

How can one man be so dumb? I did just what she asked; wrote down all the things she did wrong, what needed improvement, how many "uh's" she had per minute. Oh, I did a masterful job—and now she is playing the "unappreciated" wife to the hilt. In other words, she is being kind and sweet and twisting the knife every chance she gets. I may never get out of the dog house.

Yesterday I overheard her (almost) turn down an invitation to speak because "My husband thinks I'm dull." No matter how I tell her I only did what she asked, I'm cruel and probably jealous to boot. Now, if I say she is a good speaker, she says I'm lying, and if I say nothing, I'm thinking bad thoughts. What can I say? — HONEST HUSBAND

DEAR H.H.:

Tell your thin-skinned missus that professionals thrive and grow on helpful criticism, while amateurs expect only praise: You mistook her for a professional — sorry! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

That graffiti room was a tremendous idea, and shouldn't be brushed off easily, just because the man of the house can't think while staring at the written walls of his study. You wouldn't throw away a guest book, so why paint out "guest walls?"

My suggestion is to put up traverse rods near the ceiling, and hang drapes all around the room. Then "Sir" can draw the draperies when he is working, but when there's a party, the walls will be there to sign on. A.D.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm not a theologist, but even one of those might not be able to figure this out. It is written that Adam and Eve were the first and only persons on earth, and they had sons, no daughters. So how did the world get populated? Must have been a mighty busy snake for a while there. — TIM

DEAR TIM:

I won't answer, on grounds that anything I say, Bible students will use against me. Will a theologist please step forward? — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Miss Durham Is A Bride

Linda A. Durham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Durham of Novato, was united in marriage to Richard F. Cole at the First Baptist Church in San Rafael on Friday.

Mrs. Curtis Updegraff of San Rafael served as matron of honor, and Linda's sister, Judie Durham was the bridesmaid.

The bridegroom chose Robert Love of San Rafael as best man and ushers were James Carl Blankenship Jr. of Novato and James Carl Blankenship Sr. of San Rafael, as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Cole of Sonoma are the bridegroom's parents, and Mrs. George Cole of San Rafael is his grandmother. Richard was graduated from San Rafael High School, attended College of Marin and is employed at the San Rafael Post Office.

RHEA DAVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis of Point Reyes Station have announced the engagement of their daughter Rhea Irene Davis to Ted James McIsaac of Olema.

Rhea is the sister of Mrs. Chuck Purtle, Glenn and Valerie Davis and the granddaughter of Mrs. Henry Davis and Mrs. Emilia Lucchesi, both of Point Reyes Station.

Ted is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McIsaac of Olema. He is the brother of Doug, Don, David and Allen McIsaac and the grandson of Mrs. Nell McIsaac of Olema.

Who Is Keeping Girls Out?

The executive board of the Boy Scouts of America announced last year that as of Jan. 1 they would "be prepared" to admit teen-age girls to the Explorer program for boys.

So far in Marin there have been no girls in the program. It is not due to a lack of interest, according to Brad Clifford, director of public relations for the Marin Boy Scout Council, but rather a tangle of red tape.

The Boy Scout by-laws allow only women over the age of 21 to join as leaders or sponsors. In order to participate in scouting activities girls must be insured, so to get around this the Boy Scouts have allowed girls to join qualified girls' organizations such as the Girl Scouts or Camp Fire Girls and be affiliated with the Explorer program.

Not so simple — since Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls are short on teen-age members and do not want to give up the few that show an interest in scouting, according to the Boy Scouts.

The Girl Scouts, who claim many of their programs have been coeducational for years, have a different story.

"The Boy Scouts are not about to become a non-boy organization," says Jean Reagh, public relations director for the San Francisco Bay Council of Girl Scouts. "Instructions were given to senior troop advisors that the plan would go into effect Jan. 1 on a trial basis. Any girl with the approval of her parents and her advisor may participate in the Explorer activities, in fact we encourage girls to have interests beyond the troop."

The question is: why aren't there any girls in the Explorer program?

According to the Girl Scouts, the program has not been in effect long enough to judge its success or failure.

"Girls can't join on their own; they have to go through their leaders," say the Girl Scouts.

Will the boys and girls ever get together?

The tendency is, when people get a free talk, to praise the giver, she says. So she asked me to be her critic at the P-TA meeting. "Tell it like it is," she said, "And if I goof, say so."

How can one man be so dumb? I did just what she asked; wrote down all the things she did wrong, what needed improvement, how many "uh's" she had per minute. Oh, I did a masterful job—and now she is playing the "unappreciated" wife to the hilt. In other words, she is being kind and sweet and twisting the knife every chance she gets. I may never get out of the dog house.

Yesterday I overheard her (almost) turn down an invitation to speak because "My husband thinks I'm dull." No matter how I tell her I only did what she asked, I'm cruel and probably jealous to boot. Now, if I say she is a good speaker, she says I'm lying, and if I say nothing, I'm thinking bad thoughts. What can I say? — HONEST HUSBAND

DEAR H.H.:

Tell your thin-skinned missus that professionals thrive and grow on helpful criticism, while amateurs expect only praise: You mistook her for a professional — sorry! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

That graffiti room was a tremendous idea, and shouldn't be brushed off easily, just because the man of the house can't think while staring at the written walls of his study. You wouldn't throw away a guest book, so why paint out "guest walls?"

My suggestion is to put up traverse rods near the ceiling, and hang drapes all around the room. Then "Sir" can draw the draperies when he is working, but when there's a party, the walls will be there to sign on. A.D.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm not a theologist, but even one of those might not be able to figure this out. It is written that Adam and Eve were the first and only persons on earth, and they had sons, no daughters. So how did the world get populated? Must have been a mighty busy snake for a while there. — TIM

DEAR TIM:

I won't answer, on grounds that anything I say, Bible students will use against me. Will a theologist please step forward? — H.

This column is dedicated to family living, so if you're having kid trouble or just plain trouble, let Helen help you. Address Helen Bottel in care of the Independent-Journal.

Miss Durham Is A Bride

Linda A. Durham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Durham of Novato, was united in marriage to Richard F. Cole at the First Baptist Church in San Rafael on Friday.

Mrs. Curtis Updegraff of San Rafael served as matron of honor, and Linda's sister, Judie Durham was the bridesmaid.

The bridegroom chose Robert Love of San Rafael as best man and ushers were James Carl Blankenship Jr. of Novato and James Carl Blankenship Sr. of San Rafael, as ushers.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Cole of Sonoma are the bridegroom's parents, and Mrs. George Cole of San Rafael is his grandmother. Richard was graduated from San Rafael High School, attended College of Marin and is employed at the San Rafael Post Office.

RHEA DAVIS

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Davis of Point Reyes Station have announced the engagement of their daughter Rhea Irene Davis to Ted James McIsaac of Olema.

Rhea is the sister of Mrs. Chuck Purtle, Glenn and Valerie Davis and the granddaughter of Mrs. Henry Davis and Mrs. Emilia Lucchesi, both of Point Reyes Station.

Ted is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald McIsaac of Olema. He is the brother of Doug, Don, David and Allen McIsaac and the grandson of Mrs. Nell McIsaac of Olema.

Who Is Keeping Girls Out?

The executive board of the Boy Scouts of America announced last year that as of Jan. 1 they would "be prepared" to admit teen-age girls to the Explorer program for boys.

So far in Marin there have been no girls in the program. It is not due to a lack of interest, according to Brad Clifford, director of public relations for the Marin Boy Scout Council, but rather a tangle of red tape.

The Boy Scout by-laws allow only women over the age of 21 to join as leaders or sponsors. In order to participate in scouting activities girls must be insured, so to get around this the Boy Scouts have allowed girls to join qualified girls' organizations such as the Girl Scouts or Camp Fire Girls and be affiliated with the Explorer program.

Not so simple — since Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls are short on teen-age members and do not want to give up the few that show an interest in scouting, according to the Boy Scouts.

The Girl Scouts, who claim many of their programs have been coeducational for years, have a different story.

"The Boy Scouts are not about to become a non-boy organization," says Jean Reagh, public relations director for the San Francisco Bay Council of Girl Scouts. "Instructions were given to senior troop advisors that the plan would go into effect Jan. 1 on a trial basis. Any girl with the approval of her parents and her advisor may participate in the Explorer activities, in fact we encourage girls to have interests beyond the troop."

The question is: why aren't there any girls in the Explorer program?

According to the Girl Scouts, the program has not been in effect long enough to judge its success or failure.

"We just haven't been able to recruit any girls," say the Boy Scouts.

"Girls can't join on their own; they have to go through their leaders," say the Girl Scouts.

Will the boys and girls ever get together?

Congress In Recess For One Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress, its early weeks marked by general inactivity, is off on its first lengthy recess and there is little expectation the pace will quicken when the lawmakers return Feb. 17.

Although leaders expect President Nixon to make some budget recommendations and a few other legislative proposals in the next few weeks, Congress isn't expected to really get rolling until after the Easter recess in April.

The slow start is normal for a new Congress, particularly when there has been a change in presidential administrations.

Only two major laws have been enacted since Congress convened on Jan. 3. Most of the intervening time was spent on such organization details as selecting committees and getting them operational.

The first law hiked the salary of President Nixon, from $100,000 to $200,000 a year. The second provided $36 million in emergency financing for unemployment compensation payments to veterans and former government employees.

The pay boost for members of Congress, raising them from $30,000 to $42,500 a year, required no affirmative action. It was recommended by former President Lyndon B. Johnson and endorsed by President Nixon and included even bigger raises for some top government executives and judges.

The law under which Johnson recommended the raises makes them effective within 30 days unless either the Senate or the House objected.

The Senate defeated a vote by vote of 47 to 34. The House didn't even consider a veto resolution.

The increases become effective Feb. 14.

Peace Corps Tests

Peace Corps placement tests will be given at 1:30 p.m. Saturday at the post office branch in the Albert Arcade, 874 Fifth Avenue, San Rafael. Persons who wish to take the test must complete an application form, available from any post office.

Truth-In-Lending Regulations Mapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board has issued sweeping regulations requiring businesses to disclose the total interest and service costs charged to customers buying on credit.

The regulations, which go into effect July 1, are designed to prevent gouging on credit purchases by requiring the seller to put in writing exactly how much interest and other charges the customer will have to pay over the cost of the item.

Released in final form yesterday, the regulations were an assignment given the Federal Reserve by Congress last year when it enacted a Consumer Credit Protection Act.

Congress divided enforcement responsibilities among nine federal agencies, with the Federal Trade Commission carrying the heaviest load.

Between now and July 1 the enforcement agencies will attempt to contact all banks, department stores, credit unions, mortgage brokers, credit card plans and other businesses that offer credit to spell out their new duties.

For most, the first reaction will be a rush call to the printers. The basic thrust of the regulations is that in all credit transactions the creditor must make written disclosure of the credit terms.

Fine print is banned in spelling out the information and the key words "finance charge" and "annual percentage rate" are to be printed more conspiciously than surrounding material.

This information will appear, for instance, on the monthly statement department store customers receive when they make revolving charge account purchases.

The regulations also contain tough language aimed at advertisements mentioning the availability of credit.

When an ad in any way describes credit availability in order to promote sales it will have to list fully all pertinent facts, including the annual percentage rate, number of payments, and size of the down payment required.

Criminal penalties for violation of the truth-in-lending rules will range up to a $5,000 fine, a year in jail or both.

The customer may also file civil suit if the finance charge was at least $100 and under $1,000, suing for twice the amount of the charge plus court costs and a reasonable attor-

Citizens Want Novato Sanitary, Water Merger

A committee to push for the merger of the Novato Sanitary District with the North Marin County Water District has been formed in Novato.

Albert C. Weitz of 65 Half Moon Road and Richard L. O'Connell of 18 Isabella Court were elected to co-charimen of the committee, according to Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, recording secretary.

Other officers are John S. Kilsby of 235 Corte Del Cerro, treasurer, and George A. Amaroli of 11 Rebecca Way, public relations.

The group will push passage of the issue in an election scheduled for April 15. The water district board, with endorsement from the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, has voted to absorb the sanitary district, with members of the sanitary board and city officials disapproving.

Weekly meetings of the committee will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesdays at the Bank of Marin.

Underworld Is Linked To Army Project

NEW YORK (AP) — A U.S. Army project in St. Louis has been "one of the chief sources of illegal revenue for the hoodlum element in St. Louis," U.S. attorney has told Life magazine.

Life, in its current issue, said yesterday that underworld figures made huge profits on the conversion of a St. Louis steel foundry into a munitiions plant "through a combination of corrupt St. Louis unions and mismanagement and lack of foresight on the part of the U.S. Army."

The plant, known as the Gateway Army Ammunition Plant, began its conversion on Sept. 25, 1967, at an expected cost of $8 million and a scheduled completion date of July 1, 1968, Life reported.

Now the project is expected to cost $22 million and be completed this July, the magazine said.

A Pentagon spokesman said there would be no immediate comment on the magazine article.

Life said:

A federal grand jury is investigating "the loss of millions of dollars at the same plant through union featherbedding, ghost payrolling, work slowdowns, phony overtime. . ."

Veryl L. Riddle, U.S. attorney for Missouri's eastern district, said three indictments had already been returned by the grand jury.

Life listed several men reportedly connected with the Mafia who allegedly received large sums on the payroll of the project although they did no work.

It said Mason-Rust, the contractor, had no permanent work force of its own in St. Louis and had to "make do with an imported management team which was immediately at the mercy of Local 42 (of the Laborers International Union of North America, AFL-CIO). . ."

The conversion has been done on a "cost plus" basis, whereby the government agrees to pay all costs plus a profit for the company, according to Life, which said the Army chose this method as the quickest for completing the project.

Hiring, Center On Fairfax List'

Recommendations to hire a city administrator and to build a new fire-police-administration complex will be discussed by the Fairfax City Council at 8 p.m. today.

The recommendations were made by the civic affairs panel of the December Congress for Community Progress and unanimously adopted by all Fairfax residents attending the congress.

The council is also expected to take a stand on a unification plan for the Tamalpais High School District and will seek authorization to include Center Boulevard in the county urban thoroughfare system so it will qualify for funds from the county.

MARIN WATER PLAN—Proposed supplemental water for Marin would flow to the county through an aqueduct (A) from the Russian River. Financing for the aqueduct will be asked this year in a $30 to $40 million bond issue. The only alternate, the North Bay Aqueduct, (B on this map by Independent-Journal artist Jack Lucey) has been rejected.

MARIN WATER PROJECT

Biggest Bond Issue Expected In County

come from several Northern California sources including the Eel River, the plan proposed.

The legislature authorized the aqueduct in 1957 and appropriated $1,340,000 for preparation of plans. Another million was appropriated in 1959 for lands, easements and rights of way for the aqueduct.

In 1958, Seeger said Marin was interested in the North Bay Aqueduct as a source of supplemental water, but felt at that time that the county's own water resources would last until 2010.

He cited the then planned Nicasio Reservoir and the development of Walker Creek in northern Marin County as the chief pre-2010 water sources.

However, subsequent studies of Walker Creek and water needs by Marin Municipal Water District indicated that the creek would be the most expensive supplemental source and wouldn't supply enough water for needs of 1990.

A year later, 1959, interest in the North Bay Aquedust seemingly had not diminished. Both North Marin and Marin Municipal districts endorsed the aqueduct and said they were including it in their long-range plans.

Also in the long-range plans of both districts, however, was the Russian River, and by 1960 interest in the aqueduct waned.

Jerome B. Gilbert, general manager of the North Marin district, questioned the state's source material for the aqueduct studies and said he believed the "criteria might not be proper," and "additional studies are reasonable."

Numerous hearings by the state showed a definite lack of agreement on the project by the four counties involved, although the state continued pushing it.

In February 1961, a state water official, commenting on a reevaluation of the North Bay Aqueduct, said, "I have seen the studies to date and I am personally skeptical that you people will want to sign up for water at what it will cost." Yet, he added that the preliminary figures indicated other water would cost more than either the aqueduct or locally developed water, such as from Walker Creek.

In November 1961, another state official concurred: "The North Bay Aqueduct is the cheapest way to provide water for the North Bay area."

"The North Bay Aqueduct is the most visible means of providing large quantities of water to satisfy the anticipated demand" of the North Bay area, said still another state water official in 1962.

How much would aqueduct water have cost Marin Municipal Water District users?

Estimates vary. In 1963, the last state report on the four-county project was issued with Marin County's cost based on local water district estimates that 35,500 acre feet of water would be needed in 1990. (The figure has since risen to 45,000 acre feet.)

Cost per acre foot, treated and delivered, was tentatively estimated by the state at about $46 for Marin. (An acre foot is the amount of water it would take to cover an acre a foot deep. It contains 325,000 gallons.) But a more detailed report issued that year by North Marin and Marin Municipal water districts, put the figure at $31.60.

Several aqueduct sizes were proposed and the one which most nearly approximates the size of the now favored Russian River project called for delivering 115,000 acre feet of water per year.

Total costs over the life of the North Bay Aqueduct project (1965-2038) would have been about $64.5 million, including capital expenditures, interest, operation and maintenance of the aqueduct, water, and treatment of water, according to 1963 estimates of the state.

At the same time, the total cost of the Russian River project was estimated at $65.1 million, with an acre foot cost of $34.35.

Enrollment Jumps 1,000 At College

Students registered for the spring semester — which started today — numbers 6,105, compared to last spring's enrollment of 5,022.

Asked if the student unrest at San Francisco State and other colleges had swollen enrollment, Louis H. Herkenoff, acting college president, replied, "Yes, and this is the biggest spring enrollment in our history."

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond said it looks as if the larger enrollment is related to strike and protest movements at other colleges but more will be known at the end of the week when students applications are processed.

Listed were 3,232 day students, 1,802 day and night students and 1,072, night only.

A total of 6,200 students registered last semester and of these, 5,423 remained in classes.

Of the 6,105 students now enrolled, 3,978 are continuing students.

The school population explosion was felt this morning when some students arrived as early as 6:30 a.m. to find parking space. Classes began at 8 a.m. on the Kentfield campus.

Coroner Probes Petaluma Death

A Petaluma woman died last night possibly from a combination of alcohol and an overdose of drugs, according to police.

Anna Mae Doyle, 39, of 821 East Washington Street, was pronounced dead on arrival at Hillcrest Hospital at 7:30 p.m. yesterday. Her husband Charles M. Doyle, 44, told police his wife had been drinking during the day. He called for an ambulance when he could not rouse his wife and found a half empty bottle of pills.

Sonoma County Coroner Andrew Johansen said his office is investigating the death.

Riding Permit Likely For Motorcycle Club

The Marin County Motorcycle Association, a 100-member businessmen's group, will probably win a use permit to continue riding the trails in the hills north of China Camp, county zoning administrator Thomas E. Cordill declared this morning.

Cordill said he wants to contact the sheriff's office to make sure that proper law enforcement is available if needed before a use permit is issued.

Even if the permit is allowed, it will be a temporary one that is subject to renewal so that complaints from neighboring residents can be reviewed, said Cordill.

Stanley Wisnes of 211 Union Street, San Rafael, sales manager for Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet in Corte Madera, is president of the group.

"The members are all local businessmen, many of them fireman," said Wisnes. He assured Cordill that the club is nothing like the Hells Angels or the Grim Reapers.

Restaurant Is Hit By Gunman Who Takes $365

A gunman with shoulder length hair escaped with $365 Saturday night from L'Europe Restaurant, 2214 Fourth Street, San Rafael police reported.

Restaurant owner Fritz A. Verburg told officers he was counting receipts in the dining room at 11:45 p.m. when the robber, armed with a .38-caliber automatic pistol, entered through a kitchen door.

An accomplice was heard in the kitchen, but not seen by Verburg. Both escaped in a car parked outside.

The gunman was described as about 25 years old, five feet, nine inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, with brown hair.

Girl Bruised As Car Stops For Dog

Lisa Lorente, 10, of 251 Fawn Drive, Sleepy Hollow, was treated for bruises at Marin General Hospital yesterday after a two-car collision at 4:45 p.m. on Butterfield Road, the California Highway Patrol said.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her brother, Warren J. Lorente, 18, of the same address. The highway patrol said Lorente stopped his car suddenly when a dog walked into the road and his car was hit by another driven by Diane L. Gillespie, 21, of San Bernardino.

Belvedere Home Hit By Slide

A 63-year-old Belvedere home was ordered abandoned yesterday as earth slides threatened to dump the house into Belvedere Cove.

By this morning, a large section of the bank adjacent to the home at 188 Beach Road, owned by Gloria Spatta, had slid over the cliffs to the Beach below, at some points dropping away as much as five feet from the original slope level.

Although the slide had not reached the foundations of the house itself, a first floor patio and second floor deck slid away from the house yesterday afternoon.

The slide was first noticed yesterday by Jamie Kink of 312 Beach Road and Steven Manning of 196 Beach Road. The two youngsters, playing in their tree house adjacent to the Spatta home, smelled gas and upon investigating noticed the slides.

The Belvedere police and fire departments were notified and the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. was called to shut off all utilities.

Mrs. Spatta and her son, George, were out of town for the weekend and stayed with neighbors when they returned to Belvedere last night.

Belvedere City Mgr. William L. Cavalli said the slide was apparently caused by rain saturation. At the moment, he said, it appears the house can be saved but the final determination on the fate of the house will be up to a soils engineer.

The Spatta property and an adjacent public pathway have been closed to the public, Cavalli said.

Screens Taken

James Sanford, 77 Carlton Drive, Petaluma, reported to police yesterday that nine window screens and a sliding glass door had been stolen from his home.

Attorney Vows Fight For Locks

While the Air Force prepared today to ship Michael R. Locks to Leavenworth Federal Prison in Kansas, his attorney announced he would fight to keep the young man from serving his sentence of one year at hard labor.

Locks, 25, was found guilty Friday of violating an Air Force order when he appeared in uniform Oct. 12 at an antiwar rally in San Francisco.

Attorney Richard J. Werthimer said he will file a writ of habeas corpus in federal district court in San Francisco and will also appeal directly to Maj. Gen. Robert W. Barns, commander of the Fourth Air Force, to suspend Lock's sentence.

Locks is presently detained at the Hamilton Air Force Base stockade, but is to be sent to Leavenworth soon, according to a base spokesman, who said military regulations do not permit delay in serving a sentence during appeal.

Dixie Trustees Switch Session

Dixie School District trustees will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow instead of Wednesday night because Wednesday is Lincoln's Birthday.

Filippo Construction Co., which built Oak View School additions, will ask the trustees for more funds for work which the contractor said was not called for in the plans and specifications.

Another item on the agenda is a proposed demonstration school designed to improve instruction in history. The project calls for bringing students of minority races to the Dixie School District for the summer session to work with Dixie pupils. The project, undertaken jointly by the Dixie District and Sonoma State College, would be financed by federal funds from the Educational Professional Development Act, said Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

Trustees will also discuss policies and regulations on the selection of innovative materials and library books for the school district.

Auto Dismantling Yard Permit Asked

An application by Robert H. Greene to include an automobile dismantling yard in a light industry zone at 54 Industrial Way is scheduled for consideration at the 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow of the Larkspur Planning Commission at city hall.

Larkspur has no zoning permitting such an operation.

Dismissal Asked In Dope Case

A motion to dismiss charges against Thomas Keynard Driskill, 19, of Alto, accused of possessing marijuana for sale, was entered today in Marin Superior Court.

His attorney, Carl B. Shapiro, said that a search warrant issued in the case had not contained Driskill's name and that this made the evidence obtained illegal.

Driskill turned himself into county authorities in November after reading of a raid at his home at 4 Crystal Court, where narcotics agents confiscated three kilograms of marijuana.

Judge Harld J. Haley continued the case until Feb. 24.

MARIN WATER PLAN—Proposed supplemental water for Marin would flow to the county through an aqueduct (A) from the Russian River. Financing for the aqueduct will be asked this year in a $30 to $40 million bond issue. The only alternate, the North Bay Aqueduct, (B on this map by Independent-Journal artist Jack Lucey) has been rejected.

MARIN WATER PROJECT

Biggest Bond Issue Expected In County

come from several Northern California sources including the Eel River, the plan proposed.

The legislature authorized the aqueduct in 1957 and appropriated $1,340,000 for preparation of plans. Another million was appropriated in 1959 for lands, easements and rights of way for the aqueduct.

In 1958, Seeger said Marin was interested in the North Bay Aqueduct as a source of supplemental water, but felt at that time that the county's own water resources would last until 2010.

He cited the then planned Nicasio Reservoir and the development of Walker Creek in northern Marin County as the chief pre-2010 water sources.

However, subsequent studies of Walker Creek and water needs by Marin Municipal Water District indicated that the creek would be the most expensive supplemental source and wouldn't supply enough water for needs of 1990.

A year later, 1959, interest in the North Bay Aquedust seemingly had not diminished. Both North Marin and Marin Municipal districts endorsed the aqueduct and said they were including it in their long-range plans.

Also in the long-range plans of both districts, however, was the Russian River, and by 1960 interest in the aqueduct waned.

Jerome B. Gilbert, general manager of the North Marin district, questioned the state's source material for the aqueduct studies and said he believed the "criteria might not be proper," and "additional studies are reasonable."

Numerous hearings by the state showed a definite lack of agreement on the project by the four counties involved, although the state continued pushing it.

In February 1961, a state water official, commenting on a reevaluation of the North Bay Aqueduct, said, "I have seen the studies to date and I am personally skeptical that you people will want to sign up for water at what it will cost." Yet, he added that the preliminary figures indicated other water would cost more than either the aqueduct or locally developed water, such as from Walker Creek.

In November 1961, another state official concurred: "The North Bay Aqueduct is the cheapest way to provide water for the North Bay area."

"The North Bay Aqueduct is the most visible means of providing large quantities of water to satisfy the anticipated demand" of the North Bay area, said still another state water official in 1962.

How much would aqueduct water have cost Marin Municipal Water District users?

Estimates vary. In 1963, the last state report on the four-county project was issued with Marin County's cost based on local water district estimates that 35,500 acre feet of water would be needed in 1990. (The figure has since risen to 45,000 acre feet.)

At the same time, the total cost of the Russian River project was estimated at $65.1 million, with an acre foot cost of $34.35.

Two Important Reports; Much Different Reactions

A report on "Problems in the Administration of Justice in California," which suggested shakeups all along the line from arrest to imprisonment and parole, was issued last Thursday by a Washington, D.C., lawyer.

The report by Ronald L. Goldfarb, commissioned last year by the Assembly Judiciary Committee, was sharply critical of the juvenile courts, the bail system, the handling of civil suits and probate matters, the state's penal institutions, and even California's long-vaunted system of indeterminate sentences. It suggested shakeups in all of them.

IF THERE WAS A TOE not stepped on in the administration of justice, from the cop on the beat to the state Supreme Court itself, we don't know whose it was.

Goldfarb delivered his report to Assemblyman William T. Bagley, who headed the judiciary committee at the time it was ordered. Bagley immediately released it. There was no suggestion it should be kept under wraps until review by the whole committee or by the numerous arms of government which came under its fire.

No great outcry followed release of the report. Those whose toes were stepped on may have grumbled privately, but they called no press conference, issued no retort, gave vent to no public maledictions.

TWO DAYS BEFORE the Goldfarb report, the staff of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education delivered to that council, and made public, a report requested by the Legislature on "Meeting the Enrollment Demand for Higher Education in California Through 1977."

This report held that no new University of California or California state college campus will be needed during the next eight years, and that 19 of 30 new junior college campuses being planned will not be needed within that period. Among those 19 is the Novato campus of Marin Junior College District.

THE COORDINATING Council for Higher Education — which includes among its members representatives of the university, the state colleges and the junior colleges — reacted with outrage. Members criticized the staff for making the report public. The council wound up returning the report to its staff to be worked over and resubmitted in October.

Theodore C. Wellman, president of the Marin district's board of trustees, asserted: "The staff took the ball and ran with it by sending it all over the state without any appreciation of the council."

IT IS NOT AT ALL surprising that U.C. and college officials should be unhappy over a report that upsets some of their long-laid plans.

What is a bit surprising though, and certainly disturbing, is that they should suggest the report should have been suppressed until approved by the council.

The Legislature called for the report for guidance in appropriating money for the various higher education jurisdictions that compete for funds. If the findings were subject to suppression by those same jurisdictions, what on earth good would they be?

Certainly the staff of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education cannot be accused of being anti-education. It may have erred in its findings. But then, too, it is just possible that U.C., the state colleges, and the junior college districts, all doing their own planning, may each have counted many of the same heads in projecting future enrollment.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Many Bills On Campus Unrest, But None Seeks To Find Cause

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Continued disorders on California university and state colleges campuses would seem to indicate a new approach is needed.

If the facts behind the revolution in higher education are known, they have not been made available to the public at large.

If students and faculty members have legitimate complaints which lead them to destructive actions against the physical properties of the schools, these too have not been outlined specifically.

UNTIL THE FACTS are known, many different kinds of opinion will be advanced for solutions, none of which will solve the problem in any comprehensive manner.

For instance, it is strongly suspected in many quarters that the forces of communism in one way or another spark demonstrations and other publicity-seeking events which serve to continue the attacks. Yet there have been no announced attempts to get to the bottom of this suspicion.

There is the contention on some fronts that college administration has become faulty, that highly paid professors are turning the process of teaching over to "aides," some of whom know less about the subject than do the students.

On the part of legitimate students, there are complaints that the campus disruptions are causing them to attend classes in a state of apprehension and actual fear that they will suffer violence.

Fundamentally, a seat of learning cannot exist indefinitely when force and violence are tolerated. Neither can the expenditure of public monies be justified when students are expected to continue their studies in an atmosphere of apprehension.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has said many times that force and violence will not be tolerated, and to back up his statements, just last week authorized use of the highway patrol to combat the militants. Yet demonstrations continue.

THE STATE Legislature has before it more than 40 bills and resolutions seeking return of the campuses to their normal functions. But there is no proposal to get to the heart of the subject through a factual investigation to determine what is actually wrong. Should such an investigation ever be authorized, it is apparent that it should be conducted by persons or firms outside faculty or administration influence.

It is one thing to keep educational institutions open by force, but it is quite another to secure facts which would determine the original causes of unrest and correct situations which cause disruptions.

It will be only when the facts are determined that steps can be taken to maintain higher education on an acceptable basis.

"You say they're BOTH ours?"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Nary A Kind Word For Gov. Reagan

According to the papers, "our hero" Twenty Mule Team Reagan has promised the overburdened California taxpayer a $100 million tax rebate for his election year, 1970. We the poor tax-paying "slobs" need it desperately now.

Reagan, after promising no new taxes if elected, slaps on a billion-dollar tax increase, and now promises $100 million rebate. What happened to the difference? . . .

He promised immediate tax relief to the property owner; everyone two years later is waiting.

He said all he wanted to do is serve the people of California, and was not interested in the presidency. The echo was not even gone from his words when he spent the next six months campaigning for nomination for President . . .

He has turned the California Highway Patrol into a Gestapo. Under the guise of safety the overtaxed motorist is being stopped and cited at every water hole for some minor defect of his car. This costs him millions of dollars, because the boys in Sacramento have to find something for the boys with a badge to do. Why don't they concentrate on moving the traffic at rush hours at the Golden Gate Bridge, for example, instead of harassing the motorist?. . .

Killings Glorified In Sports Story

Reading the sports page of today's I-J (Feb. 5), I was sickened and appalled by the story of the "Dingaling Red Headed Huntress." I fail to see the sport in chasing and killing an animal, especially one whose numbers are steadily decreasing.

'Children Spooked' To Push Bonds

Re the school bond election Feb. 18 for $2,100,000 . . . Kids are coming home "spooked" from hearing at school if this bond isn't passed, it will be half-day sessions or no school a-tall.

Parents were shown a film at school which supposedly represented the way their child would be taught sex ed. What went on after to our kids was adult sex ed. Move lulled parents into apathy while the school was undermining the dignity and sanctity of their homes.

Like the camel who was allowed to stick his nose in the tent flap, and soon everything behind his dang nose followed and crowded master out. Parents saw the nose but their children got the whole animal.

Supt. of Schools Virgil Hollis and various boards of education are fully aware this animalistic sex ed is following a national method of influencing "think patterns" of our children . . . The political "activists" now controlling the National Education Association are responsible for the dissemination and acceptance of this controversial program through their associated school organizations . . .

Lack of discipline in our schools has caused lack of modesty, morals, and created tobacco and pot smoking on school property, not to mention peddling pot in classrooms and on the grounds. If educators can't figure out why voters won't pass school bonds they are stupid indeed . . .

TDTA Fighting For Strong Schools

Your editorial of Jan. 29 declaring that the Tamalpais District Teachers Association "Hold(s) Electorate in Very Low Regard" and their attitude is "the public be damned!" certainly holds in low regard the intelligence of your readers.

The TDTA opposes a "new unification plan" at this time because it feels a split high school district could not provide the excellent educational program the one district now provides. The Marin County Committee on School District Organization is still studying four plans and much more data is needed before one is sent to the voters.

Furthermore, election procedures are vague, and the county committee has not yet spoken on them. Under procedures recently approved the the state Board of Education for other high school district splits, the preponderance of voters in the Redwood attendance area could determine the fate for the other two less populated areas (Drake and Tam). . .

If the district were split three ways, the Drake area would end up with 14 per cent less assessed valuation per child. "Stripped or rhetoric," the TDTA desires the strongest schools possible for all our (the public's) children and feels the single high school district best accomplishes this.

THE DRUMMONDS

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — The United States and the Soviet Union face the most difficult negotiation they have ever undertaken together.

Everything that has been done thus far has been child's play compared to the sticky, sensitive, nearly intractable issues which stand in the way of agreeing to cut back the costs and risks of the unending pileup of nuclear weapons.

Right now Moscow keeps saying "hurry up" to President Nixon. But for two years President Johnson and Defense Sec. Robert McNamara were pleading with the Russians to start nuclear talks. No response.

Now they seem eager, and Mr. Nixon will respond. But there is no reason he should not take time to review thoroughly every major negotiating position and thus be truly ready for the most important and potentially most valuable negotiations we have had with the Russians since the Communists came to power.

THE ACHIEVEMENTS to date are not slight. Five peripheral treaties have been accepted, and it has taken from three to five years to negotiate each:

1—Providing for international exploration of Antarctica and banning nuclear weapons there.

2—Limiting nuclear testing to underground.

3—Prohibiting nuclear weapons in outer space.

4—Making Latin America a nuclear-free zone.

5—The nonproliferation treaty.

THIS IS FINE, better than we might have expected. But it looks more impressive than it is, so far as bearing on the giant task ahead. The reasons are these:

In all of these treaties the nuclear powers are only promising to refrain from doing what they are not doing anyway — giving nuclear weapons to other countries.

In none of these treaties is the Soviet Union accepting any international inspection on its own territory.

In the limited test ban, the United States and the Soviet Union gave up atmospheric testing only after they had decided that underground testing would be adequate for the future.

THESE TREATIES on nuclear matters have great value, but they leave untouched the principal differences between the United States and Russia in the far bigger negotiations now coming.

There can be no agreed slowing down of the arms race, no real cutback of nuclear weapons unless there is effective on-site inspection in both countries. So far, Russia has always given a flat no.

And this time no meaningful U.S.-Soviet treaty can be negotiated which doesn't go a great deal further than just promising to do what they are already doing. The inspection may be a high hurdle, but an even higher one likely will be finding the level at which each nation will be willing to freeze the arms race and still feel that its national interests are not in jeopardy. This can be the toughest, touchiest issue of all, and it lies at the heart of a successful negotiation.

BECAUSE, the other treaties did not have to deal with these crucial matters does not mean that they have not helped. Without them, the coming nuclear talks would not be in prospect at all.

When each of these five treaties was being slowly and painfully worked out, there were times when the outlook was black and many throught success would never come. But it did. For a long time during the test-ban talks the Russians avowed they would never accept atmospheric test-ban by itself. But they did.

Now both sides must realize that the cost of failure is too great.

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Labor Sec. George Shultz is considering setting up a new "watchdog" agency to strengthen his department's check on the multi-milllion dollar manpower training-employment programs it finances.

The contemplated investigative unit would report directly to Shultz instead of going through the usual bureaucratic channels.

THE NEED for such a measure is evidenced by the following:

President Nixon's known plans to shift various manpower-employment programs to the Labor Department from the Office of Economic Opportunity — the Johnson administration's multi-billion dollar anti-poverty agency which is to be dismantled.

A long series of fraud, corruption, payroll padding, kickback and other scandals in OEO-Labor Department-financed programs throughout the country. An illustration is the recent disclosure of extensive defalcations and other illegalities in New York City's Human Resources Administration. Investigators have established that $2.7 million of OEO-Labor Department funds was looted from the Neighborhood Youth Corps program administered by HRA.

REP. WILLIAM AYRES, Ohio, ranking Republican on the House Education and Labor Committee, has recommended that the Labor Department immediately create a "division of internal audit and inspection" to strengthen supervision and control over the many costly manpower-employment programs.

REP. JOEL BROYHILL, R-Va., member of the District of Columbia Committee, is finally making progress in his long fight for a thorough airing of charges of graft, corruption and other scandals in Pride, Inc., much-publicized project to provide employment for hundreds of Negro youth in Washington's ghettos.

The General Accounting Office has informed Broyhill that it is conferring with Labor Department officials on a joint probe of Pride.

And Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Rackets Investigating Committee, has advised Broyhill that the Justice Department is examining evidence against Pride "to determine promptly whether criminal prosecution for the alleged corruption is warranted."

The Labor Department has dished out $6.1 million to Pride since it was hastily launched in the summer of 1967 when tensions were running high and the capital appeared on the verge of racial violence. Since its founding Pride has been under attack on numerous counts — payroll padding, kickbacks, embezzlement, fraud and other illegalities.

Two Important Reports; Much Different Reactions

A report on "Problems in the Administration of Justice in California," which suggested shakeups all along the line from arrest to imprisonment and parole, was issued last Thursday by a Washington, D.C., lawyer.

The report by Ronald L. Goldfarb, commissioned last year by the Assembly Judiciary Committee, was sharply critical of the juvenile courts, the bail system, the handling of civil suits and probate matters, the state's penal institutions, and even California's long-vaunted system of indeterminate sentences. It suggested shakeups in all of them.

IF THERE WAS A TOE not stepped on in the administration of justice, from the cop on the beat to the state Supreme Court itself, we don't know whose it was.

Goldfarb delivered his report to Assemblyman William T. Bagley, who headed the judiciary committee at the time it was ordered. Bagley immediately released it. There was no suggestion it should be kept under wraps until review by the whole committee or by the numerous arms of government which came under its fire.

No great outcry followed release of the report. Those whose toes were stepped on may have grumbled privately, but they called no press conference, issued no retort, gave vent to no public maledictions.

TWO DAYS BEFORE the Goldfarb report, the staff of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education delivered to that council, and made public, a report requested by the Legislature on "Meeting the Enrollment Demand for Higher Education in California Through 1977."

This report held that no new University of California or California state college campus will be needed during the next eight years, and that 19 of 30 new junior college campuses being planned will not be needed within that period. Among those 19 is the Novato campus of Marin Junior College District.

THE COORDINATING Council for Higher Education — which includes among its members representatives of the university, the state colleges and the junior colleges — reacted with outrage. Members criticized the staff for making the report public. The council wound up returning the report to its staff to be worked over and resubmitted in October.

Theodore C. Wellman, president of the Marin district's board of trustees, asserted: "The staff took the ball and ran with it by sending it all over the state without any appreciation of the council."

IT IS NOT AT ALL surprising that U.C. and college officials should be unhappy over a report that upsets some of their long-laid plans.

What is a bit surprising though, and certainly disturbing, is that they should suggest the report should have been suppressed until approved by the council.

The Legislature called for the report for guidance in appropriating money for the various higher education jurisdictions that compete for funds. If the findings were subject to suppression by those same jurisdictions, what on earth good would they be?

Certainly the staff of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education cannot be accused of being anti-education. It may have erred in its findings. But then, too, it is just possible that U.C., the state colleges, and the junior college districts, all doing their own planning, may each have counted many of the same heads in projecting future enrollment.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Many Bills On Campus Unrest, But None Seeks To Find Cause

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Continued disorders on California university and state colleges campuses would seem to indicate a new approach is needed.

If the facts behind the revolution in higher education are known, they have not been made available to the public at large.

If students and faculty members have legitimate complaints which lead them to destructive actions against the physical properties of the schools, these too have not been outlined specifically.

UNTIL THE FACTS are known, many different kinds of opinion will be advanced for solutions, none of which will solve the problem in any comprehensive manner.

For instance, it is strongly suspected in many quarters that the forces of communism in one way or another spark demonstrations and other publicity-seeking events which serve to continue the attacks. Yet there have been no announced attempts to get to the bottom of this suspicion.

There is the contention on some fronts that college administration has become faulty, that highly paid professors are turning the process of teaching over to "aides," some of whom know less about the subject than do the students.

On the part of legitimate students, there are complaints that the campus disruptions are causing them to attend classes in a state of apprehension and actual fear that they will suffer violence.

Fundamentally, a seat of learning cannot exist indefinitely when force and violence are tolerated. Neither can the expenditure of public monies be justified when students are expected to continue their studies in an atmosphere of apprehension.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has said many times that force and violence will not be tolerated, and to back up his statements, just last week authorized use of the highway patrol to combat the militants. Yet demonstrations continue.

THE STATE Legislature has before it more than 40 bills and resolutions seeking return of the campuses to their normal functions. But there is no proposal to get to the heart of the subject through a factual investigation to determine what is actually wrong. Should such an investigation ever be authorized, it is apparent that it should be conducted by persons or firms outside faculty or administration influence.

It is one thing to keep educational institutions open by force, but it is quite another to secure facts which would determine the original causes of unrest and correct situations which cause disruptions.

It will be only when the facts are determined that steps can be taken to maintain higher education on an acceptable basis.

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Nary A Kind Word For Gov. Reagan

According to the papers, "our hero" Twenty Mule Team Reagan has promised the overburdened California taxpayer a $100 million tax rebate for his election year, 1970. We the poor tax-paying "slobs" need it desperately now.

Reagan, after promising no new taxes if elected, slaps on a billion-dollar tax increase, and now promises $100 million rebate. What happened to the difference? . . .

He promised immediate tax relief to the property owner; everyone two years later is waiting.

He said all he wanted to do is serve the people of California, and was not interested in the presidency. The echo was not even gone from his words when he spent the next six months campaigning for nomination for President . . .

He has turned the California Highway Patrol into a Gestapo. Under the guise of safety the overtaxed motorist is being stopped and cited at every water hole for some minor defect of his car. This costs him millions of dollars, because the boys in Sacramento have to find something for the boys with a badge to do. Why don't they concentrate on moving the traffic at rush hours at the Golden Gate Bridge, for example, instead of harassing the motorist?. . .

State Action May Save Some Trees On Bolinas Ridge

When a Coos Bay logging firm bought timber rights on the 1,800-acre Righetti Ranch on Bolinas Ridge last December, the official reaction was that there's not much we can do about saving the trees, short of buying the ranch.

But all may not be lost.

Apparently some of the conservationists got busy and quietly alerted the state Department of Parks and Recreation.

Director William Penn Mott Jr. has written letters to the landowner, Dr. Ethel Righetti of Castro Valley, and to logger George E. Walker of Coos Bay, Ore.

Director Mott points out in the letter that the state has long-planned a scenic parkway from Mount Tamalpais to Samuel P. Taylor Park along Ridgecrest Boulevard. Mott is asking the logger for some arrangement whereby a 300-foot scenic easement on top of the ridge can be saved from the chain saw so that motorists driving along the "scenic parkway" won't be faced with a stretch of denuded ridge strewn with rubble and stumps.

THE NUMBER of meetings that should be covered during the week is staggering. We blamed it on the fact that Marin has "more than a hundred organizations."

Mrs. J. T. McKeever, executive assistant for Marin Aid to Retarded Children, kindly pointed out to us that we missed by 800.

Unbelievable, says Mrs. McKeever, but Marin has 900 organizations — social, civic, religious, sport, art, fraternal, professional etc. She just ticks off a few — 98 parent groups, 39 women's clubs, 105 church groups, 216 sports clubs or teams, 30 music groups, 43 improvement and homeowner clubs, 19 union, citizens, and retired groups, 50 special interest groups, and 35 conservation groups.

Assuming that each of the 900 meets once a month (many meet more often), that would be 30 meetings every day including Sundays. If you leave out weekends, that would be 45 meetings each day. If each group met twice a month, there would be 90 meetings each week day.

And I'd swear half of them meet at the Civic Center.

THERE'S a rumor that the amiable colonel from the Corps of Engineers, Frank C. Boerger, may be retiring soon. He's the one, you recall, who's been prescribing esthetics like vinyl fences, textured concrete, and weeping willow screening to doctor up the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project.

Hope the Army retains him as "esthetics consultant" for all of its projects.

'And We Have A Fifth Column Within The City'–General Mola

During the civil war in Spain, the Spanish rebels, in the fall of the year 1936, had four columns advancing on Madrid, and inside the city, attacking the defenders from within, there was a subversive fifth column.

You think of this and you look at the columns of young men and women advancing on schools demanding they be closed. You hear all their demands, many so absurd, so preposterous they stagger reason and insult good sense. And you hear the instructors and professors from within adding their strident voices to the assault. And you wonder—when, where, how did it all come about? Then you think of the fifth column and how it works. . . .

AFTER DINNER the talk turned to politics. Someone touched an idea and everyone leaped as if at a game of tag. Then Paul, rebutting a point, said:

"What you say is not likely. Everything is relative."

No one objected. Paul made his point and went on to greater feats of sophistry. "Everything is relative" stood boldly as a giant thought, a Gibraltar of a postulate — unapproachable, untouched, unquestioned. No one argued that when everything is relative, then nothing is absolute. If nothing is absolute then "there's no base from which to operate." With this drifting, catch-as-catch-can philosophy, anything goes. Nor did anyone paraphrase Voltaire: "If there were no absolute, it would be necessary to invent one."

AT ANOTHER time and another place someone said: "We must be tolerant. Toleration is a cardinal virtue!"

Again, it was a statement allowed to stand without so much as a raised eyebrow. Would it have been too heretical to suggest that there are some things, some actions, some ideas and yes, even some people who should not be tolerated? Would you argue that disease should be tolerated? Murder? Thuggism? Hitler? When we become so tolerant as to become unintelligently tolerant, we leave the field to those very ones who are militantly intolerant of any who go counter to their beliefs and whims.

HOW MANY TIMES have you heard: "You can't beat the system!" or "You can't fight city hall!" And these, too, are allowed to stand for few bother to mention the system has been beaten many times and city hall has, indeed, been fought and beaten often. Individual man, we are told, is frustrated by the awesome forces surrounding him; he feels powerless before a gargantuan government. These forces are great, but it doesn't mean that man is too weak to cope with them — not unless by repeated suggestion, he comes to believe it! Witness the changes wrought by a humble, old man called Socrates, a kindly, gentle Christ, a determined Columbus, an insistent Jefferson, a steadfast Lincoln. The list goes on and on.

THIS, THEN, is a glimpse of but a part of our fifth column which bores from within and corrupts the intellectual and moral structure of our educational institutions and ultimately our society.

And when we permit effete latter-day intellectualism to contaminate our campuses and classrooms with virulent fifth column work, working at making us fearful of taking positive action, fearful of exercising reason, fearful of enforcing laws and most of all, fearful of being courageous, then the fifth column has done its work well. Very well indeed!

Chicago Unrest A Tragedy: LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson, in a look back at the 1968 Democratic National Convention, has conceded that "without question, the bloodshed and terror in the streets of Chicago was a tragic, horrible thing."

The March issue of True Magazine published yesterday an interview Johnson granted just before he left office.

"The violent confrontation that occurred is a sad lesson in what happens when decent people on both sides abandon restraint and understanding," Johnson told True.

Johnson said he had trouble communicating with young people. "I would give us a decent grade for our efforts," he said, "but a poor grade for our effectiveness."

Third Lecture Due Of Care Of Heart

The third in a series of lectures on how to reduce heart attacks will be held at 8:15 p.m. tomorrow at the San Rafael High School auditorium.

Dr. James Dahl will present two films, "20th Century Epidemic" and "Better Odds for a Longer Life" in the program sponsored by the Marin County Heart Association and the Collge of Marin.

State Action May Save Some Trees On Bolinas Ridge

When a Coos Bay logging firm bought timber rights on the 1,800-acre Righetti Ranch on Bolinas Ridge last December, the official reaction was that there's not much we can do about saving the trees, short of buying the ranch.

But all may not be lost.

Apparently some of the conservationists got busy and quietly alerted the state Department of Parks and Recreation.

Director William Penn Mott Jr. has written letters to the landowner, Dr. Ethel Righetti of Castro Valley, and to logger George E. Walker of Coos Bay, Ore.

Director Mott points out in the letter that the state has long-planned a scenic parkway from Mount Tamalpais to Samuel P. Taylor Park along Ridgecrest Boulevard. Mott is asking the logger for some arrangement whereby a 300-foot scenic easement on top of the ridge can be saved from the chain saw so that motorists driving along the "scenic parkway" won't be faced with a stretch of denuded ridge strewn with rubble and stumps.

THE NUMBER of meetings that should be covered during the week is staggering. We blamed it on the fact that Marin has "more than a hundred organizations."

Mrs. J. T. McKeever, executive assistant for Marin Aid to Retarded Children, kindly pointed out to us that we missed by 800.

Unbelievable, says Mrs. McKeever, but Marin has 900 organizations — social, civic, religious, sport, art, fraternal, professional etc. She just ticks off a few — 98 parent groups, 39 women's clubs, 105 church groups, 216 sports clubs or teams, 30 music groups, 43 improvement and homeowner clubs, 19 union, citizens, and retired groups, 50 special interest groups, and 35 conservation groups.

Assuming that each of the 900 meets once a month (many meet more often), that would be 30 meetings every day including Sundays. If you leave out weekends, that would be 45 meetings each day. If each group met twice a month, there would be 90 meetings each week day.

And I'd swear half of them meet at the Civic Center.

THERE'S a rumor that the amiable colonel from the Corps of Engineers, Frank C. Boerger, may be retiring soon. He's the one, you recall, who's been prescribing esthetics like vinyl fences, textured concrete, and weeping willow screening to doctor up the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project.

Hope the Army retains him as "esthetics consultant" for all of its projects.

'And We Have A Fifth Column Within The City'—General Mola

During the civil war in Spain, the Spanish rebels, in the fall of the year 1936, had four columns advancing on Madrid, and inside the city, attacking the defenders from within, there was a subversive fifth column.

You think of this and you look at the columns of young men and women advancing on schools demanding they be closed. You hear all their demands, many so absurd, so preposterous they stagger reason and insult good sense. And you hear the instructors and professors from within adding their strident voices to the assault. And you wonder—when, where, how did it all come about? Then you think of the fifth column and how it works. . . .

AFTER DINNER the talk turned to politics. Someone touched an idea and everyone leaped as if at a game of tag. Then Paul, rebutting a point, said:

"What you say is not likely. Everything is relative."

No one objected. Paul made his point and went on to greater feats of sophistry. "Everything is relative" stood boldly as a giant thought, a Gibraltar of a postulate — unapproachable, untouched, unquestioned. No one argued that when everything is relative, then nothing is absolute. If nothing is absolute then "there's no base from which to operate." With this drifting, catch-as-catch-can philosophy, anything goes. Nor did anyone paraphrase Voltaire: "If there were no absolute, it would be necessary to invent one."

AT ANOTHER time and another place someone said: "We must be tolerant. Toleration is a cardinal virtue!"

Again, it was a statement allowed to stand without so much as a raised eyebrow. Would it have been too heretical to suggest that there are some things, some actions, some ideas and yes, even some people who should not be tolerated? Would you argue that disease should be tolerated? Murder? Thuggism? Hitler? When we become so tolerant as to become unintelligently tolerant, we leave the field to those very ones who are militantly intolerant of any who go counter to their beliefs and whims.

HOW MANY TIMES have you heard: "You can't beat the system!" or "You can't fight city hall!" And these, too, are allowed to stand for few bother to mention the system has been beaten many times and city hall has, indeed, been fought and beaten often. Individual man, we are told, is frustrated by the awesome forces surrounding him; he feels powerless before a gargantuan government. These forces are great, but it doesn't mean that man is too weak to cope with them — not unless by repeated suggestion, he comes to believe it! Witness the changes wrought by a humble, old man called Socrates, a kindly, gentle Christ, a determined Columbus, an insistent Jefferson, a steadfast Lincoln. The list goes on and on.

THIS, THEN, is a glimpse of but a part of our fifth column which bores from within and corrupts the intellectual and moral structure of our educational institutions and ultimately our society.

Novato Planners Due Two Plans Change Requests

An amendment to the master plan of the Marin Highlands subdivision will be considered by the Novato Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Monday in the Community House.

The developer, Sono-Marin Builders, seeks to substitute building lots for a recreational area in the planned community on 250 acres west of Trumbull Avenue and south of Vineyard Road.

The commission will also continue a hearing on the revised master plan for 900 acres of the Bahia Subdivision at the end of Bugeia Lane. The Union Bank of Los Angeles, developer, seeks to change the size of a lagoon and to add apartment houses and townhouses to the site.

Other items to come before the commission include a request by Loyal Davis for a planned residential development on approximately 2.5 acres east of Railroad Avenue and south of Orange Avenue and one to rezone from commercial to multiple family 63,800 square feet east of Diablo Avenue south of Warner Creek by J. C. Youngberg.

Supervisors To Tackle Social Woes

How can Marin County best provide improved facilities and opportunities for disadvantaged groups through "social planning"?

This question will be tackled by the board of supervisors tomorrow at its regular all-day meeting, beginning at 9 a.m., at the Civic Center.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will recommend that major planning projects be circulated to other departments engaged in people services (such as social services, human rights, recreation) for their comments and recommendations. The project would then go to the planning commission.

Bruce will also recommend that Marin City organizations and the Marin Senior Citizens Coordinating Council be included in the citizens advisory committee that approves the workable program for community development. The workable program must be submitted to the federal government annually to qualify the county for federal funds for low income and elderly housing.

Also at tomorrow's meeting, the supervisors will get a request for more deputy clerks in Marin Municipal Court to meet an increasing workload.

The Marin Historical Society will ask for salvage and preservation of the adobe walls inside the historic Rancho Olompali mansion north of Novato, which was razed by fire on Feb. 2.

The parks and recreation commission will recommend a county resolution against over-development of Angel Island.

The supervisors will tour Marin Juvenile Hall during the lunch hour.

In the afternoon, the board will proceed with abatement of nuisances and illegal structures on Richardson Bay at Waldo Point. Seven owners of houseboats and other structures, including Donlan Arques, who have been ordered to abate the nuisances, will get a hearing at 3 p.m.

Burglars Gather Varied Property

Three burglaries were reported to San Rafael police Friday.

A jar containing $100 in 50-cent pieces was taken from the home of Gordon E. Dresser, 40 Jewell Street, between 4:30 a.m. and 11 p.m.

James W. Good of 8 De La Guerra Road, told police that burglars with a thirst took seven bottles of champagne, two bottles of cointreau and four bottles of red wine, valued at $60, from his garage between 10:10 and 10:30 p.m.

Mink Coat, TV Sets Are Stolen

Sheriff's deputies reported that a color television set, a brown mink coat and ladies' and mens' suits, value unlisted, were taken from the home of Coulter McKeever, 53 Moncada Way, Bayside Acres, Thursday.

The burglary, which occurred while the McKeevers were vacationing, was reported by Ralph L. Schooling, the caretaker, deputies reported.

Clocks Taken

Larry Adams, 10 Baker Court, Petaluma, reported that jewelry, clocks and a lighter, their value unspecified, were stolen from his home during the weekend. Police said there were no signs of forcible entry.

Charles Michals Is 'Man Of Year'

Charles Michals of Greenbrae was named "Man of the Year of the Marin Republican Council" Saturday night at the council's annual membership dinner dance at the Meadow Club, Fairfax.

Mchals, a public relations executive with a chemical company in San Francisco, was given a plaque by council president Henry J. Broderick of Tiburon. Michals is chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee.

More than 200 persons attended the dinner.

Recreation Report Due Board Review

A report on recreational use of high school facilities is to be presented to the San Rafael Board of Education at 6 p.m. tomorrow at the Administration Building, Third and E streets, San Rafael.

The board also will consider adopting a revised policy on exchanging teachers with other districts, which would permit exchanges with foreign countries.

Market Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Used Volkswagens are being sold to U.S. customers as new cars in a "multimillion-dollar black market," according to Ralph Nader, the market place militant. Nader made the charge in a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., whose Senate Commerce Committee will soon begin hearings on small car imports.

Novato Planners Due Two Plans Change Requests

An amendment to the master plan of the Marin Highlands subdivision will be considered by the Novato Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Monday in the Community House.

The developer, Sono-Marin Builders, seeks to substitute building lots for a recreational area in the planned community on 250 acres west of Trumbull Avenue and south of Vineyard Road.

The commission will also continue a hearing on the revised master plan for 900 acres of the Bahia Subdivision at the end of Bugeia Lane. The Union Bank of Los Angeles, developer, seeks to change the size of a lagoon and to add apartment houses and townhouses to the site.

Other items to come before the commission include a request by Loyal Davis for a planned residential development on approximately 2.5 acres east of Railroad Avenue and south of Orange Avenue and one to rezone from commercial to multiple family 63,800 square feet east of Diablo Avenue south of Warner Creek by J. C. Youngberg.

City-County Meeting Slated

Marin's City-County Services Committee will meet at 8 today in Room 343 at the Civic Center to set duties for the year.

One of the items to be discussed is formation of a police services district in unincorporated areas which want urban-type police protection.

The committee has two representatives from the county and two from cities — Supervisors John F. McInnis and Peter R. Arrigoni and Councilman Douglas M. Merrill of Novato and Mayor Alfred J. Malvino of Larkspur.

Lagunitas Budget On Trustee Agenda

The preliminary 1969-70 budget for the Lagunitas School District will be discussed at a meeting of the school board at 7:30 p.m. today at Lagunitas School.

The board will also review building program guidelines.

Supervisors To Tackle Social Woes

How can Marin County best provide improved facilities and opportunities for disadvantaged groups through "social planning"?

This question will be tackled by the board of supervisors tomorrow at its regular all-day meeting, beginning at 9 a.m., at the Civic Center.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will recommend that major planning projects be circulated to other departments engaged in people services (such as social services, human rights, recreation) for their comments and recommendations. The project would then go to the planning commission.

Bruce will also recommend that Marin City organizations and the Marin Senior Citizens Coordinating Council be included in the citizens advisory committee that approves the workable program for community development. The workable program must be submitted to the federal government annually to qualify the county for federal funds for low income and elderly housing.

Also at tomorrow's meeting, the supervisors will get a request for more deputy clerks in Marin Municipal Court to meet an increasing workload.

The Marin Historical Society will ask for salvage and preservation of the adobe walls inside the historic Rancho Olompali mansion north of Novato, which was razed by fire on Feb. 2.

The parks and recreation commission will recommend a county resolution against overdevelopment of Angel Island.

The supervisors will tour Marin Juvenile Hall during the lunch hour.

In the afternoon, the board will proceed with abatement of nuisances and illegal structures on Richardson Bay at Waldo Point. Seven owners of houseboats and other structures, including Donlan Arques, who have been ordered to abate the nuisances, will get a hearing at 3 p.m.

Burglars Gather Varied Property

Three burglaries were reported to San Rafael police Friday.

A jar containing $100 in 50-cent pieces was taken from the home of Gordon E. Dresser, 40 Jewell Street, between 4:30 a.m. and 11 p.m.

James W. Good of 8 De La Guerra Road, told police that burglars with a thirst took seven bottles of champagne, two bottles of cointreau and four bottles of red wine, valued at $60, from his garage between 10:10 and 10:30 p.m.

Mink Coat, TV Sets Are Stolen

Sheriff's deputies reported that a color television set, a brown mink coat and ladies' and mens' suits, value unlisted, were taken from the home of Coulter McKeever, 53 Moncada Way, Bayside Acres, Thursday.

The burglary, which occurred while the McKeevers were vacationing, was reported by Ralph L. Schooling, the caretaker, deputies reported.

Clocks Taken

Larry Adams, 10 Baker Court, Petaluma, reported that jewelry, clocks and a lighter, their value unspecified, were stolen from his home during the weekend. Police said there were no signs of forcible entry.

Charles Michals Is 'Man Of Year'

Charles Michals of Greenbrae was named "Man of the Year of the Marin Republican Council" Saturday night at the council's annual membership dinner dance at the Meadow Club, Fairfax.

Mchals, a public relations executive with a chemical company in San Francisco, was given a plaque by council president Henry J. Broderick of Tiburon. Michals is chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee.

More than 200 persons attended the dinner.

Recreation Report Due Board Review

A report on recreational use of high school facilities is to be presented to the San Rafael Board of Education at 6 p.m. tomorrow at the Administration Building, Third and E streets, San Rafael.

The board also will consider adopting a revised policy on exchanging teachers with other districts, which would permit exchanges with foreign countries.

Market Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Used Volkswagens are being sold to U.S. customers as new cars in a "multimillion-dollar black market," according to Ralph Nader, the market place militant. Nader made the charge in a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., whose Senate Commerce Committee will soon begin hearings on small car imports.

Tam Basketballers Waiting To Ambush Redwood

An ambush could be the offing for Redwood High School's high-flying basketball team when it visits Mill Valley tomorrow afternoon for a date with dangerous Tamalpais High in one of the feature battles of a four-game Marin County Athletic League schedule.

The other big game finds Terra Linda's Trojans fighting for survival at Novato High in a game that the Trojans must win. Both games are at 4 p.m.

In a pair of night games, San Marin opens its very own gymnasium against Marin Catholic at Novato at 7 o'clock and Drake visits San Rafael, also at 7.

Redwood, after losing its first game, 56-55 to San Rafael, has cut a devasting swath through the league, knocking off contenders Terra Linda, Novato and San Rafael in succession to wind up on top of the league standings with a 7-1 won-lost record.

But Tamalpais, with a deceptive 4-4 mark, could provide trouble. The Giants have had their problems winning in Mill Valley and they'll more than likely run into a slower game than they're used to playing.

Amazingly accurate shooting and good height have been the Giants' mainstays. As a team, they're shooting 45 per cent from the field, with Jerry Piro, John Boro and sophomore Bill Challender all hitting over 50 per cent. Challender, and Pete Webb are both 6 feet, 6 inches tall.

The Indians play a steady kind of ball, with balanced scoring and good defense the watchwords.

The Novato-Terra Linda games shapes up as a sheer battle of survival, with neither team being able to afford a loss, especially the Trojans. Terra Linda is not 5-3 in league play, the Hornets are 6-2. A loss by the Trojans would virtually knock them out of the race. A loss by the Hornets would seriously hurt their chances.

The Hornets have been a one-two team, relying heavily on Steve McNally and Ed Herrnberger. The pair split 50 points in an 80-64 win over Drake last Friday.

Terra Linda has a little more balance, but the clutch player is Pat Purcell, top scorer in the league with a 20.8 average. Mike Timmel, Mike Pedan and Bob Nadell can all score but are inconsistent. And the Trojans will probably keep a close eye on soph Dana La Ferriere, who scored 18 points in Novato's early win over Terra Linda.

San Rafael could once again have its hands full trying to stop the erratic but never dull Drake Pirates. The Bulldogs, 5-3 in league play, must win this one, but they'll have to slow down top Drake ace Clark Jamison, fifth among league scorers.

Marin Catholic, fresh off an 54-53 upset win over Tamalpais, will gun for its third loop victory over winless San Marin.

Mike Murray, Steve Tellender and Shamus O'Reilly pace the 'Cats while Gary Howard is the only steady scorer for San Marin.

New N.L. Schedule Has Me Confused

BACK TO SCHOOL — After studying the 1969 National League baseball schedule, released yesterday, I am more confused than ever and I hope the national pastime's new commissioner, Bowie Kuhn, knows more about the geographical makeup of these United States than did his predecessor, General Electric . . . or whatever his name was.

Because the N.L has expanded to 12 cities (welcome Montreal and San Diego), it has been split into two divisions for the first time in its 94-year history. Winners of each division will meet in a five-game playoff to determine the league's representative in the World Series.

Which is fine, except the planners didn't think very clearly when they drew up the Eastern and Western divisions. In the East are Chicago, Montreal, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and St. Louis while the Western Division will be composed of Houston, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Cincinnati, San Deigo and San Francisco.

What Is West Of What?

The last time I checked my trusty Rand-McNally coloring book, Cincinnati and Atlanta of the Western Division were located EAST of Chicago and St. Louis of the Eastern Division. Or if you look at it from another angle, St. Louis and Chicago are WEST of Cincy and Atlanta.

Anyway, it's terribly confussing, but I guess baseball is just keeping stride with the National Football League which somehow placed Atlanta, Ga. and Baltimore, Md., in the Coastal Division of its Western Conderence.

But, then again, baseball and football probably studied geography from the golf professors who scheduled the 1966 Western Amateur Golf Classic in — Pinehurst, North Carolina! Since the only thing North Carolina is West of the Atlantic Ocean, the sponsors wriggled out of their geographical embarrassment by explaining the Pinehurts Country Club is located six miles west of U.S.Highway 1 in North Carolina.

It's Topsy-Turvy World

Go west, young man, and you may wind up in the Atlantic Ocean.

MEMORY LANE — After reading the I-J account of former major league pitcher Tony Freitas' recent induction into the Marin County Hall of Fame, Mrs. Harriett McKay Massoni of 247 Santa Margarita Drive, San Rafael recalled her childhood friendship with Tony in Mill Valley.

"I still remember the day — oh, I was 11 or 12 years old," she said, "that Tony was teasing me and chasing me around the neighborhood. I picked up a rock and just threw it back over my shoulder and it hit him on the head. '(The original beanball, thrown by a girl, yet!)

Tony Was A Seals Killer

"Also, I thought you would be interested to know that my brother, James T. McKay, who now lives in Santa Barbara, took Tony to his first professional baseball game to see the Seals play way back in the 1920s."

How ironical because years later, when he was ace pitcher of the Sacramento Solons, Freitas was known throughout the Pacific Coast League as the Seals Killer.

Recalled Walter Mails, another old time lefty, "I don't think the Seals ever beat Freitas. He had uncanny success against San Francisco with his slow, tantalizing curve balls. He could just throw his glove out on the mound and the Seals would roll over dead."

Tars Stun DeAnza Quint

By KIMO CAMPBELL

Playing a superb all-around game throughout, the College of Marin basketball team destroyed DeAnza College of Cupertino 77-63 in a key Camino Norte Conference game before about 250 fans in Kentfield Saturday night.

Outjumping the taller Dons time and again, the Mariners' front line stalwarts — Pat Schafer, Tom Seidenberg, Ches Bornia, Bob Tait, and Gary Hanson — clobbered DeAnza under the boards, capturing 50 rebounds to just 33 for the visitors. Schafer had 17 rebounds and 26 points to lead both clubs.

With the win, Marin now has a 5-2 win-loss record in the CNC, behind unbeaten Contra Costa College of San Pablo (7-0 in the league, 21-3 overall). The Dons are now 15-8, 4-3 in the conference, and will probably drop several notches from last week's number 16 ranking in the state.

After DeAnza had tied the game early at 5-5, baskets by Seidenberg, Schafer and Andre Horn put the Tars ahead for good. Seidenberg roamed at will under the basket, canning 14 points before intermission. Schafer had nine, and with both aiding Bornia on rebounding, the Tars had a 30-21 lead at the break, while DeAnza ace John Seraceno was saddled with four fouls.

The Dons got seven straight points in the first moments of the second half to come within six, 34-28, but Marin turned on the gas again and was in control the rest of the way. Seraceno, the six-foot-six Don forward, fouled out with 12 minutes to go, having scored but one field goal. John Dybvig and Bob Van Hoy followed Seraceno to the bench a bit later, and the Tars coasted in as Schafer got 17 points in the half.

Marin shot 46 per cent from the floor to the visitors' 27 per cent, and outplayed the taller DeAnzans on defense as well as offense.

With one big win under their belts, the Tars must face dangerous West Valley College in Campbell Wednesday night as they continue to play catch-up to Contra Costa. Since they have no league games next weekend, the only action the Kentfield five will have will be against the Stanford frosh at Palo Alto, Saturday night in the New Roscoe Maples Pavilion.

Warriors Tip Sonics In Thriller

ATLANTA (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors find themselves in third place of the National Basketball Association's Western Division as they travel to Atlanta to tackle the second-place Hawks tomorrow night.

Jeff Mullins' two free throws with one second left yesterday at Seattle gave the Warriors a 121-120 victory over the Sonics and pushed them up from fourth place as San Diego lost to Milwaukee.

Mullins led all scorers with 34 points and his free throws iced the game at 121-118. The officials allowed a basket by Seattle's Bob Rule at the buzzer.

Rule led his team with 31.

Six technical fouls were called in the game — played before 7,545 — and officials sent Seattle's John Tresvant and Sonics' trainer Jack Curran to the dressing room.

Fouls were called 59 times and the Warriors got 57 free throws, making 43 of them.

Nate Thurmond backed up Mullins with 20 points. former Stanford star Art Harris scored 23 for the Sonics.

Canadian Pair Avert U.S. Sweep In Figure Skating

The Syracuse University pair's campaign to notice the importance of dance, now that Peggy Fleming no longer dominates U.S. figure skating, suffered a setback Saturday night. At the North American Figure Skating Championships they were upset by Bruce Lennie and Donna Taylor of Toronto.

Lennie, 23, and Miss Taylor, 18, fell 4.7 points short of Sladky and Miss Schwomeyer but received the dance title because they got more over-all first-place votes in the three-day competition.

Pleasing a crowd of 9,089 with their black and pink outfits and their artful if not tricky, skating, Lennie and Miss Taylor averted what loomed as the United States' first sweep in the competition since 1951. Canada took all four titles in 1963.

Tim Wood, not showing the effects of a 100-degree temperature from a cold, received first-place votes from all seven judges in free skating to take the men's title over Jay Humphry of Vancouver, B.C.

Tiny Janet Lynn, 15, of Rockford, Ill. narrowly defeated Karen Magnussen, 16, of Vancouver, in the women's singles Friday night.

Sladky will be graduated from Syracuse in June with a degree in chemistry but says, "I'll probably just be a figure skating teacher." He wants the dance made a part of the Olympic competition.

"The audiences seem to like the dances more, especially the more mature audiences.

"I think it's more exacting. You're tense all the time and you have to skate on your toes more. However, the pairs is probably the most physically demanding."

Sladky, who "sort of fell into" the dance routine, says most skaters can compete in singles, pairs or dance.

The North American title was "the greatest victory yet" for Lennie and Miss Taylor, who have been skating together for only 2' years.

Wood, a 21-year-old pre-law student at John Carroll University in Cleveland, said he felt weak. But he still performed a triple-toed loop and a triple Salchow.

John Misha Petkevich of Great Falls, Mont., was third.

Wood, a silver medalist in the 1968 Olympics, took a 70-point margin over Humphry into the men's free skating, and came out with an 84-point margin.

Gary Visconti of Detroit, the North American men's winner in 1965, finished fourth.

S.F. State Tops Sonoma Quintet

Sonoma State lost its seventh Far Western Conference basketball game of the season Saturday, dropping an 87-68 verdict at San Francisco State.

The Gators, leading the FWC with a 7-0 mark, broke from a 12-12 tie in the early going to win easily.

Ray Solomon had 30 points and game scoring honors for Sonoma State, now 8-10 on the season.

Bruins Rally To Tie Seal Hockeymen, 3-3

OAKLAND (AP) — As far as the Boston Bruins are concerned, Oakland is the most unpopular team in the National Hockey league.

The Bruins have been beaten only once since a 3-1 loss to the Seals Christmas night, and in a later meeting, the teams tied 3-3.

They tied 3-3 again last night in Boston. The Bruins who lead the NHL East Division, came from behind with two third-period goals by Derek Sanderson and Ken Hodge.

The Seals, who defeated Toronto 4-1 Saturday night after beating Montreal Wednesday night, play their fourth straight East Division team Wednesday night at the Oakland Arena when they meet the New York Rangers.

The tie before 7,704 who defied a driving snowstorm, solidified the Seals' hold on second place in the West Division, as third-place Los Angeles lost to Detroit 3-0.

Wayne Cashman sent the Bruins into a first-period lead when he bounced in a rebound off his first shot at Smith.

Oakland struck twice with 32 seconds early in the second period as Earl Ingarfield knocked in a deflected shot for his ninth goal and Mike Laughton tipped in a pass for his 14th goal of the season.

The Seals made it 3-1 in the opening seconds of the third period as Carol Vadnais' slap shot caromed off teammate Gerry Ehman into the net.

Casper Charges To Golf Victory, $20,000 Prize

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—Billy Casper finally got off the launching pay and onto the victory stand. A position he occupied six times in golf in 1968.

A nonwinner in this new season, Casper forged from behind in the final round to capture the $122,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic yesterday at the par 36-36—72 Indian Wells Country Club.

The 37-year-old Californian pocketed $20,000 a nice start in a bid to repeat as the game's leading money winner. He was tops with $205,000 last year.

A last-round six-under par 66 for a 90-hole score of 345-15 under par for the marathon—was three shots in front of Dave Hill's 348 last round 66. Hill, from Evergreen, Colo., won his second largest purse, $11,400.

Such stars as defending champion Arnold Palmer, a former winner, Jack Nicklaus, as well as U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, did not fare well on the bright and sunny day.

Never serious threats, Nicklaus had a final 69 for 345 and $1,350 Trevino 71 for 353 and $1,800 and Palmer 70 for 356 and $755.

Casper and the sentimental favorite of the show, Art Wall Jr., rounded the turn into the final nine holes all even.

Wall, the 1959 Masters champion and one of the tigers of the 50s, began to wilt and Casper virtually settled it all with an eagle 3 on the 478-yard 14th hole Billy hit a No. 4 wood 25 feet from the cup and sank it.

It was a breeze on in but Casper, a determined guy, went for another eagle 3 on the last green from 45 feet. The ball lagged up short three feet and he closed out with a birdie.

"My goal was to get off to a good start," said Casper. "At no time later did I ever have it in mind to play conservatively. I've lost quite a few tournaments playing that way. I was shooting for birdies from start to finish."

The most spectacular round was the 33-29—62 by former amateur champion Deane Beman. Playing the back nine first, Beman registered five birdies and an eagle 3 on the 14th for his 29. A 45-yard strike with a pitching wedge produced the eagle.

Beman, of Louisville, Ky., said:

"It was my best round since I turned pro. I played like a lot of us practice on the driving range

Saijo Retains Title; Gomez To Retire Soon

TOKYO (AP) — Pedro Gomez of Venezuela, beaten in his challenge to wrest the world featherweight boxing title from Japan's Shozo Saijo, said today he probably will retire from the ring.

But, Gomez said, he expects to have three or four more fights then retire—probably in December. He said he hopes to get another crack at Saijo, who retained his World Boxing Association crown.

Saijo, making his first defense of the crown he won from Californian Raul Rojas last September, piled up a big early edge and withstood Gomez' late surge to earn a unanimous decision last night.

There were no knockdowns in the 15-round fight before a crowd of about 6,000. The 22-year-old champion, 19-5-2, weighed 125½ pounds and Gomez, 22-2-1, scaled 123¼.

The Dons got seven straight points in the first moments of the second half to come within six, 34-28, but Marin turned on the gas again and was in control the rest of the way. Seraceno, the six-foot-six Don forward, fouled out with 12 minutes to go, having scored but one field goal. John Dybvig and Bob Van Hoy followed Seraceno to the bench a bit later, and the Tars coasted in as Schafer got 17 points in the half.

Marin shot 46 per cent from the floor to the visitors' 27 per cent, and outplayed the taller DeAnzans on defense as well as offense.

With one big win under their belts, the Tars must face dangerous West Valley College in Campbell Wednesday night as they continue to play catch-up to Contra Costa. Since they have no league games next weekend, the only action the Kentfield five will have will be against the Stanford frosh at Palo Alto, Saturday night in the New Roscoe Maples Pavilion.

Warriors Tip Sonics In Thriller

ATLANTA (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors find themselves in third place of the National Basketball Association's Western Division as they travel to Atlanta to tackle the second-place Hawks tomorrow night.

Jeff Mullins' two free throws with one second left yesterday at Seattle gave the Warriors a 121-120 victory over the Sonics and pushed them up from fourth place as San Diego lost to Milwaukee.

Mullins led all scorers with 34 points and his free throws iced the game at 121-118. The officials allowed a basket by Seattle's Bob Rule at the buzzer.

Rule led his team with 31.

Six technical fouls were called in the game — played before 7,545 — and officials sent Seattle's John Tresvant and Sonics' trainer Jack Curran to the dressing room.

Fouls were called 59 times and the Warriors got 57 free throws, making 43 of them.

Nate Thurmond backed up Mullins with 20 points. former Stanford star Art Harris scored 23 for the Sonics.

Canadian Pair Avert U.S. Sweep In Figure Skating

The Syracuse University pair's campaign to notice the importance of dance, now that Peggy Fleming no longer dominates U.S. figure skating, suffered a setback Saturday night. At the North American Figure Skating Championships they were upset by Bruce Lennie and Donna Taylor of Toronto.

Lennie, 23, and Miss Taylor, 18, fell 4.7 points short of Sladky and Miss Schwomeyer but received the dance title because they got more over-all first-place votes in the three-day competition.

Pleasing a crowd of 9,089 with their black and pink outfits and their artful if not tricky, skating, Lennie and Miss Taylor averted what loomed as the United States' first sweep in the competition since 1951. Canada took all four titles in 1963.

Tim Wood, not showing the effects of a 100-degree temperature from a cold, received first-place votes from all seven judges in free skating to take the men's title over Jay Humphry of Vancouver, B.C.

Tiny Janet Lynn, 15, of Rockford, Ill. narrowly defeated Karen Magnussen, 16, of Vancouver, in the women's singles Friday night.

Sladky will be graduated from Syracuse in June with a degree in chemistry but says, "I'll probably just be a figure skating teacher." He wants the dance made a part of the Olympic competition.

"The audiences seem to like the dances more, especially the more mature audiences.

"I think it's more exacting. You're tense all the time and you have to skate on your toes more. However, the pairs is probably the most physically demanding."

Sladky, who "sort of fell into" the dance routine, says most skaters can compete in singles, pairs or dance.

The North American title was "the greatest victory yet" for Lennie and Miss Taylor, who have been skating together for only 2' years.

Wood, a 21-year-old pre-law student at John Carroll University in Cleveland, said he felt weak. But he still performed a triple-toed loop and a triple Salchow.

John Misha Petkevich of Great Falls, Mont., was third.

Wood, a silver medalist in the 1968 Olympics, took a 70-point margin over Humphry into the men's free skating, and came out with an 84-point margin.

Gary Visconti of Detroit, the North American men's winner in 1965, finished fourth.

S.F. State Tops Sonoma Quintet

Sonoma State lost its seventh Far Western Conference basketball game of the season Saturday, dropping an 87-68 verdict at San Francisco State.

The Gators, leading the FWC with a 7-0 mark, broke from a 12-12 tie in the early going to win easily.

Ray Solomon had 30 points and game scoring honors for Sonoma State, now 8-10 on the season.

Casper Charges To Golf Victory, $20,000 Prize

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—Billy Casper finally got off the launching pay and onto the victory stand. A position he occupied six times in golf in 1968.

A nonwinner in this new season, Casper forged from behind in the final round to capture the $122,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic yesterday at the par 36-36—72 Indian Wells Country Club.

The 37-year-old Californian pocketed $20,000 a nice start in a bid to repeat as the game's leading money winner. He was tops with $205,000 last year.

A last-round six-under par 66 for a 90-hole score of 345-15 under par for the marathon—was three shots in front of Dave Hill's 348 last round 66. Hill, from Evergreen, Colo., won his second largest purse, $11,400.

Such stars as defending champion Arnold Palmer, a former winner, Jack Nicklaus, as well as U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, did not fare well on the bright and sunny day.

Never serious threats, Nicklaus had a final 69 for 345 and $1,350 Trevino 71 for 353 and $1,800 and Palmer 70 for 356 and $755.

Casper and the sentimental favorite of the show, Art Wall Jr., rounded the turn into the final nine holes all even.

Wall, the 1959 Masters champion and one of the tigers of the 50s, began to wilt and Casper virtually settled it all with an eagle 3 on the 478-yard 14th hole Billy hit a No. 4 wood 25 feet from the cup and sank it.

It was a breeze on in but Casper, a determined guy, went for another eagle 3 on the last green from 45 feet. The ball lagged up short three feet and he closed out with a birdie.

"My goal was to get off to a good start," said Casper. "At no time later did I ever have it in mind to play conservatively. I've lost quite a few tournaments playing that way. I was shooting for birdies from start to finish."

The most spectacular round was the 33-29—62 by former amateur champion Deane Beman. Playing the back nine first, Beman registered five birdies and an eagle 3 on the 14th for his 29. A 45-yard strike with a pitching wedge produced the eagle.

Beman, of Louisville, Ky., said:

"It was my best round since I turned pro. I played like a lot of us practice on the driving range

Saijo Retains Title; Gomez To Retire Soon

TOKYO (AP) — Pedro Gomez of Venezuela, beaten in his challenge to wrest the world featherweight boxing title from Japan's Shozo Saijo, said today he probably will retire from the ring.

But, Gomez said, he expects to have three or four more fights then retire—probably in December. He said he hopes to get another crack at Saijo, who retained his World Boxing Association crown.

Saijo, making his first defense of the crown he won from Californian Raul Rojas last September, piled up a big early edge and withstood Gomez' late surge to earn a unanimous decision last night.

There were no knockdowns in the 15-round fight before a crowd of about 6,000. The 22-year-old champion, 19-5-2, weighed 125½ pounds and Gomez, 22-2-1, scaled 123¼.

Ex-Champ Servo Dies Of Cancer

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Marty Servo, former world welterweight boxing champion, died yesterday after a long bout with cancer which kept him bedridden the last year of his life. He was 49.

Servo, born in Schenectady, N.Y., came to the southern Colorado town after his retirment from fighting in March, 1946. For six years, he battled cancer but grimly conceded it was a losing fight.

In a telephone conversation last November with the sports editor of a Schenectady newspaper, Servo said:

"This is one I'm going to lose. When you feel this way, you have to die . . . Did you think the day would come when I would admit defeat to anyting?"

Servo held the crown only briefly. He knocked out Fred "Red" Cochrane on Feb. 1, 1946 in Madison Square Garden to win the title but on his next fight, a nontitle match with middleweight Rocky Graziano, he was knocked out. He announced his retirement shortly after.

Relatives here said Servo had 10 operations in the past five years in an attempt to stop cancer. He is survived by his widow, Carol, one son, two daughters and a grandchild.

Burial will be here Wednesday.

Three Blazers Crack Records In Track Meet

Mike Wood, Larry Stump and Aaron Collier broke records Saturday when the Mill Valley Blazers competed in their first official Amateur Athletic Union age group track and field meet at San Mateo College.

Wood, competing in the 14-15 age division, set Northern California AAU records in the 440-yard run (57 seconds) and the shot put (45 feet, 2 inches) and also placed second in the 50-yard dash to win high point honors for the Mill Valley team.

Stump also won two events in the 12-13 age group, setting a Northern California AAU record in the 440 at 63 seconds and winning the long jump.

Collier, running in the 9 and under division, set his record in the 880-yard run at 2 minutes, 53 seconds. He also placed third in the 440.

The Mill Valley team, open to boys from throughout Marin County, is sponsored by the Mill Valley Recreation Department. The Blazers will compete in another AAU meet next Saturday at Foothill Junior College in Los Altos.

Novato Wrestlers Win

5 Straight League Victories

Novato High School's wrestling team, with seven individual crowns, swept to its fifth straight Marin County Athletic League Wrestling Tournament championships at San Rafael High School Saturday.

The Hornets piled up 139 points to outdistance runnerup Tamalpais, which has 107 points. From there, it dropped down to Terra Linda with 78 points; San Rafael, 66; San Marin, 51, and Redwood, 46.

Novato, as expected, was especially tough in the middle and lower middle weights. Beginning with the 115-pound division, where Kirt Donaldson won by a fall over Ron Engel of Terra Linda, right through the 136-pound division, Novato swept four straight titles.

Ex-Champ Servo Dies Of Cancer

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Marty Servo, former world welterweight boxing champion, died yesterday after a long bout with cancer which kept him bedridden the last year of his life. He was 49.

Servo, born in Schenectady, N.Y., came to the southern Colorado town after his retirement from fighting in March, 1946. For six years, he battled cancer but grimly conceded it was a losing fight.

In a telephone conversation last November with the sports editor of a Schenectady newspaper, Servo said:

"This is one I'm going to lose. When you feel this way, you have to die . . . Did you think the day would come when I would admit defeat to anyting?"

Servo held the crown only briefly. He knocked out Fred "Red" Cochrane on Feb. 1, 1946 in Madison Square Garden to win the title but on his next fight, a nontitle match with middleweight Rocky Graziano, he was knocked out. He announceed his retirement shortly after.

Relatives here said Servo had 10 operations in the past five years in an attempt to stop cancer. He is survived by his widow, Carol, one son, two daughters and a grandchild.

Burial will be here Wednesday.

Three Blazers Crack Records In Track Meet

Mike Wood, Larry Stump and Aaron Collier broke records Saturday when the Mill Valley Blazers competed in their first official Amateur Athletic Union age group track and field meet at San Mateo College.

Wood, competing in the 14-15 age division, set Northern California AAU records in the 440-yard run (57 seconds) and the shot put (45 feet, 2 inches) and also placed second in the 50-yard dash to win high point honors for the Mill Valley team.

Stump also won two events in the 12-13 age group, setting a Northern California AAU record in the 440 at 63 seconds and winning the long jump.

Collier, running in the 9 and under division, set his record in the 880-yard run at 2 minutes, 53 seconds. He also placed third in the 440.

The Mill Valley team, open to boys from throughout Marin County, is sponsored by the Mill Valley Recreation Department. The Blazers will compete in another AAU meet next Saturday at Foothill Junior College in Los Altos.

Rod Laver Wins Net Tourney

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rod Laver has a new cure for a backache—five games of tennis.

Laver, a 30-year-old Australian, was due on court yesterday for his best three-of-five set final against countryman Tony Roche in the Philadelphia International Indoor Open Tennis Tournament. But Laver's back ached. It seemed he pulled a muscle a few days ago and it was acting up.

So Laver took a hot shower. Then he had some linament applied. That didn't help much. The final match got under way and Laver looked like a guy with a backache.

Roche, who could be the second best tennis player in the world—Laver is acknowledged No. 1—zipped to a 4-1 lead. The 23-year-old Roche appeared ready to tear up his fellow Aussie for the third time in their last four meetings.

Suddenly, the tide changed. Laver began to hit the shots that made him the No. 1 pro money winner in 1968 with earnings of $70,359. Roche appeared to press a little. The strokes he had been scoring with earlier now were just out.

Laver tied it at 4-4, and went on to take the set and the match by 7-5, 6-4, 6-4. His efforts earned him the $7,000 top prize, while Roche soothed his own pain with $4,000 second money.

"I've got a little history of a back condition," Laver confided. "It's a bit of a problem, though nothing to worry about. I've got be a little careful getting the back warm. That's why I'm a slow starter. After a few games it 'frees' up, and I can play completely normal."

This first world's indoor open tournament was somewhat of a lark for Laver's powerful game. He sailed through the five-day affair without losing a set, defeating Francis Pierre Barthes, Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, Charles Pasarell of Santurce, P.R., and Ken Rosewall enroute to the top money.

In the doubles final, Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., teamed with The Netherlands' Tom Okker to defeat the Australian pair of John Newcombe and Roche 8-6, 6-4. The winners earned $700 apiece and the losers, $300 each.

Washington Cagers To Get Another Chance At UCLA

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We opened our conference season in the state of Washington and I guess we were a bit too confident because we lost both games up there," explained John Wooden recently of a season in the past.

When Wooden's UCLA basketball team travels to the state of Washington for games next Saturday and Monday, overconfidence probably won't be a hard illness to cure. The Bruins have already tasted half a defeat.

UCLA is still the nation's top-ranked team after weekend Pacific-8 triumphs over Washington, 62-51, and Washington State, 108-80. But Washington scared the Bruins.

The Huskies, playing Tex Winter's careful offensive game, took only "sure" shots and led 33-29 at halftime last Friday night. It may have made this weekend's game a bit easier.

"The game was good for us," Wooden said. "It came at a time when we may have subconsciously taken our opponents too lightly. Now we realize that things don't fall into place for us so easily."

In other Pac-8 games last weekend, Southern Cal beat Washington 69-56 after losing to the Cougars 72-70 Friday night in overtime; California beat Oregon State 69-57 but lost to surprising Oregon, 84-73, and Stanford lost two games by a total of three points: 74-72 to Oregon and 63-62 to Oregon State.

Ron Taylor aided USC by clogging the middle in Saturday's victory over Washington. The Trojans grabbed 20 more rebounds than the Huskies and used the 22 points of Ernie Powell and 18 of Mack Calvin to post their third Pac-8 victory in six games.

California hit a cold spell Saturday night and when it was over, Oregon had scored 16 straight, assumed a nine-point lead and won in a walk. Jackie Ridgle scored 30 for the Golden Bears in a losing cause and reserve Leonard Jackson got a career high of 17 for the Ducks.

UCLA takes on Washington State this Saturday night in Pullman and then faces the tough Huskies again next Monday in Seattle. Southern Cal plays both Washington teams on alternate nights.

California and Stanford host Oregon schools, Cal playing Oregon's Ducks and Stanford playing Oregon State's Beavers on Saturday night.

It's Battle For WCAC Second Spot

Santa Barbara, San Jose and University of Pacific are tied for second in the WCAC standings at 5-2. Santa Clara leads the league and is undefeated in 20 games.

Santa Barbara joined San Jose and Pacific in the second place race Saturday by defeating St. Mary's 78-70 on Steve Rippe's 20 points while Pacific clipped San Jose 76-68.

Pacific guard John Phillips was the key to his team's victory as he sparked a late rally when San Jose held a 54-49 lead with six minutes left.

Phillips finished with 12 points. Lanky Tom Jones, 6-foot-10 Pacific center, scored 27. Coby Dietrick led San Jose with 23.

Third-ranked Santa Clara was dealt a blow to its NCAA hopes when high-scoring forward Bud Ogden sprained his ankle in the first half of an 88-60 victory over Pepperdine.

His brother Ralph and center Dennis Awtrey scored 17 apiece for the Broncos.

University of San Francisco claimed its first WCAC victory by beating Loyola 70-61 as USF's Rich Schaer hit on 11 straight free throws in the final 10 minutes.

Schaer led USF with 26 points and teammate Pete Cross contributed 20. Rich Dixon led Loyola with 19.

USF takes on Santa Clara at San Jose Saturday. In other games, Loyola will be at Pepperdine and St. Mary's plays at UOP.

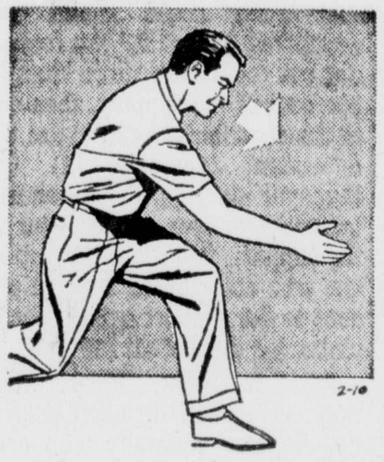
Bowling Tips

By DON CARTER



I may sound like a golf instructor now, but keeping the head down is just as important on the bowling lane as on the links. If you have a tendency to look too quickly at the pins after releasing the ball, you'll probably miss your spot and you'll come up too quickly.

Good-Bye Wisconsin, Says Vince Lombardi

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Vince Lombardi, the iron man of the Green Bay Packers, choked with emotion as he bade farewell to Wisconsin with a promise to remain a loyal friend of the team that he led to greatness.

Lombardi, named last week to be coach, chief executive and part owner of the Washington Redskins after a decade with the Packers, was honored at the first dinner of the Wisconsin Pro Football Writers Association.

"I have said before that I could be loyal and a friend while not necessarily being here," Lombardi said. "I will be loyal—I will be your friend—and I hope that you will be mine. I will say, too, that the Pack will be back."

Lombardi, who stepped down as Packer coach a year ago while staying on as general manager, recounted to 700 persons the circumstances that led to his decision to join the Redskins.

That decision, he said, was predicated upon the opportunity to gain equity, but mostly to get back into coaching.

"I can say I have the best job in football," he said. "I was very unhappy out of coaching, even though a year ago I had every intention of staying out of it. As you can well understand, to come back as coach here would have been grossly unfair to players and coaches alike. I did what I had to do."

Lombardi's voice broke as he spoke of George Halas, founder-owner of the Chicago Bears, who was honored in absentia for distinguished service to football. Halas underwent surgery in England two months ago and is under doctors' orders not to travel.

Tars' Freshmen Breeze To Win

Paul Leete scored 26 points to lead five in double figures as the College of Marin Frosh romped over Letterman's Hospital 92-64 Saturday night in Kentfield.

Art Goepp had 15 points and 13 rebounds, Bill Hoge and Terry Bennett 14 makers apiece, and Gerald Battle II as the Tarbabes improved their record of 9-5 for the season. Coaches Jim Halm and John Panagakis gave up a player to the Hospital team, which arrived a man short.

Marin Frosh scoring: Leete 11-4-26; Goepp 7-1-15; Black 1-0-2; B. Smith 1-0-2; Battle 5-1-11; Cupples 4-0-8; Hoge 7-0-14; Bennett 5-4-14. Totals: 41-10-92.

Letterman's Hospital scoring: Brown 8-4-20; Younger 5-4-14; Carmody 7-1-15; Failla 4-4-12; Schaefer 0-3-3. Totals: 24-16-64.

Third-ranked Santa Clara was dealt a blow to its NCAA hopes when high-scoring forward Bud Ogden sprained his ankle in the first half of an 88-60 victory over Pepperdine.

His brother Ralph and center Dennis Awtrey scored 17 apiece for the Broncos.

University of San Francisco claimed its first WCAC victory by beating Loyola 70-61 as USF's Rich Schaer hit on 11 straight free throws in the final 10 minutes.

Schaer led USF with 26 points and teammate Pete Cross contributed 20. Rich Dixon led Loyola with 19.

USF takes on Santa Clara at San Jose Saturday. In other games, Loyola will be at Pepperdine and St. Mary's plays at UOP.

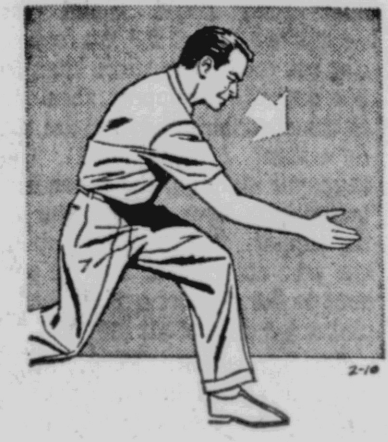
Bowling Tips

By DON CARTER



I may sound like a golf instructor now, but keeping the head down is just as important on the bowling lane as on the links. If you have a tendency to look too quickly at the pins after releasing the ball, you'll probably miss your spot and you'll come up too quickly.

Second Defeat For Swim Club

Despite three double winners, the San Rafael Swim Club lost its second straight dual swim meet of the season to Pleasant Hills Swim Club at Pleasant Hills Saturday.

Single winners were Linda Placak in girls 8-under; Bobby Placak, boys 10-under; Scott Hislop, boys 10-under; Tami McDuffie, girls 11-12; Leslie Bryans, girls 13-14, and Wendy Pederman, girls 15-16.

Good-Bye Wisconsin, Says Vince Lombardi

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Vince Lombardi, the iron man of the Green Bay Packers, choked with emotion as he bade farewell to Wisconsin with a promise to remain a loyal friend of the team that he led to greatness.

Lombardi, named last week to be coach, chief executive and part owner of the Washington Redskins after a decade with the Packers, was honored at the first dinner of the Wisconsin Pro Football Writers Association.

"I have said before that I could be loyal and a friend while not necessarily being here," Lombardi said. "I will be loyal—I will be your friend—and I hope that you will be mine. I will say, too, that the Pack will be back."

Lombardi, who stepped down as Packer coach a year ago while staying on as general manager, recounted to 700 persons the circumstances that led to his decision to join the Redskins.

That decision, he said, was predicated upon the opportunity to gain equity, but mostly to get back into coaching.

"I can say I have the best job in football," he said. "I was very unhappy out of coaching, even though a year ago I had every intention of staying out of it. As you can well understand, to come back as coach here would have been grossly unfair to players and coaches alike. I did what I had to do."

Lombardi's voice broke as he spoke of George Halas, founder-owner of the Chicago Bears, who was honored in absentia for distinguished service to football. Halas underwent surgery in England two months ago and is under doctors' orders not to travel.

Art Goepp had 15 points and 13 rebounds, Bill Hoge and Terry Bennett 14 makers apiece, and Gerald Battle II as the Tarbabes improved their record of 9-5 for the season. Coaches Jim Halm and John Panagakis gave up a player to the Hospital team, which arrived a man short.

Marin Frosh scoring: Leete 11-4-26; Goepp 7-1-15; Black 1-0-2; B. Smith 1-0-2; Battle 5-1-11; Cupples 4-0-8; Hoge 7-0-14; Bennett 5-4-14. Totals: 41-10-92.

Letterman's Hospital scoring: Brown 8-4-20; Younger 5-4-14; Carmody 7-1-15; Failla 4-4-12; Schaefer 0-3-3. Totals: 24-16-64.

Profitable Future In Technologies

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Some time ago on favorable news in more than one publication I bought EG&G and Gulton. I'd like your opinion on whether to hold or to take a loss. — V.Z.

A. If you are patient and don't need the capital these represent, I believe you'll be well rewarded by holding. Both now trade at the lower end of their 1968 price range and can be purchased by readers, who'll appriciate their singular skills and will not be bothered by above-average volatility. Both tend toward relatively high price-earnings multiples.

Fiscal 1968-69, ending Feb. 28, will be the first year the Gulton reports lowered earnings since 1963, though sales will probably top prior records by exceeding $100 million. Several temporary difficulties caused the earnings drop — a strike, relocation of one division, developmental costs of new products and less demand for aerospace and hi-fi items. Future prospects should improve from anticipated acquisitions, more aggressive commercial marketing and further new products. A larger stake in medical electronics and Gulton's lithium batteries for automobiles should not be overlooked.

EG&G is being publicized widely in connection with nuclear underground fracturing. As the one controlling agent of all blasting operations, so designated by the Atomic Energy Commission, the company should produce rapidly accelerating profits as the new industry becomes stabilized.

Q. I own some IBM and I am most discouraged to see quotations go down continuously. I anticipate receiving some money. Should I buy more IBM or other stocks? — M.S.

A. Whether to buy more IBM depends on the percentage of your capital already invested in this one issue. For long-term investors IBM is now trading at a reasonable multiple, although near-term prospects are clouded. The recent Justice Department suit — brought by the Johnson Administration — may be de-emphasized under President Nixon. Nevertheless, some changes in pricing policies will definitely come as a result of this and other suits pending against IBM. But divestiture or other extreme measures at this time look doubtful.

Topps And Trowsers To Open In Northgate Fashion Mall

A new store scheduled to open about the middle of March at Northgate Fashion Mall is called Topps and Trowsers.

This firm, according to president Harold Schwartz, was established last March and specializes in "coordinated sports wear." No suits or jackets are sold. Inventories are in the pants, shirts and sweaters line, with other related items.

Topps and Trowsers is leasing 3,000 square feet next to the Northgate Fashion Mall office and located near the City of Paris.

Headquarters are in the Serramonte Shopping Center, Daly City. Other stores are located at the Cannery on Leavenwoth Street, San Francisco and in Concord. An opening is also planned at El Cerrito.

INSURANCE BROKER Lee Ceccotti has opened a real estate business handling residential, commercial and income property and property management at this office at 645 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, under the name of Lee R. Ceccotti, Realtor. He will continue his life and general insurance business.

OTHER REAL ESTATE. Richard Gregory of Mill Valley has joined the staff of Frank Howard Allen and Co. of Mill Valley. He has been in Southern Marin real estate for the past six years, has a broker's license, notary public commission and is a candidate for designation as Certified Investment Broker with the National Association of Real Estate Brokers.

Another Attell has gone into the real estate business — this one is Peter Attell of San Rafael, who has joined Frank L. Bargalotti's office in San Anselmo. He is the younger brother of Mervyn Attell, with Gallagher-Sturiale Realty and is studying at College of Marin to get his broker's license.

If 1968 was a good year in Marin County real estate sales, 1969 should be better and measure up to expectations of $80 million for the 12 months. January got off to a good start with $6,155,676 in reported multiple listing sales, compared to the year-ago figure of $4,019,686. Total of sales completed in January amounted to $4,708,886, compared with $3,446,296 for the first month of 1968.

An educational and sales conference for local brokers and salesmen will be held Feb. 25 at El Rancho-Tropicana in Santa Rosa. The meeting is being cosponsored by the Marin County Real Estate Board and the California Real Estate Association.

NEW MANAGER of the F. W. Woolworth Co. store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center is Duane Nelson, once assistant manager here when the branch was opened in 1958. Since then he has managed two Napa stores and has been manager of the San Carlos branch since 1963.

He replaces Louis Ripperberge, who has been appointed of the Woolworth Store in Hilo, Hawaii.

NEWLY ASSOCIATED with the San Rafael law office of Bagshaw, Martinelli, Corrigan and Jordan (formerly Bagshaw, Martinelli, Weissich and Jordan) is Philip A. Torre of San Francisco. He is a graduate of Stanford University and the University of San Francisco School of Law. He was admitted to practice last month.

JAY HAYES of San Rafael has been appointed securities analyst at Investment Indicators Management Fund, based in San Rafael. He was formerly with Dempsey Tegler Co. of Los Angeles.

A NEW EXHIBIT at Redwood National Bank, San Rafael features the paintings of Orene Goldberg, who won honorable mention at the Fairfax and Novato art festivals in 1968. The show will continue through February.

Sloane Signs Lease For Northgate Store

W and J Sloane has signed a lease for a home furnishing store in the Northgate Fashion Mall.

The 125-year-old firm which operates 20 stores throughout the United States will open its 21st next to the Northgate Theater in August. The store is expected to cover from 30,000 to 40,000 square feet and will have entrances on the mall and also from the east parking area.

The lease was negotiated through Coldwell, Banker and Co., agent for the Northgate Fashion Mall, and Anderson Associates, San Francisco.

Part of the area to be occupied is already under roof and requires only interior finishing, but to acquire the full amount of space needed, an addition to the building will be constructed, permitting windows on three sides.

Edward R. Hill, vice president and West Coast manager in San Francisco, said the Northgate store will have a staff of 12, mostly sales personnel. Sloane's complete lines of furnishings will be carried, he said.

Sloane is headquartered in New Nork City and recently opened its 20th store in Garden City, Long Island. Five stores are now operated in the Bay Area.

The building and land was bought by Kettenhofen from William Winterburn of San Rafael. Sale price was not disclosed.

Kettenhofen said it will be operated in conjunction with the Industrial Center Building on Gate 5 Road, which he also owns, and is managed by his son, William. He said both buildings will be improved to attract tenants.

Bridge Bus Plan Airing Tomorrow

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors will hold a hearing on the Jenkins plan, which would put them in the bus commute business, at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Marin County Civic Center.

Also tomorrow, the bridge board's joint finance and rules and policy committee will meet at 10 a.m. in district offices at the toll plaza to consider sick leave credits for employees.

The insurance committee will meet at 10 a.m. Thursday to consider bids on several insurance policies.

INCOME TAX FACTS

Five Conditions Are Listed For Claiming Of Dependents

Wikel

How many dependents can you claim?

Each dependent must meet all five of the following conditions.

1. Dependent must have received over one-half of his support from you in 1968. (Or see below — multiple support agreement.)

2. Dependent did not have over $600 income in 1968, unless the dependent was your child or stepchild under 19 years of age, or if over 19 years of age, a full time student for at least five months, in which case the dependent child can earn any amount as long as you actually provide over one-half of the cost of support.

3. Dependent is not claimed by any other taxpayer and does not file a joint return with another taxpayer. For instance, do not list a dependent married daughter who files a joint return with her husband.

MUST BE CITIZEN

4. Dependent must be a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, The Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone.

5. Dependent must be closely related to you or be anyone else who meets requirements 1, 2, 3 and 4 above and had your home as his principal place of abode and was a member of your household, even if not related to you.

If the dependent has worked part time and earned less than $600 or was your child under 19, or over 19 and a student, and income tax was withheld from such earnings, the dependent should file a tax return to secure refund of the tax withheld.

This will in no way prevent you from also claiming the exemption for the dependent, provided, of course, that the dependent meets all five of the conditions.

OTHER AIDS

Also, if your dependent can qualify in all other ways except that you do not furnish over one-half of his support, then perhaps this will help you.

Where two or more persons contribute more than 50 per cent of the support of a dependent and each could claim the dependent except for the fact he did not contribute more than 50 per cent of the support, then one of the contributors can claim the dependent provided: (1) The taxpayer claiming the dependent contributed over 10 per cent of the support, and (2) Every other one who contributed over 10 per cent to the support agrees not to claim the dependent for 1968.

An agreement, Form 2120, must be signed by each person (other than yourself) who contributed more than 10 per cent to the support of the dependent. The agreement must be filed with your return claiming the deduction for the dependent.

Priest Starts A New Church

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Michel Colin, self-proclaimed Pope Clement XV, has founded "The New Church of Christ" in a drafty three-room apartment here.

Colin, 63, a French former priest, said Christ told him, "You will become a priest, then a bishop and finally pope."

Now known as the Antipope of Fatima, Colin met with newsmen accompanied by two of his cardinals. He wore purple robes and an ermine cape.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Profitable Future In Technologies

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Some time ago on favorable news in more than one publication I bought EG&G and Gulton. I'd like your opinion on whether to hold or to take a loss. — V.Z.

A. If you are patient and don't need the capital these represent, I believe you'll be well rewarded by holding. Both now trade at the lower end of their 1968 price range and can be purchased by readers, who'll appriciate their singular skills and will not be bothered by above-average volatility. Both tend toward relatively high price-earnings multiples.

Fiscal 1968-69, ending Feb. 28, will be the first year the Gulton reports lowered earnings since 1963, though sales will probably top prior records by exceeding $100 million. Several temporary difficulties caused the earnings drop — a strike, relocation of one division, developmental costs of new products and less demand for aerospace and hi-fi items. Future prospects should improve from anticipated acquisitions, more aggressive commercial marketing and further new products. A larger stake in medical electronics and Gulton's lithium batteries for automobiles should not be overlooked.

EG&G is being publicized widely in connection with nuclear underground fracturing. As the one controlling agent of all blasting operations, so designated by the Atomic Energy Commission, the company should produce rapidly accelerating profits as the new industry becomes stabilized.

Q. I own some IBM and I am most discouraged to see quotations go down continuously. I anticipate receiving some money. Should I buy more IBM or other stocks? — M.S.

A. Whether to buy more IBM depends on the percentage of your capital already invested in this one issue. For long-term investors IBM is now trading at a reasonable multiple, although near-term prospects are clouded. The recent Justice Department suit — brought by the Johnson Administration — may be de-emphasized under President Nixon. Nevertheless, some changes in pricing policies will definitely come as a result of this and other suits pending against IBM. But divestiture or other extreme measures at this time look doubtful.

Topps And Trowsers To Open In Northgate Fashion Mall

A new store scheduled to open about the middle of March at Northgate Fashion Mall is called Topps and Trowsers.

This firm, according to president Harold Schwartz, was established last March and specializes in "coordinated sports wear." No suits or jackets are sold. Inventories are in the pants, shirts and sweaters line, with other related items.

Topps and Trowsers is leasing 3,000 square feet next to the Northgate Fashion Mall office and located near the City of Paris.

Headquarters are in the Serramonte Shopping Center, Daly City. Other stores are located at the Cannery on Leavenwoth Street, San Francisco and in Concord. An opening is also planned at El Cerrito.

INSURANCE BROKER Lee Ceccotti has opened a real estate business handling residential, commercial and income property and property management at this office at 645 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, under the name of Lee R. Ceccotti, Realtor. He will continue his life and general insurance business.

Gregory

Attell

OTHER REAL ESTATE. Richard Gregory of Mill Valley has joined the staff of Frank Howard Allen and Co. of Mill Valley. He has been in Southern Marin real estate for the past six years, has a broker's license, notary public commission and is a candidate for designation as Certified Investment Broker with the National Association of Real Estate Brokers.

Another Attell has gone into the real estate business — this one is Peter Attell of San Rafael, who has joined Frank L. Bargalotti's ....office in San Anselmo. He is the younger brother of Mervyn Attell, with Gallagher-Sturiale Realty and is studying at College of Marin to get his broker's license.

If 1968 was a good year in Marin County real estate sales, 1969 should be better and measure up to expectations of $80 million for the 12 months. January got off to a good start with $6,155,676 in reported multiple listing sales, compared to the year-ago figure of $4,019,686. Total of sales completed in January amounted to $4,708,886, compared with $3,446,296 for the first month of 1968.

An educational and sales conference for local brokers and salesmen will be held Feb. 25 at El Rancho-Tropicana in Santa Rosa. The meeting is being co-sponsored by the Marin County Real Estate Board and the California Real Estate Association.

NEW MANAGER of the F. W. Woolworth Co. store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center is Duane Nelson, once assistant manager here when the branch was opened in 1958. Since then he has managed two Napa stores and has been manager of the San Carlos branch since 1963.

He replaces Louis Ripperberge, who has been appointed of the Woolworth Store in Hilo, Hawaii.

NEWLY ASSOCIATED with the San Rafael law office of Bagshaw, Martinelli, Corrigan and Jordan (formerly Bagshaw, Martinelli, Weissich and Jordan) is Philip A. Torre of San Francisco. He is a graduate of Stanford University and the University of San Francisco School of Law. He was admitted to practice last month.

JAY HAYES of San Rafael has been appointed securities analyst at Investment Indicators Management Fund, based in San Rafael. He was formerly with Dempsey Tegler Co. of Los Angeles.

A NEW EXHIBIT at Redwood National Bank, San Rafael features the paintings of Orene Goldberg, who won honorable mention at the Fairfax and Novato art festivals in 1968. The show will continue through February.

Sloane Signs Lease For Northgate Store

W and J Sloane has signed a lease for a home furnishing store in the Northgate Fashion Mall.

The 125-year-old firm which operates 20 stores throughout the United States will open its 21st next to the Northgate Theater in August. The store is expected to cover from 30,000 to 40,000 square feet and will have entrances on the mall and also from the east parking area.

The lease was negotiated through Coldwell, Banker and Co., agent for the Northgate Fashion Mall, and Anderson Associates, San Francisco.

Part of the area to be occupied is already under roof and requires only interior finishing, but to acquire the full amount of space needed, an addition to the building will be constructed, permitting windows on three sides.

Edward R. Hill, vice president and West Coast manager in San Francisco, said the Northgate store will have a staff of 12, mostly sales personnel. Sloane's complete lines of furnishings will be carried, he said.

Sloane is headquartered in New Nork City and recently opened its 20th store in Garden City, Long Island. Five stores are now operated in the Bay Area.

The structure, which once served as the Administration Building at Marinship, contains approximately 22,000 square feet of floor space and has more than an acre of offstreet parking. The building and land was bought by Kettenhofen from William Winterburn of San Rafael. Sale price was not disclosed.

Kettenhofen said it will be operated in conjunction with the Industrial Center Building on Gate 5 Road, which he also owns, and is managed by his son, William. He said both buildings will be improved to attract tenants.

Bridge Bus Plan Airing Tomorrow

Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District directors will hold a hearing on the Jenkins plan, which would put them in the bus commute business, at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Marin County Civic Center.

Also tomorrow, the bridge board's joint finance and rules and policy committee will meet at 10 a.m. in district offices at the toll plaza to consider sick leave credits for employees.

The insurance committee will meet at 10 a.m. Thursday to consider bids on several insurance policies.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Five Conditions Are Listed For Claiming Of Dependents

Wikel

How many dependents can you claim?

Each dependent must meet all five of the following conditions.

1. Dependent must have received over one-half of his support from you in 1968. (Or see below — multiple support agreement.)

2. Dependent did not have over $600 income in 1968, unless the dependent was your child or stepchild under 19 years of age, or if over 19 years of age, a full time student for at least five months, in which case the dependent child can earn any amount as long as you actually provide over one-half of the cost of support.

3. Dependent is not claimed by any other taxpayer and does not file a joint return with another taxpayer. For instance, do not list a dependent married daughter who files a joint return with her husband.

MUST BE CITIZEN

4. Dependent must be a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, The Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone.

5. Dependent must be closely related to you or be anyone else who meets requirements 1, 2, 3 and 4 above and had your home as his principal place of abode and was a member of your household, even if not related to you.

If the dependent has worked part time and earned less than $600 or was your child under 19, or over 19 and a student, and income tax was withheld from such earnings, the dependent should file a tax return to secure refund of the tax withheld.

This will in no way prevent you from also claiming the exemption for the dependent, provided, of course, that the dependent meets all five of the conditions.

OTHER AIDS

Also, if your dependent can qualify in all other ways except that you do not furnish over one-half of his support, then perhaps this will help you.

Where two or more persons contribute more than 50 per cent of the support of a dependent and each could claim the dependent except for the fact he did not contribute more than 50 per cent of the support, then one of the contributors can claim the dependent provided: (1) The taxpayer claiming the dependent contributed over 10 per cent of the support, and (2) Every other one who contributed over 10 per cent to the support agrees not to claim the dependent for 1968.

An agreement, Form 2120, must be signed by each person (other than yourself) who contributed more than 10 per cent to the support of the dependent. The agreement must be filed with your return claiming the deduction for the dependent.

Priest Starts A New Church

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Michel Colin, self-proclaimed Pope Clement XV, has founded "The New Church of Christ" in a drafty three-room apartment here.

Colin, 63, a French former priest, said Christ told him, "You will become a priest, then a bishop and finally pope."

Now known as the Antipope of Fatima, Colin met with newsmen accompanied by two of his cardinals. He wore purple robes and an ermine cape.

Colin says the official church "is no longer able to enlighten anyone."

SNOWSTORM BLANKET—Joel Landau, a United Press International staff photographer, found more pedestrians than cars on New York's normally busy Second Avenue near 45th Street this morning as he braved a 15-inch snowstorm for a picture. The blizzard has paralyzed the entire city.

15-Inch Snow Hits New York

NEW YORK (AP) — New York was crippled and cut off from its suburbs this morning in the wake of a storm that dumped 15 inches of snow, piled into drifts whipped by high winds.

The New York and American stock exchanges closed.

The Long Island Rail Road shut down, cutting off 90,000 commuters. The Penn Central and New Haven railroads drastically cut schedules, and buses were mired in huge traffic jams caused by stalled and deserted vehicles.

The State Thruway was closed from Albany to New York City —148 miles—for the first time in its history, and more than 1,000 cars were stranded on the Tappan Zee Bridge, a span across the Hudson River at Tarrytown. The passengers took shelter locally.

Subways were running near normal. All public and parochial schools and colleges were closed, as were all branches of the public library.

Kennedy International, La Guardia and Newark airports were closed. More than 6,000 persons were stranded at Kennedy, where food supplies were being rapidly exhausted. Roads to the airport were blocked by stalled vehicles. One jetliner with 39 passengers was snowbound on a runway for nine hours yesterday before plows could free it.

National Airlines appealed this morning for a helicopter airlift of food for 500 passengers stranded at its terminal.

Storm Shuts All Markets

NEW YORK (AP) — Business was brought to a virtual standstill today in this money capital of the world by an eastern snowstorm that cut off the city from its suburbs and prevented many businessmen from getting to work.

The New York and American stock exchanges closed as did all the commodity exchanges in the city and the National Association of Securities Dealers. Brokerage firms were operating with skeleton staffs.

Other major exchanges in the country, however, were unaffected by the weather.

It was the first time the New York Stock Exchange had closed for a full day as a result of bad weather, although the exchange has had late openings or early closings several times in

MARIN WATER PROJECT

Biggest Bond Issue Planned

By JOANNE GRANT
(First of three articles)

The largest bond issue in the history of Marin County is expected to go to Marin Municipal Water District voters this year as the district begins a 10-year heavy construction program aimed at providing more than 14.5 billion additional gallons of water by 1990.

The bond issue is expected to be in the $30-$40 million range depending on results of studies scheduled for completion this month and on what kind of a bond issue it will be.

It would include money for a giant water transportation system from the Russian River and about $10 million to make the district what Gen. Mgr. William R. Seeger calls "first class."

That the water should come from the Russian River is a decision reached after years of studies from the prolific state Department of Water Resources, the Sonoma County Flood Control and Water Conservation District, North Marin County Water District and Marin Municipal Water District.

Ten years ago, Marin was interested in a totally different plan, the North Bay Aqueduct, which the state contended would cost less than any other source, but which bogged down in disagreements among the four counties involved, conflicting cost estimates and worries over extensive treatment requirements.

The aqueduct, part of the State Water Plan, was proposed to divert water from the Lindsay Slough of the Sacramento-San Joaquin Delta through a 60-mile channel in Solano, Napa, Sonoma and Marin counties, terminating in Novato.

Water for the Delta would

Nixon Will Not Drop Plans To Visit Berlin

KEY BISCAYNE, Fla., (UPI) —The White House today reaffirmed President Nixon's intention to visit West Berlin later this month despite East German plans to limit land access routes to the city in connection with the upcoming West German presidential election.

As the president prepared to return to Washington during this afternoon his press secretary, Ronald Ziegler, said Russian and other comments critical of Nixon's trip plans would not, at least at this point, deter the chief executive.

Responding to a question about the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia statement that Nixon's scheduled Feb. 27 visit to West Berlin would "further complicate" the situation posed by the partial blockade, Ziegler said "The President will make the trip to West Berlin as the plan stands now."

Ziegler said the president also "fully supported" a statement

Berlin Travel Ban Brings Stern Western Bloc Note

BERLIN (UPI)—The Western allies told the Soviet Union today they would hold it responsible for any East German harassment of Berlin traffic growing out of Communist protests against West German political activities in Bonn.

The United States, Britain and France delivered the mildly worded statement to the Russians in Bonn protesting the East German threat to bar land travel of 1,038 members of the West German electoral college to Berlin to elect a new federal president.

The situation was taking on crisis aspects with developments ranging from Bonn to Berlin, from Moscow to Washington. Adding a new and unexplained note was the arrival today in Berlin of Marshal Ivan I. Yakubovski.

Huge Pay Demand For County

By WAT TAKESHITA

Marin County now faces half-million-dollar demands for a 35-hour week and pay raises amounting to 20 to 30 per cent over the next two years for the county's social workers, on top of other county employee's demands estimated at $2 million a year.

The demands, presented by the county's Social Workers Union Local No. 535, go "even further than demands made by the Marin County Employees Association," said County Administrator Alan Bruce.

The county has about 70 social workers out of a total work force of close to 1,200 employees.

Salary and benefit demands are still to come from two other recognized bargaining units — the probation workers union, and the county nurses represented by the California Nurses Association.

The county administrator estimated that an additional half-million dollars would have to be added to the county budget over the next two years for the 70 social workers if all their demands were met. The union seeks a two-year contract, for both the 1969 and 1970 fiscal year.

The Social Workers Union seeks salary increases ranging from 10 per cent to 17.5 per cent for 1969, and another 10 to 15 per cent for the 1970 fiscal year. These, plus the 14 per cent raise represented by the 35-hour work week (instead of the present 40 hours), would mean a 46 per cent raise in the next two years for one category of social workers.

Other fringe benefits demanded by the Scoial Workers Union include these:

Three Commuters Die As Pipe Pierces Train

Several Hurt In San Bruno

SAN BRUNO (UPI)—A 50-foot piece of steel pipe pierced a double-deck commute car on a speeding Southern Pacific train today, killing at least three passengers and injuring more than a score.

San Bruno police said three or four persons were killed, including a woman who was decapitated by the pipe, and between 20 and 25 hurt. The injured were shuttled to a pair of hospitals by ambulance and bus.

"From the outside it just looked like a bunch of busted windows," said Welden McDaniel, driver of the first ambulance to reach the train. "But inside the car it looked like a tornado had hit."

OTHER SIDE

McDaniel said the pipe, eight inches in diameter, had gone through a side of the car, then smashed all the way to the back on the other side.

"The six in front were so bad we didn't know where to start," the ambulance driver said. "It was hard to tell who was hurt worst."

An S.P. spokesman said Train No. 127 on the morning San Jose to San Francisco commute run was travelling between 60 and 70 miles per hour when its engine clipped the pipe, which then smashed into the lead passenger car.

A contractor, ARB Co. of Bakersfield, was removing the pipe from the railroad right-of-way. A small crane had picked it up and either lost control of it or backed too close to the tracks, the S.P. spokesman said. ARB Co. finished laying an oil line on the east side of the tracks last week for Southern Pacific Pipelines Co., leaving excess pipe behind.

DERAILED

The train was not derailed and left the scene about an hour after the accident, followed by four other commuter trains delayed by the mishap.

Police pressed an empty school bus into service to carry some of the less seriously injured to nearby Peninsula Hospital. A few of the injured were taken to St. Mary's Help Hospital in neighboring Daly City.

9-Year-Old Drowns In Center's Lagoon

The victim was David Blain Fust, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Fust of 9 Geneva Way.

Children have been playing at the lagoon, canoeing, riding rafts and fishing, since the lagoon was formed about six years ago, but David's was the first fatality.

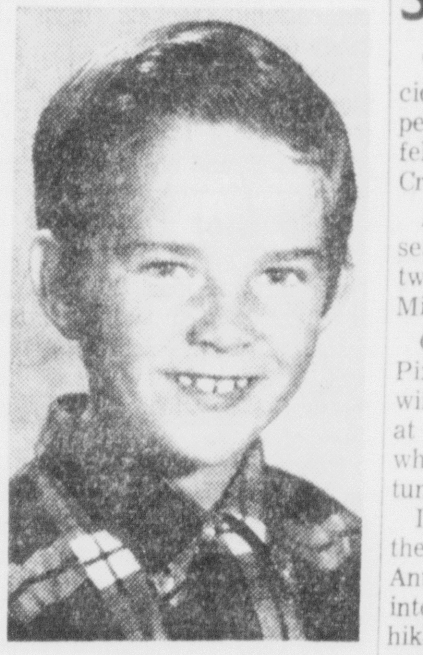
The drowning was reported by Gene Paul Niles, 10 of 293 North San Pedro Road, David's companion, sheffi's deputies said.

David and Gene were playing at the water's edge about 3:30 p.m. when David walked out in water to his waist, reportedly to catch a duck, deputies said.

It was not known if the water was that deep or if he had sunk in mud part-way. His last known position was about 20 feet southwest of the east shore, deputies reported.

Gene reported the incident, but because he was in shock deputies, who received the call at 4:04 p.m., could not immediately get information on the exact location of the drowning, they reported.

David, who was five feet tall, was found in five feet of water about 10 feet west of the south shore near a drain pipe, deputies said. He was taken to Marin General Hospital and pronounced dead on arrival at 5:55 p.m.



DAVID BLAIN FUST
Drowns in lagoon

Ironically the lagoon has been drained in recent days to permit a cleanup operation, but apparently was filling with rain water, acting as a drainage pond for a wide, flat surrounding area.

Donald R. Frost, county public works director, said the gates had been open all week to let the water out of the lagoon for the cleanup job.

David, a student at Gallinas School, was a lifelong resident of Marin.

Surviving are his parents, and a sister, Denise.

Funeral will be at 2 p.m., tomorrow at the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, Greenbrae. Burial will be at Mount Tamalpais Cemetery, San Rafael. Friends may call at Keaton's Mortuary after 5 p.m. today.

Search Fails To Recover Surf Victims

Two men, in separate incidents, are believed to have perished yesterday when they fell into heavy surf at Fort Cronkite.

An intensive air and sea search has failed to locate the two men, one of whom was a Mill Valley resident.

Charles Wilson Stephens of 522 Pixie Trail was hiking with his wife, Madeline, along the cliffs at Rodeo Cove in the afternoon, when he sliped off a rock and tumbled into the ocean.

In another incident, earlier in the morning, Gene Stegan, 29, of Antioch, also fell off the rocks into the heavy surf. He was hiking near Tennessee Point.

A Coast Guard helicopter and a 44-foot cutter searched in vain for hours over a radius of one-half mile.

An Army spokesman said the chances of recovering the men are very slight since the strong currents off Fort Cronkite would probably sweep them far out to sea.

U.C. Campus Is Reported Calm

BERKELEY (AP) — For the first time since last month, early classes at the University of California at Berkeley got under way today without any student pickets outside.

About 50 highway patrol men were stationed at a garage on campus. One squad of sheriff's deputies was nearby.

A coalition of militant student groups called the strike to back up is demands for a Third World College specializing in courses dealing with minority groups.

Strikers had called for support of the student body.

San Franciscan Believed Seashore Drowning Victim

Sheriff's deputies received a report Friday that a man, identified as Timothy Morton, about 25, of San Francisco, fell from a cliff at Point Reyes National Seashore and was swept out to sea.

Phillip W. Ward, head ranger, at the Bear Valley Ranger Station, relayed to deputies a report from three witnesses that Morton fell to the beach at the end of Bear Valley Trail. Deputies, who received the report at 5:15 p.m., listed the time of the fall at 2:30 p.m.

Robert Ross of 1 Green Pasture, Boardwalk 1, Larkspur, listed as Morton's brother-in-law; Mark Shapiro of Berkeley and Angela Mueller of Santa Monica, were on a nearby point.

They reportedly saw Morton on the cliff, turned away for a few moments, and when they looked back, he was gone, deputies said. Then they saw Morton's body on the beach below and said a wave came in and swept his body out to sea.

The three tried to get to the beach but couldn't because of the "blow hole" at that spot, Ranger Ward reported. They got word to a couple passing on horseback, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Schultz, and Schultz rode to the ranger station with the alarm, deputies said.

A Coast Guard helicopter was called out to search, but the body wasn't recovered, deputies reported. Invesitgation is continuing deputies said.

Message Satellite Sent Aloft

CAPE KENNEDY, Fla. (AP) — The most powerful communications spacecraft yet developed by the Western world hovered high over the Pacific Ocean today, the herald for a new era when small combat units on front lines can speed messages via satellite.

The $30 million experimental craft, called TACCOMSAT for Tactical Communications Satellite, might be used by U.S. forces in Southeast Asia if it passes as test program expected to take several months.

The 1,600-pound payload rocketed atop a powerful Titan 3C rocket yesterday into a spot 22,300 miles over the equator off the west coast of South America. At that altitude, the satellite's rotation to keep the payload in a seemingly stationary position over the Galapagos Islands.

With a cluster of antennae sticking out the top of a soup-can-shaped body, the two-story-tall spacecraft was designed to test the feasibility of using satellites so mobile military units can communicate over great distances.

Its size permits enough power for ground forces to use portable lightweight receiving antennae as small as one foot in diameter.

50 Monster Rockets Found Near Saigon

SAIGON (AP) — Fifty monster rockets that one American adviser said could "raise hell" in Saigon have been found only one day's travel from the capital. They were part of one of the biggest enemy rocket stockpiles uncovered in the war.

A South Vietnamese spokesman said it was the first capture of 240mm rockets, warheads of which are twice the size and nearly seven times as powerful as the Russian 122mm and Chinese 107mm missiles regularly used by the Viet Cong and North Vietnamese.

"It's not anything like we've seen before," said an American officer. "Someone fabricated this, and it is not a mass produced item like you'd find in a Moscow parade."

Military spokesmen said the warheads probably had been improvised at arms factories in Cambodia and were hauled into South Vietnam on bicycles. Seventy bicycles were found with the rockets.

They speculated the big rockets were to be fired from crude launchers that would limit them to a range of one to four miles. The 122mm rockets have a range of seven miles.

The spokesmen said the 240mm warheads could carry 100 pounds of explosives, compared to 14 and one-half pounds in the 122mm rockets. Thus the 50 rockets had a total punch of 5,000 pounds of explosives, or one-twelfth of the average bomb load of a U.S. B52 bomber.

South Vietnamese marines found the new type rockets in a 30-ton munitions cache in 34 man-made caves in War Zone C, 60 miles north of Saigon and 18 miles from the Cambodian border.

The cache also contained 500 122mm and 107mm rockets; six launchers for the 240mm missiles; 15 antiaircraft machine guns; 42 mortar tubes; 309 rifles; 10 tons of various small-arms ammunition; three tons of rice; 2,000 uniforms; 500 field packs and some smaller bazooka-type rocket launchers. The rockets alone weighed 15 tons.

The 3rd Vietnamese Marine Battalion launched a sweep operation in War Zone C last Friday, transported into the enemy's backyard by American helicopters. They clashed with North Vietnamese troops several times during the weekend, killing at least 20 and capturing an engineering officer described by one marine officer as "obviously a very important man in this setup."

16 Riot Deaths

BOMBAY, India (AP) — There are at least 16 persons dead, 30 injured and 2,000 arrested, and the Indian Army was ordered to stand by in North Bombay today after four days of riots.

Police have fired repeatedly on mobs attacking police stations, looting stores and markets and setting fires to cars and houses in the 10-square-mile riot area.

The riots were touched off by demands of the right-wing Shiv Sena organization for a self-governing state for the Marathi-speaking people who make up 90 per cent of the population of northwestern India.

Barkley Grandson Faces Charges

PLATTSBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — The grandson of the late U.S. Vice President Alben Barkley is back in the United States to face charges of air piracy and kidnaping.

But Alben W. Truitt, 35, says he is guilty only of foolish conduct in events which led to him being charged with forcing the pilot of a chartered Cessna 177 to fly him from Key West, Fla., to Cuba last Oct. 23.

The FBI took Truitt into custody Saturday at the U.S.-Canadian border in nearby Champlain after he withdrew an appeal to an order deporting him from Canada.

Truitt, being held in lieu of $100,000 bail, was to be arraigned here today.

Jordan Claims Fresh Fight With Israelis

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

Jordan said it fought a seven-hour artillery duel with Israel in the Ghor Safi area south of the Dead Sea today.

A spokesman in Amman accused Israel of starting the exchange.

The Israelis made no immediate comment.

The Jordanian spokesman said there were no losses on the Arab side.

PLAN DISTURBS

In another development a Beirut newspaper, Al Nahar, said Jordan is disturbed over a plan by the Palestine Liberation Organization (PLC), to move its armed force from Egypt to the east bank of the Jordan River.

Al Nahar said Jordanian Prime Minister Bahjat Talhouni is going to Cairo tomorrow to discuss the issue with President Gamal Abdel Nasser. Talhouni is expected to protest that Jordan was not consulted on the move.

PLO's new leader, Yasser Arafat, announced last week that the 4,000-man guerrilla force stationed in Egypt would be shifted.

In Israel, authorities expelled six Arab youths and a teacher from the occupied west bank yesterday, accusing them of taking part in or inciting anti-Israeli demonstrations last week.

EXPELLS YOUTHS

Today seven convicted Arab saboteurs began serving jail sentences ranging from 15 years to life for planting grenades in the Jewish sector of Jerusalem. The grenades wounded nine Israelis last August, touching off an anti-Arab riot by Jewish youths.

About 200 Arab youths demonstrated in East Jerusalem today, chanting the name of Yas-Arafat. They called for a merchants strike but were largely ignored before police dispersed them and arrested 10.

OTHER OPPOSITION

There were other expressions of Arab opposition to the occupation. Schools were closed in Nablus, Jenin, Tulkarm, Ramallah and El Bireh. About 80 women staged a sitdown strike in El Birhe's old mosque. Moslem and private schools were closed in East Jerusalem. Mounted Police patrolled outside the old walled city, while other police—some using walkie-talkies—patrolled the narrow, twisting alleys of the old quarter.

Amman Radio reported a possibly significant concession from Iraq. It said Iraqi Information Minister Abdullah Sallum Samarrai told a news conference the Arabs should no longer advocate throwing the Jews into the sea or exterminating them. He said Iraq favors "establishment of a democratic Palestinian Arab state of Arabs and Jews" as a move toward settlement of Middle East problems.

But Samarrai also repeated that his government rejects any peaceful settlement based on the U.N. Security Council resolution of November 1967 because "it tends to liquidate the Palestine problem in Israel's favor."

GABBY HAYES
Hopalong's sidekick

Gabby Hayes, 83, Dies In Hollywood

HOLLYWOOD (UPI)— Gabby Hayes, the cantankerous character actor who played the "durn tootin" sidekick to Hopalong Cassidy and Roy Rogers, died yesterday at the age of 83.

He was admitted to St. Joseph's Hospital a week ago for treatment of a heart ailment. Funeral services will be private.

Hayes usually appeared in westerns as an irascible but lovable character dressed in baggy pants, a plaid shirt and a floppy hat with its brim held up in front by a huge safety pin.

The bewhiskered Hayes appeared in 174 motion picutres, including most of the Hopalong Cassidy films as "Windy Halliday" ("Yur durn tootin', Hoppy!") and later the Roy Rogers series of musical westerns.

He grew his beard in 1929 and shaved it off only once, in 1939, when he had four months off.

"But my housekeeper saw me without it and was scared to death," Hayes once joked. "I looked in the mirror and it sure scared me too. I never shaved it again."

George Francis Hayes was born a tenderfoot in Wellsville, N.Y., May 7, 1885. He played semipro baseball during high school but ran away from home at 17 to join a stock company.

Although Hayes strove for a studied shabbiness on the screen, he was known as one of Hollywood's most tasteful dressers and an authority on wines and food.

He made rare appearances at state fairs, greeting the crowd and tipping his hat, and did some fishing and hunting. His wife, actress Dorothy Earle, died in 1957. They had been married 45 years.

Hickel Facing Firing Line Over Appointee

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Interior Walter J. Hickel, less than three weeks into his new job, is under fire again from Capitol Hill, this time for naming an ex-lobbyist to an undefined but high-level departmental post.

The appointee is James G. Watt, who registered as a lobbyist for the U.S. Chamber of Commerce in 1967 and fought against stricter federal control over conservation measures in water pollution and reclamation of strip-mined land as a spokesman for business and industry last year.

One Interior Department official said Watt was "some sort of consultant or special assistant or something." A spokesman for the Chamber of Commerce said Watt would hold the title of deputy undersecretary but the Interior Department would neither confirm or deny it.

The Oil and Gas Journal described Watt as Hickel's "eyes and ears on oil." Oil Daily called him an "oil specialist" for the Interior Department.

Watt could not be reached, despite repeated calls.

Watt's job, whatever it is, rekindled smoldering Capitol Hill doubts about the conservation views of the newly appointed officials at Interior, Hickel included. As a consultant or special assistant, Watt would not be subject to Senate confirmation.

Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., a leader in the unsuccessful fight against Hickel's confirmation by the Senate, wrote Hickel over the weekend protesting the appointment of Watt.

"Although I realize that you are entitled to hire those whom you wish to work on your staff," Proxmire wrote, "I think the appointment of a man who is so identified with the private interests can only create a credibility gap between your statements of concern for the public interest . . . and your actions as secretary of the interior . . ."

Last year when the House Public Works Committee was considering new water pollution control standards written by then Secretary of Interior Stewart L. Udall, Watt opposed them on the ground that Udall was overstepping his authority. He also argued in written testimony that they would be too expensive for industry to implement.

The standards would have required a minimum of two stages of treatment for municipal wastes and "comparable" treatment for industrial wastes.

Watt said the standards would require two stages of treatment for industrial wastes as well—a point denied by Interior officials—and said that if the federal government insisted on such standards, the federal government should help pay for them by granting loans, tax credits and greater annual depreciation allowances for industry constructing new waste treatment facilities.

His position prompted a Capitol Hill source to remark that Watt "is willing to accept whatever industry has to do if the public will pay for it."

Drinking Deaths

GENEVA, (AP) — Alcoholism kills more people in France than in all other major Western industrialized countries put together, a survey by the World Health Organization showed today.

France also registered the highest rate of fatalities from cirrhosis of the liver, a disease frequently caused by excessive drinking.

In 1965, the last year included in the statistics, alcoholism took 5,816 lives in France, 2,665 in the United States, 626 in West Germany, 608 in Japan, 385 in Italy, and 82 in Britain.

Boeing 747 Flies, Has One Defect

EVERETT, Wash. (AP) — The huge Boeing 747 jet airliner designed to carry up to 490 passengers flew for the first time yesterday and but for a single flaw its pilot called the test trip "absolutely ideal."

"It's a pilot's dream...it flies like an arrow," declared pilot Jack Waddell, 45, as he stepped from the cockpit of the $20 million, 355-ton prototype of the new fleet of superjets.

The flaw—an improperly aligned wing flap—forced the jet to return to Paine Field here after one hour, 15 minutes of a scheduled two and one-half hour flight. The trouble was discovered 34 minutes into the flight.

The faulty flap was discovered by Flight Engineer Jess Wallick at about the same time Waddel radioded feeling "a bump" during tests of the wing control system.

Waddell said he hoped the second flight could be held within a day or two.

The cars for people who believe that style never goes out of style.

When the conversation turns to cars, a Cadillac owner is seldom asked the model and year of the one he drives. The fact that he drives the car of cars is sufficient. For a Cadillac, regardless of its year, is the most universally desired of all motor cars.

This is because the beauty, craftsmanship, luxury and performance inherent in a Cadillac never go out of style. A case in point is the 1966 model shown above. Its Turbo Hydra-matic transmission, variable-ratio power steering and other refinements have only recently become available on some lesser cars.

A great many late-model, previously-owned Cadillacs also have a Tilt and Telescope steering wheel and Automatic Climate Control. For a richly rewarding investment in motoring pleasure, see your authorized Cadillac dealer's attractive selection of new and previously-owned Cadillacs today.

Hollywood Resident Leaps To His Death

A man about 50 years old jumped to his death from the south tower of the Golden Gate Bridge at noon Saturday after telling a California Highway Patrol officer earlier he was waiting for his children to come back from walking across the bridge.

The man, identified from his papers as Sam Rosenberg of Hollywood, was seen leaning against the south tower at 11 a.m.

At 11:30 a.m., Officer L. G. Cook, responding to the report of a man acting suspiciously, asked him if he were going to jump. The man explained that he was tired and waiting for his children.

At noon, 13-year-old John Stelz of San Francisco, reported seeing the man take off his coat, hat and watch, place them on the sidewalk, then climb over the east railing and jump.

His body was recovered by the Coast Guard.

Crews Attack Oil Slicks Along Beaches

SANTA BARBARA (AP) — A growing army of cleanup men is trying to rid the blue Pacific of an ugly, black scar stretching along California's beaches for 30 miles.

An undersea well that sent 231,000 gallons of crude oil bubbling to the surface was capped Saturday, sealed with mud and cement. But the huge slick still wallows, broken slightly by winds, occasionally still seeping to land.

USING STRAW

Crews are trying to sop it up, along the edges nearest land, with absorbent straw. Along the sandy beaches, more sophisticated methods are being used or planned.

More than 500 workmen from state conservation camps and the Union Oil Co., which drilled the well, have worked since the sludge moved ashore last week. Another 225 inmates from conservation camps join the crews tonight.

By midweek 1,500 men will be working along the coast. The cleanup is expected to require three weeks.

STEADY WORK

Most of the cleanup men are spreading straw on the oil as it nears shore. Then they pick up the refuse after it is washed on beaches. Other workmen used steam jets to wash boulders along the shore. Plans were made for a giant "sea sweep" to be tested tomorrow.

The "sweep," towed by two tugs, is expected to funnel oil into a pipe wedge, then to a scoop where it will be pumped into an 11,600-barrel oil barge.

Oil still floated in streaks and blobs off the coast from Santa Barbara southward. Although log booms were erected to keep it off Los Angeles-area beaches 90 miles south, the Coast Guard said it expects the slick to stay in Santa Barbara harbor.

Sierra Members Ask Offshore Drill Ban

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — The Sierra Club, embroiled in a bitter internal dispute, ended a two-day meeting yesterday with a call for a halt to all offshore oil operations.

The conservationist organization urged a "thorough investigation" by state and congressional authorities of the huge oil slick off southern California.

The resolution passed by the club demanded a moratorium on the drilling "until assurances can be given that no repetition of the Santa Barbara channel disaster can occur."

In other action yesterday, the club gave its support to the proposed Rio Grande National Historical Park in New Mexico and opposed construction of the Ben Franklin Dam in Washington and the Lompoc Narrows Dams in northern Santa Barbara County.

A 1969 budget of $2.8 million was also approved by the club's board of directors. The budget in 1968 was $2.7 million.

On Saturday the directors approved suspension of executive director David Brower's spending power.

They then gave Brower, 56, a two - month leave of absence from his $25,000 a year post so he could campaign for a position on the board of directors.

Brower, who led the club's recent successful fights for a Redwood National Park and against construction of dams in the Grand Canyon, wants to expand the organization's concerns to include all environmental pollution in the world.

His opponents, led by nature photographer Ansel Adams, want to curb the club's book publishing efforts and concentrate on U.S. conservation problems.

Both factions will compete in an election April 15 when the club's 70,000 members will determine which direction the organization will take.

Adams accused Brower of wielding "dictatorial control" and bringing the club to the brink of financial disaster with his book programs.

Mother Reports Threat To Sons

A Tiburon mother has received anonymous telephone threats against the lives of her three sons in the armed services, sheriff's deputies reported.

Jack L. Nicholson of 16 Janet Way, Apt. 157, told deputies last Wednesday that his wife received three calls from a woman threatening their three sons.

One of the caller's threats was: "We know you have three murderers that are being trained to kill. We are going to kill them," deputies reported.

Pueblo Blood Bath Reported By Seaman

CORONADO (AP) — An engineman aboard the USS Pueblo said today some of its classified papers were so soaked with blood they wouldn't burn when the intelligence ship was attacked off North Korea.

Engineman 3C. Peter Bandera of Carson City, Nev., said he discovered this as he tried to destroy classified material near where another crewman Duane Hodges of Creswell, Ore., lay mortally wounded.

"I belive they were all burned," Bandera said of secret documents in his area, "all but a very few which were splattered on the deck and covered with blood.

"They were soaked with so much blood they wouldn't burn."

Bandera said that while he worked at burning the classified material for "a half hour or 20 minutes," he could discern no destruction efforts in the ship's research department.

"Weren't you surprised no effort was being made to defend the Pueblo?" asked Vice Adm. Harold T. Bowen, president of a court of inquiry investigating the ship's capture.

"Yes, sir," Bandera replied.

Engineman 1/C William D. Scarborough of San Pedro, told the court the Pueblo suffered two hits — cannon fire which caused two holes about six inches in diameter four-to-five feet above the water line.

"I think he's one of the best commanding officers I've ever had," Scarborough said when asked his opinion about the Pueblo's skipper, Cmdr. Lloyd M. Bucher.

Chief Engineman Monroe Goldman of Lakewood, Los Angeles County, said he was never informed of the Pueblo's mission — and assumed the ship was conducting oceanographic research.

"You never seriously considered the possibility of having to scuttle an oceanographic ship?" asked Capt. William Newsome, counsel for the court.

"No, sir," Goldman replied.

"Did the possibility enter your mind of destroying the engines?"

"Yes, sir, but I know I would have only gotten started... before he (a North Korean guard) shot us."

Goldman said a North Korean officer beat one of his crew as he was taken off the vessel.

The crewmen were also expected to begin testifying—possibly later in the day — about their ordeal in North Korean prison.

NIXON

in Bonn issued today by three allied powers saying they did not respect the right of East Germany to restrict land access to West Berlin.

The Urban Affairs Council meeting set for the White House today was rescheduled for Wednesday. Eastern weather prevented some of the participants from getting to Washington today, including Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York. Nixon would have missed the meeting had it been held according to original schedule.

Other announcements from the Florida White House:

The president, through his staff, emphasized that he will have the final say in the controversial Trans-Pacific Airline route case.

Robert E. Ellsworth, assistant to the president, sent a memorandum to airlines involved in the dispute, plus congressional leaders and chairmen of the House and Senate Foreign Affairs Committees.

In 11 new directives to departments and agencies, Nixon called for a broad range of new studies and recommendations from the vote for 18-year-olds which he favors, to "an expeditious and forceful" Justice Department move against narcotics traffic. He also asked his labor and agriculture secretaries for a joint report on advisability of placing farm workers under the Taft-Hartley Labor-Management Act.

Theft Of Two Cars Reported

Theft of two cars Saturday night were reported today by San Rafael police.

One, a silver Prosche, license RMZ 178, was stolen from the carport of Lysle I. Williams, 135 Martins Boulevard, and the other, a 1964 white Ford Fairlane, license CYX 991, owned by Sarah H. Humphries, 1224 DuBois Street, was taken while parked in the Montecito Shopping Center.

The Williams vehicle was taken sometime during the night, and the Humphries vehicle between 11:30 and 11:45 p.m.

Transit Bus System Backed

The San Anselmo Homes Association tomorrow night will urge the Golden Gate Bridge and Highway District to set up a public transit bus system for Marin County, according to the association's transportation representative, Mrs. John F. West.

Such an operation by the bridge authority was proposed last year in a report by Arthur C. Jenkins, retired engineer for the bridge and highway district, and district directors will hold a public hearing on the proposal at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the Civic Center.

A bus system operated by the bridge authority would feed passengers to any future ferries and would provide the backbone for development of an intra-county transportation system, the San Anselmo group said.

Check Cashing Suspect Booked

A 20-year-old Oregon woman was booked into Marin County Jail Friday on suspicion of cashing stolen checks.

The suspect, Zola Mac VanDolah was arrested after she allegedly cashed a $131 payroll check at the Emporium at about 5 p.m., police reported. The check, and several others she admitted to cashing in Marin, were stolen from the Atlas Paper Co. of San Francisco, police said.

The suspect had tried unsuccessfully to cash a check at the Emporium on Wednesday, and was recognized by a store employee when she tried again on Friday, police said.

She told police she left Oregon two weeks ago with her 14-month-old son. He was with a baby sitter in San Francisco at the time she was arrested. She said a man she met in San Francisco gave her the checks to cash and deposit in a bank account.

She was released on $625 bail, and is to appear in Marin Municipal Court at 2 p.m. today.

Burglaries Are Reported

Three burglaries were reported to Mill Valley police during the weekend.

Daniel Bower of 88 Florence Avenue said burglars took a Smith and Wesson revolver and portable radio, valued at $105, from his home between 8:15 a.m. and 5:20 p.m. Thursday.

A stereo and four speed phonograph, valued at $300, were taken from the home of John A. Ziegler Jr., 31 Glen Drive, between 7:15 and 10:50 p.m. Thursday.

Anthony E. Desmond of 2 Redwood Lane, reported a record changer, AM-FM receiver and speaker, valued at $75 were taken from his home between 1:30 and 8:30 p.m. Saturday.

War Hero's Medals, Uniform Stolen

A Vietnam war hero, home on leave, had his uniform and combat medals stolen from his car Friday night while it was parked in front of the Tiburon Lodge, Tiburon sheriff's deputies reported.

Lt. Geoffrey Barker told deputies he had left his Army lieutenan't uniform decorated with numerious medals and ribbons, including the Bronze Star and Purple Heart, in his locked car while he was visiting in Tiburon en route to Fort Benning, Ga., from Vietnam.

STORM

ed passengers had had no food since 8:30 p.m. last night. About 30 children and three chronically ill persons were in the group.

"If they don't get food soon, they'll be in bad shape," the airline official said.

In the Atlantic about 180 miles southeast of Nantucket, a passenger-freight ship, the Exminster, was described by the Coast Guard as inching slowly with 46 persons aboard.

The Coast Guard which dispatched a rescue vessel, said winds were up to 40 knots in the area.

Thirteen of New York City's 15 inches fell yesterday, a record for a single day.

Winds gusting to more than 40 miles per hour and temperatures in the 20s complicated the snow removal problem, as city officials declared a "snow emergency" and urged motorists to stay at home.

Upstate New York escaped the brunt of the storm and airliners were diverted from Kennedy to Montreal and Niagara Falls.

Northern New Jersey was equally crippled, but three commuter train lines into New York City were reported in operation. The Erie-Lackawanna Railroad said its electric-powered trains were operating normally, but diesel service was subject to delays.

Public schools in seven Northern New Jersey counties were closed, and many other areas reported partial closings.

The New Jersey Turnpike was shut from New Brunswick to Newark, and other parkways were plagued by deserted autos. Arteries leading to New York City were jammed and moving slowly.

The state legislatures in Trenton, N.J., and Albany N.Y., canceled today's session.

Connecticut commuters had it no better, as sections of the turnpike were closed and many secondary roads were impassable. A stalled train on the New Haven Railroad further delayed the irregular schedules.

Canaan, in northwestern Connecticut, reported 35 inches of snow.

The storm center moved into the Atlantic Ocean off Nantucket, Mass., at 3:30 a.m., the Weather Bureau said. It had originated off the Virginia Capes Saturday night, and dumped five inches of snow in portions of Virginia and Maryland.

The near-blizzard moved from the metropolitan area into New England, dumping 16 inches of snow at Scituate, R.I., near Providence. Massachusetts, Maine and southern New Hampshire and Vermont also bore the brunt of the storm.

Driver Is Poor From Accident

A Richmond couple was hospitalized, the husband in poor condition after their minibus hit a culvert on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard early yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

Werner H. Fabig, 47, was in the intensive care unit at Marin General Hospital with head injuries, a forehead cut and broken ribs. His wife Marjorie, 48, was reported in fair condition at Marin General Hospital with scalp cuts and multiple bruises and scrapes.

The highway patrol said Fabig's bus ran into a ditch near San Quentin Prison at 4:15 a.m. yesterday.

Three More File For Post

Three more persons have applied for the seat on the Tamalpais High School District board vacated by trustee William B. Lewis of San Anselmo, who resigned a week ago.

They are: Robert W. Corlett, San Anselmo attorney and longtime trustee of the San Anselmo School District; Thomas E. Dugan of Mill Valley and William Bentley, accountant, of Mill Valley. Richard W. Jahnke of San Anselmo and Col. Brice Pace of Fairfax, who previously filed for the post, have reconfirmed their interest.

The board of trustees will interview candidates and appoint a new member at its special meeting to be held at 8 p.m., Thursday, in the district office.

Closed Session Set By Ross Trustees

Ross School District trustees will meet in closed session at 7:30 p.m. today at Ross School to consider disciplinary action against a pupil.

The regular meeting will begin at 8 p.m. and will include a discussion on the philosophy and objectives of education at Ross School.

PAY

employees with 10 years or more of service.

A dental plan paid by the county.

Sick leave credit of 24 days per year to be given at the start of each employment year, with no limitation on the accumulation of sick leave. (At present, the limit is 90 days). When an employee quits or is discharged, unused sick leave to be paid in cash.

A county-paid disability insurance plan.

Employees required to use their own cars on county business be given $40 per month, in addition to the present 12 cents per mile.

Employees discharged by the county to be paid one month's severance pay.

In addition, the union seeks staff changes in the Marin County Department of Public Social Services. For example, the union asks for specialists such as staff development supervisors for probationary workers, community resources coordinator, coordinator of day care, and special assignment social workers.

It also calls for the hiring of a program coordinator to coordinate workers and supervisory consultants and a consumer consultant to serve both social workers and welfare clients.

County Auditor Michael Mitchell said he had not had time to study the social workers demands to compute its impact on the county budget.

Demands of the Marin County Employees Association, made last month, would take close to $2 million to fullfill completely, Mitchell estimated. This plus the social workers demands and demands still to come from other bargaining units would reach "astronomical figures," Mitchell predicted. "This may be the toughest budget year we've ever had."

commander of the Warsaw Pact military forces.

In Moscow the Soviet government newspaper Izvestia said President Nixon's planned visit to West Berlin would "further complicate" the situation in the city. In Key Biscayne, the White House reaffirmed Nixon's intent to visit West Berlin late this month despite the East German plans to harass land travel.

In Moscow, Izvestia hailed the East German action and expressed "bewilderment" about Western support of the West German plans to elect their president in Berlin in March.

The ban, on road, rail, and waterway access which goes into effect Saturday "until further notice," does not affect U.S.-British-French air corridors into the outpost city over which Communist East Germany has no control.

Guilty Plea To Lesser Charge

A 24-year-old former Sausalito man, who was charged with performing a criminal abortion Sept. 24, 1966 on a Petaluma woman who died two days later, changed his plea to guilty today in Marin Superior Court to a lesser charge.

John F. Milos, 24, who now lives in San Francisco, said he was guilty of soliciting a woman to have the illegal operation.

Milos was sought for a year after the death of the woman but was arrested November 1967 in connection with a shoplifting charge in San Francisco.

No Candidate Gets A Plurality

None of the five candidates for Redwood High School sophomore class president received a plurality of seven votes in last Friday's election, so there will be another election, tentatively slated for Friday.

The five candidates in the race are Kirk Pessner, William Challender, Scott Winston, Sue Foley and Jon Broderick, William D. Wilkinson, dean of student activities, reported today.

The exchanges expect to resume trading Tuesday.

Salomon Brothers & Hutzler, national investment firm, said bids will be taken as scheduled in the Treasury Bill auction this afternoon for Thursday deliveries, but there will be no cash trading in government bonds today. Colgate's enzyme active AXION

Soaks out stains and dirt that bleaches can't bleach out, detergents can't wash out!

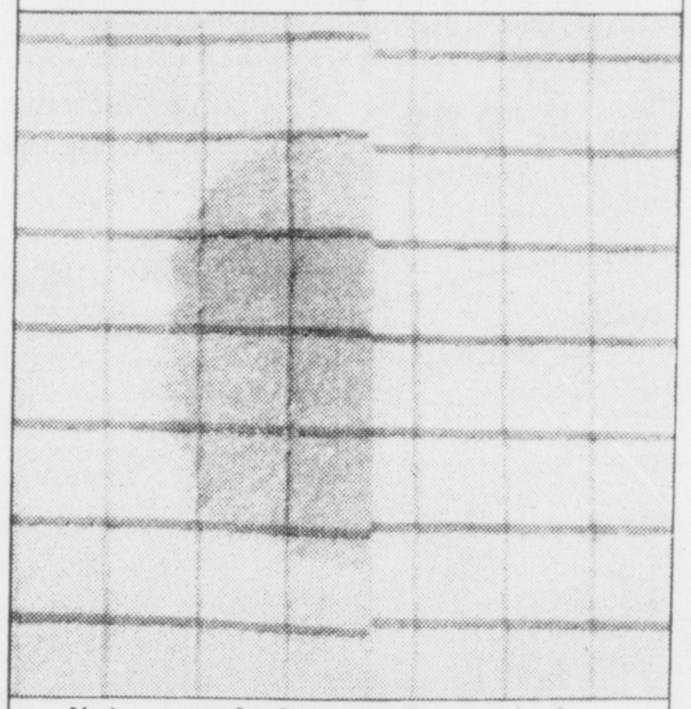
Axion may be new to you. But all over America more women are using Axion than all the other pre-soaks put together. Axion is an incredible new discovery. It is entirely different from any detergent. It is entirely different from any bleach. It is an enzyme active pre-soak that cleans away stains no other kind of washing product has ever been able to do.

Works on the stain—not on the fabric

Axion with active enzymes is the latest result of Colgate research. Axion's active enzymes biologically break down the molecular structure of the most stubborn stains... loosen stains so they wash away easily during the regular wash cycle.

Yet Axion won't harm synthetic fabrics or washable colors. So you can safely use Axion where you could never use chlorine bleach. Axion's enzyme active formula was developed to concentrate on stains and dirt... for cleaning, whitening, and brightening far beyond detergent or bleach.

See the difference. Both towels washed in detergent and bleach



Not pre-soaked, the stain remains!

Pre-soaked in Axion, the stain is gone!

This test shows what Axion can do! Both of these towels had set beef liver stains. The one on the right was pre-soaked in Axion. Then they both were machine-washed with regular detergent and bleach. The towel that was only washed in bleach and detergent is still badly stained. The towel pre-soaked in Axion—stain free, really clean!

Axion attacks stain after stain

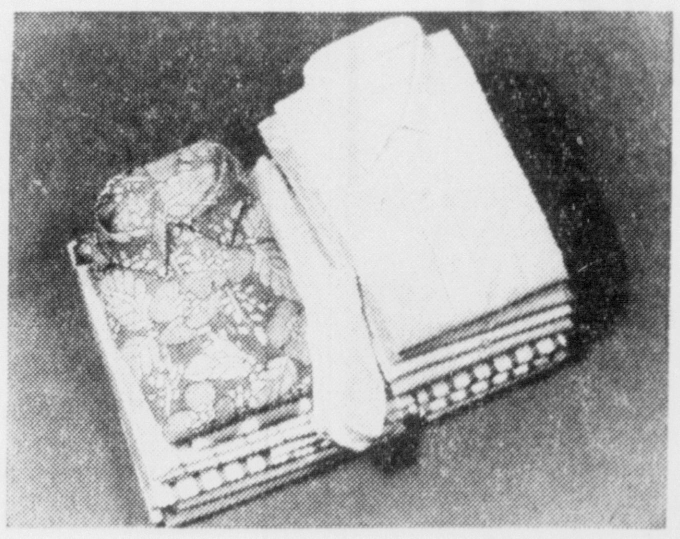
Blood. Gravy. Sauces. Chocolate. Fruit stains. Dirt on white socks. Grass. Yellowing on pillowcases. Baby foods. Perspiration stains. Diaper stains. Grime on shirt collars and cuffs. And many more.

Important—saves you money

Axion helps keep laundry new... doesn't damage fabrics the way harsh bleaches can. Dozens of costly items will last longer and look better. So it's obvious you can save money by using Axion.

Works on your whole wash

You will see a striking difference in your entire wash the first time you pre-soak with Axion. Your whites will be noticeably brighter and cleaner. And pleasantly fresh-smelling. Perspiration stains will be gone. Yellowed sheets and soiled pillowcases will be white again. Those grimy children's white socks, your husband's shirt collars and cuffs—so clean you'll find it hard to believe. And, just by following package instructions you can use Axion effectively on synthetic fabrics and colors you wouldn't dare bleach. In fact, once you start using Axion, you'll find yourself pre-soaking everything you wash, every time you wash!



Axion is the Number 1 pre-soak!

Treatment Shrinks Piles, Relieves Pain In Most Cases

Louisville, Ky. Mrs. Hugh Williams of Louisville writes: "A good person recommended Preparation H to me and such help I can't describe. I don't know what in the world I'd do without it."

(Note: Doctors have proved in most cases—Preparation H® actually shrinks inflamed hemorrhoids. In case after case, the sufferer first notices prompt relief from pain, burning and itching. Then swelling is gently reduced.

There's no other formula for the treatment of hemorrhoids like doctor-tested Preparation H. It also lubricates to make bowel movements more comfortable, soothes irritated tissues and helps prevent further infection. In ointment or suppository form.)

Top Hanoi Aide Leaves Talk Scene

PARIS (AP) — A top counsellor of the North Vietnamese delegation left the scene of the Vietnam peace talks today to return to Hanoi.

Le Duc Tho, who ranks third in the ruling Politburo of North Vietnam, left for his capital via the Soviet Union and Red China on what a delegation spokesman said was a routine trip. This is his third flight home since he first arrived in Paris as a special counsellor in June.

His departure raised speculation that he would be seeking new instructions.

But there seemed little hope that Hanoi would be softening its demands. A broadcast from the North Vietnamese capital today renewed the demand that the United States must "unconditionally" meet the terms of Hanoi and the Viet Cong's National Liberation Front if it wants peace.

Tho told newsmen before leaving: "I have the feeling that President Nixon is following the same policy as the administration of President Johnson. There is absolutely no difference between them."

Handicapped Home Due Study

A proposed interim home for mentally or physically handicapped children will be discussed at 8 p.m. next Monday at the Civic Center, for parents of handicapped children.

The home is proposed to provide these children with a three-week experience in social development and independent living once a year while parents and other members of the family do things they may not usually be able to do.

Cyclist's Condition Good From Accident

Daryl L. Rosean, 18, of 402 Live Oak Drive, Tamalpais Valley, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital with a broken left ankle and foot received when his motorcycle and a car collided on Highway 101 in Tamalpais Valley yesterday, the California Highway Patrol reported.

The highway patrol said Rosean's motorcycle collided with a car driven by Philip M. Gomez, 18, of 311 Molino Avenue, Mill Valley, at 6 p.m. as Gomez started a left turn onto Tennessee Avenue.

Larry's Starts Garbage Service In West Marin

Larry's Sanitary Service of Petaluma, which won a 10-year exclusive franchise for garbage pickup in West Marin last Tuesday, began providing service in West Marin during the weekend, the county, administrator reported today.

On Wednesday, the day after the supervisors granted the franchise, West Marin-San Geronimo Valley Refuse Disposal Co., which had been serving the are, suddenly pulled out.

Charles Purtle, operator of the West Marin firm, phoned Wednesday and said he would no longer serve the area, said Michael A. Chrystal, administrative analyst in the administrator's office. Chrystal said he had hoped for an orderly transfer of operations, giving Larry's more time to take over.

The sudden pullout by the West Marin firm brought several phone calls from residents in the valley who wanted garbage pickup, said Chrystal. "As of Saturday, Larry's began serving the area," Chrystal said.

The bid for the West Marin franchise was marked by bitter rivaly. The West Marin firm offered to provide service at $1.25 per 30-gallon container, while Larry's price was $1.50.

The county awarded the contract to Larry's, the second low bidder, on the ground that the low bidder's financial resources were not well established, and the West Marin firm had caused a garbage crisis in West Marin last May by suddenly suspending collections.

Stolen Auto Is Quickly Found

A 1964 Chevrolet was recovered 40 minutes after it had been reported stolen Friday to the San Rafael police.

Police said the car owned by Enrico Petri of 47 Scenic Road, Fairfax, was taken from the Loch Lomond Marina parking lot between 8 a.m and 4 p.m.

At 4:50 p.m. the car was found on a fire trail above Peacock Gap, near China Camp, police said.

TV Set Stolen

Theft of a portable television set from his home sometime between Thursday and Saturday was reported to Ross police by Edward J. Stanley Jr., 8 Laurel Grove Avenue. He reported that a rear door to his home had been left unlocked.

Three Persons Are Injured In Head-On Crash

Three persons were injured in a head-on collision yesterday on Sir Francis Drake Boulevard at Marin Road, Fairfax.

Albertia Elizabeth Haas, 39, of 145 Redwood Drive, Woodacre, who was traveling west, said she fell asleep while driving, according to Fairfax police.

Her car went into the eastbound lane and collided head-on with a car driven by Dr. Abraham J. Sender, 48, of El Cerrito, at 12:20 p.m. police reorted.

Mrs. Haas, who suffered severe cuts of the right knee, was admitted to Marin General Hospital, where she was reported in good condition.

Dr. Sender, who suffered a cut left forehead, and his wife, Bernice, 47, who suffered a possible broken nose, were transferred to Kaiser Hospital in San Francisco.

CHRISTIE CORHN

WILLIAM M. BECKER
Transplant donor

6-Year-old Transplant Progressing

CINCINNATI (AP) — Doctors report steady improvement in the condition of Christie Corhn, a 6-year-old recipient in heart transplant surgery Saturday.

She received the heart of William M. Becker, 7, who died 30 minutes earlier from auto accident injuries.

Doctors say Christie remains unconscious most of the time.

"There are a number of hurdles still to be overcome," said Dr. Edward Pratt, chief of staff at Children's Hospital where the operation was performed.

Her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Corhn of High Point, visited the hospital yesterday.

"We didn't talk to her," said Mrs. Corhn. "She was asleep when we saw her. But she has talked to the doctors, asking for a glass of water and that sort of thing."

Christie was born with a severely malformed heart, and her condition was described as terminal before the nine and one-half hour operation.

The donor sustained brain damage in an accident Thursday. His father, William Becker, was injured.

The Beckers visited the Corhns yesterday.

"We exchanged pictures and tears," said Mrs. Becker.

Asked the extent of her husband's injuries, she said: "A broken leg, head cuts and a broken heart."

Recorder Taken

Burglars took a record player and a tape recorder from the Bernard E. Eldredge School, 207 Maria Drive, Petaluma, police discovered yesterday. They said the office door had been forced open. The items were valued at $218.

Laird Hints Antimissile System Not Dead As Yet

WASHINGTON (AP) — Secretary of Defense Melvin R. Laird, hinting work may be resumed on the Sentinel antimissile system, says he has seen no evidence of a better proposal to defend the nation against nuclear attack.

Construction of the Sentinel "thin" antiballistic missile system, under fire from critics in Congress, was suspended recently for further study.

"There has been no slow-down in research and development," Laird emphasized yesterday. "There has been no slow-down as far as procurement is concerned."

He said the administration position on the project will be made public next month with budget revisions.

He charged the Soviet Union had escalated the arms race during the past two years. Laird said the Soviets already have a defensive missile system around Moscow and are continuing missile defense efforts, but he conceded their progress was not as great as had been estimated earlier by U.S. experts.

The defense secretary also predicted Red China will either fire or have the capability of firing an intercontinental ballistic missile by early 1970.

He said Russia is outspending the United States at a ratio of about 7 to 1 for defensive nuclear weapons.

Panel Adopts Garbage Policy

The Stinson Beach County Water District board Saturday adopted an ordinance to set up a refuse collection system in the district.

Under the ordinance, the district would issue a franchise to a private refuse company.

Directors still have to iron out some of the terms of the franchise agreement, before the franchise is put out for bid, reported Mrs. Harriet M. Greene, district secretary.

Refuse is now collected by Henry's Service of Stinson Beach.

CAR DEMOLISHED, DRIVER LIVES

Lester James Skippingday of 819 Mission Avenue, San Rafael, survived this shattering accident yesterday when his car swerved shortly before 5:30 p.m. off Highway 37, east of Atherton Avenue near Black Point. Skippingday, 23, was reported in good condition today at Marin General Hospital despite a broken pelvis and punctured gall bladder. The California Highway Patrol reported his car, traveling west on Highway 37, went onto the shoulder, ran up the embankment (right), spun around and ended upside down on the highway below. Gun Wielder Kidnap Try Is Reported

A Novato woman last night reported a case of kidnap and assault with a deadly weapon to Novato police.

Patricia G. Halloran, 22, of 10 Gustafson Court, reported that about 10 p.m. when she stopped her westbound car at the stop sign on Novato Boulevard at Tamalpais Avenue, a man opened the right front door and got in beside her.

He aimed a gun, thought to be a .38 or .45-caliber automatic, and said he was going to kill her, she told police. Then he told her to drive west. She drove as far as Wilson Avenue where she pulled over to the side of the street saying that was as far as she was going, according to police reports.

He then hit her on the right side of the face with either his fist or gun, she said. This time she drove on to Sutro Avenue where she stopped a second time, stating that she would not go any further, police reported.

The man then ripped two buttons from her blouse, she told police. She slumped down over the wheel and he left after rummaging through her purse, she said.

She flagged down a car driven by Donald F. McGills Jr. of 30 Roy Court, Novato, who took her to the Novato police station.

Miss Halloran described the man as a white male adult about 30 years of age, si xfeet tall of medium build, weighing 150 pounds. He had dark hair with sideburns. He was wearing blue denim pants and jacket, she said.

Police took her to Novato General Hospital for examination and then returned her to her car, according to police reports.

Youths Booked For Malicious Mischief

Two 18-year-old Greenbrae youths were arrested by Larkspur Police last night and booked into Marin County Jail on suspicion of malicious mischief after police found them near a newspaper rack with its coin box jimmied off.

Park-Type Tiburon Boulevard Is Urged

Tiburon Boulevard, which will eventually and inevitably be widened to a four-lane highway, should be developed as a public park corridor, not just a road, Supervisor Michael Wornum said Saturday.

Speaking to a symposium on Richardson Bay, sponsored by the Tiburon Parks and Recreation Commission, Wornum, who said he was speaking as a resident-planner rather than as a politician urged Tiburon Peninsula residents to recognize the inevitablity of the four-lane road.

He said the four-lane road was one of those "certain things that are going to happen and all we can do is make it as painless as possible."

He noted that the Williams, Cook and Mocine plan for Tiburon in 1990 called for a population of 30,000 on the peninsula.

"You can't keep giving out building permits and allowing commercial growth and keep Tiburon Boulevard a two-lane road."

Wornum noted that a rapid transit system may alleviate some of the traffic problems but warned that such a system is a "long way off."

In addition, he said, he "social conscience" of a community and the basic economic factors work against keeping the peninsula a low density, area for the rich.

Tourists lower taxes, he noted, but they, too, will add to the load on Tiburon Boulevard.

Wornum recommended a split level road with landscaping and a lineal park along the bay. Bicycle and hiking trails should be on the edge of the bay, he said, rather than on the Northwestern Pacific Railroad right-of-way. However, until the road is widened, the right-of-way should be used for trails, he said.

He also suggested Tiburon Boulevard be used for primary traffic with local traffic diverted to side connecting roads. "Everyone will scream that they don't want a main road through their little cul-de-sac but it's either that ot an eight-lane Tiburon Boulevard.

He also warned the audience of more than 75 persons that they should not allow engineers to plan their roads.

Earlier in the afternoon Beverly Bastian, president of the Belvedere-Tiburon Landmarks Society, outlined the history of the conservation effort in Richardson Bay.

Mill Valley architect Clifford Hanssen and attorney Robert Capron outlined plans for a hotel and convention center on the west side of Richardson Bay, proposed by Tom Nowell, and urged those present to write the San Francisco Bay Conservation and Development Commission urging denial of the plan.

Representing the Marin Conservation League, the two also asked concerned residents to urge the commission to allow the City of Mill Valley to dump Saucelito Canal dredging spoils at Alcatraz.

Marilyn Varani of 72 Goldenhind Passage told officers that someone stole $200 from an envelope in a bedroom night table.

Mars Flights Are Questioned

LONDON (AP) — British space expert Sir Bernard Lovell said today that if the Russians send unsterilized spacecraft to Mars serious contamination of the planet would be inevitable.

Lovell, director of England's Jordrell Bank Observatory writing in the London Times, predicted one or more probes to the planet later this month or early in March.

He said the Russians had made no concessions to the international scientific community's declaration that Mars should be a biological preserve and its suggested levels of sterilization for spacecraft.

"The entire subject of the sterilization of spacecraft is becoming absolutely vital," Lovell said.

An unidentified man was struck and killed Saturday at 8:50 p.m. while walking at the intersection of Old Redwood Highway and Railroad Avenue, Cotati.

Sonoma County Cornoner Andrew Johansen said the man carried no identification, but had a one-way bus ticket to San Francisco. He was described as being between 50 and 60 years old, five feet five inches tall, 150 pounds, with grey hair and blue eyes. Johansen said a finger print check is being made.

The California Highway Patrol had no details of the accident, but said he was struck by a car driven by Martha Lee Gustafson, 32, of 940 Railroad Avenue, Cotati.

Africa is the second largest continent, and ranks only fourth in population.

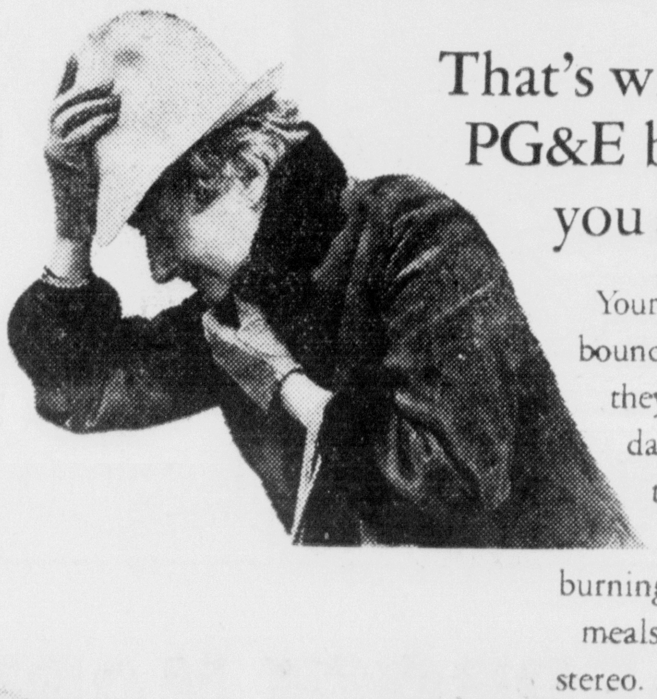
That's why your PG&E bill may leave you a little cold.



Your winter PG&E bills are bound to be bigger because they stand for more: More days and nights with the thermostat turned up. More lights (and burning longer). More hot meals. More TV watching and stereo. More of just about all the wintertime comforts of home. But remember, spring is just around the corner. So your bill will be on its way back down. That should make you feel warm all over.

Inmate At Quentin Falls To His Death

A 39-year-old San Quentin inmate with a history of epilepsy fell 35 feet to his death yesterday afternoon in the west housing unit of the honor cell block.

The victim was Ernest Ballin of Los Angeles, a three-time loser serving five to 15 years for possession of marijuana.

Prison officials said no foul play was suspected, and that he may have been stricken with an epileptic seizure just before the fall. There were no witnesses to his fall, and no notes were found in his cell.

Deputy County Coroner Richard W. Madigan said Ballin died of multiple injuries. He fell from a fifth tier to a concrete floor.

Ballin had been at the prison since June 1955, serving his third term since 1950.

In this age of half-pint economy cars, is there a place for a 3,000-pound, 5-passenger sedan that can deliver up to 30 miles per gallon?

Mercedes-Benz thinks so.

The amazing 220 Diesel. On trips, it actually gets up to 50 miles for the cost of a gallon of regular gas!

Many people still think they have only two choices when it comes to buying a new car.

Marvelous maverick

The motor car at right presents an ingenious third choice.

Mercedes-Benz sells 15 defiantly unconventional gasoline-powered models in the U.S.—plus this, easily the most unconventional of all.

It is the legendary Diesel.

This marvelous maverick is built for people who want an economy car, but who simply refuse to venture onto today's highways in a featherweight, cramped machine.

If you are willing to make a sizable initial outlay for the safety and comfort of a big, 3000-pound sedan, the Mercedes-Benz 220 Diesel will reward you with fuel costs that match the flimsiest little half-pint on the road.

What's more, the Diesel will eliminate many of your usual repair bills—and is likely to be serving you faithfully when most of today's sleek new "dreamboats" have been chopped up for scrap!

Cuts fuel bills in half

The Diesel works its incredible fuel economy in two ways.

First, of course, it uses lowly diesel fuel, sold at the thousands of service stations across the country where diesel trucks fill up. The price of this fuel varies from state to state. In almost all states it is lower than regular gasoline. In some states it costs only half as much.

Second, the Diesel sips its fuel at a miserly rate. In fact, the engine burns every drop so efficiently that exhaust is virtually smoke-free. A surprise to many.

If you've been resigned to getting 12, 15, 18 miles a gallon from standard sedans, brace yourself:

The Diesel easily delivers over twenty-five miles to the gallon—and, on trips, when you get full benefit of diesel fuel's price advantage over gasoline, you can average 30, 40, even 50 miles for the cost of a gallon of regular!

Many repair costs vanish

The engine of the Mercedes-Benz 220 Diesel is such a gem of simplicity that it merely dispenses with many parts that normally end up costing you money. It has no spark plugs. No points. No condensers. Not even a carburetor to repair or replace.

It goes and goes and goes

Best of all, this 4-cylinder diesel injection engine is designed to give you uncommonly reliable service—for years.

Not only are there relatively few parts to go amiss, but the parts that are present have been engineered to have characteristic Mercedes-Benz stamina.

There's a rugged overhead camshaft—and a five-bearing crankshaft. Twelve of the 16 piston rings are coated with expensive molybdenum, an exotic "space age" metal that won't melt below 4,712 degrees!

Mercedes-Benz does not warrant the Diesel to last for 10 or 20 years. Any car's life depends on how hard it is driven and how carefully it is maintained. But a lifetime measured in decades is no pipe dream, either.

Of the 700,000 Diesels it has built since 1936, Mercedes-Benz estimates that fully 80 percent are still humming along.

First, a Mercedes-Benz

The engine makes the Diesel an economy car. But its real value lies not so much in the things that make it different from every other Mercedes-Benz as in the things that make it the same.

Like every Mercedes-Benz, the Diesel is welded into being, not bolted. After 50,000 miles or so, you may begin to wonder if it will ever rattle.

When the welding stops, the body is dunked in primer, baked, spray-painted, hand-sanded, sprayed again, then hand-sprayed. Even the insides of the hubcaps are coated. Total paint and primer rust protection: over 44 pounds.

► All-independent suspension, the same type used on racing cars for maximum roadholding and minimum lurch, wallow and sway.

► Taut, recirculating-ball-type steering. You're in full control; no sloppy "play" in the wheel. It is fun to thread a Diesel through the corkscrew turns of a mountain road.

The pinnacle of safety

The Diesel's almost uncanny evasive ability is its best defense against blundering motorists. However, if the worst happens, the car is designed to shield you. Naturally it meets all the U.S. safety regulations. But Mercedes-Benz safety goes beyond the letter of these laws.

The entire passenger compartment is built as a sturdy "safety zone." Doors are designed to stay shut on impact. The front and rear of the car are engineered to crumple in a crash at a controlled rate, absorbing shock and reducing the threat of serious injury.

The sober verdict of Car and Driver magazine: Of all the world's motor cars, the current Mercedes-Benz line "represents the present pinnacle in safe car engineering."

A matter of pride

Like every Mercedes-Benz, the Diesel is conceived and assembled by craftsmen who take intense pride in producing a machine its owner can be proud of.

Slip inside and flex your back. This is no marshmallow seat. It supports you, mile after mile. It should: it was contoured with help from orthopedic physicians.

Many cars are designed to win admiration for their owners. Mercedes-Benz cars are designed to win admiration from their owners.

Quite a distinction.

ALMANAC

Today is Monday, Feb. 10, the 41st day of 1969 with 325 to follow.

The moon is between its last quarter and new phase. The morning stars are Mercury, Mars and Jupiter. The evening stars are Saturn and Venus.

On this day in history:

In 1942 the last civilian cars for the duration rolled off the assembly lines in Detroit as the industry was converted to war production.

In 1962 U-2 pilot Francis Gary Powers was returned to America in exchange for Russian spy Rudolph Abel.

In 1964 an Australian aircraft carrier and a destroyer collided in the Tasman Sea, killing 100 men.

In 1967 the 25th amendment of the Constitution became law, assuring presidential succession.

A thought for the day: Greek scholar Aristotle said, "Misfortune unites men, when the same things is harmful to both."

HOW TO PLAY

WINNING BRIDGE

By ALFRED SHEINWOLD

Disregard Mother's Advice About Drawing Of Trumps

"If you want to be a proper English gentleman," my mother used to tell me, "draw trumps at your very first opportunity." But my mother was not a very good bridge player, and I decided to disregard her advice when we came to live in the United States. I've given my own children different advice: If the hand looks at all difficult, don't be in a hurry to draw trumps.

DOWN TWO?

In today's hand, for example, my mother would have been down two. She would win the first trick with the ace of hearts, draw three rounds of trumps with an air of conscious virtue, and then would quietly lose two hearts, a club and two diamonds. "Bad luck," she would sigh, and she would go on to the next hand with undiminished courage.

If you want to play such hands more successfully, I suggest that you use more judgment than courage. Count your losers before embarking on the play of the hand, and note that you are threatened with the loss of two hearts. You can avoid losing those tricks if you ruff your low hearts in the dummy. Obviously, you cannot do that after you have drawn dummy's trumps. You must do the ruffing first and then draw the trumps.

PROPER PLAN

The proper plan for the hand is to win the first trick with the ace of hearts, ruff a heart with dummy's six of spades (just in case of some weird break in hearts), return dummy's deuce of spades to your own ace, and then ruff the other low heart with dummy's nine of spades.

You return to your hand with the ace of diamonds, and only now can you afford to draw the rest of the missing trumps. You lead out the king and queen of trumps, and can then cheerfully give up one club and two diamonds.

DAILY QUESTION

Partner bids on spade, and the next player passes.

You hold:
♠— J 10 7
♥— Q J 10 7 5
♣— 8 2

What do you say?

ANSWER: Pass. You have four points in high cards and one point for the doubleton, not quite enough for a response. If partner opened with one heart you would raise to two hearts since you could then count something extra for the especially strong support for partner's suit.

Prime Minister Puts It Poetically

NEW DELHI (AP) — "Those whose lot is cast among thorns, what have they to do with flowers?"

Prime Minister Indira Gandhi quoted this couplet to say she, as a politician, was a misfit to address a meeting of poets.

Homestead Valley Man Found Dead

The body of Donald Edwin Scarf, 58, of 246 Morning Sun Avenue, Homestead Valley, was found in the patio of his home yesterday. Death was atributed to a gunshot wound in the head which the Marin County Coroner's Office said was self-inflicted.

Sheriff's deputies reported a 20-gauge shotgun was found by the body. No note was found.

Scarf's body was found at 4:15 p.m. by a neighbor, Mrs. Kathleen St. Clair, who said she had not seen Scarf since Wednesday and became worried when newspapers and mail began piling up.

Scarf, who was a certified public accountant in San Francisco, is survived by a sister living in the East Bay, but her identity is not yet known, Coroner's investigator Keith C. Craig said.

Funeral is pending at Russell and Gooch Mortuary, Mill Valley.

Airport Service To Be Studied

An application to provide limousine service between Novato and San Francisco International Airport will be considered by the Novato City Council when it meets at 8 p.m. tomorrow in the Novato Community House.

Ted Cohen, doing business as Ted's Airport Limousine and Taxi Service of P.O. Box 401, Tiburon, applied for the license to operate the service from Novato.

City Mgr. Charles A. Brown compared his proposed rates with taxi rates. Brown reported that the differnece was that the limousine service would be allowed to charge per person and not per trip.

Other items to come before the council include the quarterly report from the chamber of commerce, revision of the sign section of the zoning ordinance, a report from the traffic safety committee and appointments to the downtown committee and ambulance service study committee.

Burglars Take Expensive Items

Two burglaries were committed in Sausalito last weekend, police reported today.

Burglars entered the home of Raymond R. Chmelika, 107-A South Street, Thursday night or early Friday and took two color television sets, a radio amplifier, a phonograph turntable and a tape recorder deck valued at a total of $965.

Saturday night, burglars entered the home of Irving Springer, 81 Crecienta Drive, and took a 35mm camera, radio and wristwatch valued at a total of $275.

ART REVIEW

Museum Is Featuring Fellowship Artists

By LAURA DEVENDORF

SAN FRANCISCO — Many recognized artists who have previously not attempted lithography have found it possible through Ford Foundation fellowships from the Tamarind Lithography Workshop and the result is a new interest in the media.

The San Francisco Museum of Art is currently featuring the Tamarind Suites, 12 series of lithographs by 10 artists, plus a one-man show of hand-colored prints executed by Frank Lobdell on a 1966 Tamarind grant.

RELATED SERIES

The suites are each artist's effort to produce a series of related prints which function as a group and yet are satisfying, seen separately. Most of the artists here have defined this in quite dissimilar ways, from developing literary themes, to illustrating bugs, to inventing a sort of mind-expanding soulmath.

Josef Albers, in his series "Midnight and Noon," extends a single composition through telescoping squares by shifting the intensity of blacks on black or yellows on yellow.

James Strombotne's images reach out brutally as he catches people in the act of living, while Jesse Reichek evolves three suites of biological silhouettes, clean, stark and identical except for color.

STRANGEST IDEAS

The strangest ideas are expressed in James Boynton's "Packaged Horizon, or a Guided Tour to Oblivion," where an underground root system is topped by strange surreal "things," lips or striped and spikey worms which are often screwed on to the horizon. But the most stunning format is Garo Antresian's "The Silver Suite," in which cool, undulating and striped geometric forms are printed in crisp hard-edge tones on silver foil paper.

Other artists included in the suites shown through March 9 are Jose Luis Cuevas, Rudy Pozzatti, Richard Hunt, Alfred Jensen and Walasse Ting.

LOBELL SHOWING

Until Sunday the museum will also show 28 lithographs and a major painting by San Francisco artist Frank Lobdell. There are an extended suite exploring symbols. Pods, boomerangs, and spikey seed shapes repeat through a series of variations which shift in emphasis, intensity and color.

The shapes read like tortured, jumbled figure forms whirling in space. They are not really recognizable yet they have a great subjective force. And the distrubing quality is only magnified in Lobdell's huge painting, "Summer, 1967: In Memory of James Budd Dixon," which looms as the brooding hub of the lithographs.

Fire Chief Hopefuls Due Detail Study

The Marinwood Community Services District board will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow at the community center to review applications for fire chief, to replace Albert F. Anderson who resigned last October.

The board will also discuss possible areas of cooperation with adjacent governmental units.

DRAMA REVIEW

Has 'Alice' Lost Out To Television?

By KARL BARRON

SAN FRANCISCO — After listening to a lot of grownup laughter and precious little from children in the American Conservatory Theater production of "Alice In Wonderland," one is forced to conclude that: (a) Lewis Carroll's story is funnier to grownups than to children; or (b) the children have been "mediumized" by the hours they spend before the TV set?

Since I have always felt that Carroll is primarily for adults, I must subscribe to a little of both theories. ACT's "Alice," under the direction of Barry McGregor, has lots of pace, good performers and a definite feeling for Carroll's nonsense. The company begins and ends with a reminder to its audience that it must ". . . never turn up your nose at nonsense . . ." and that ". . . Wonderland is all around . . ."

But somehow, this "Alice" did not seem to be creating much of a wonderland for the rather full house of little people I observed at a preview at Marines Theater. They enjoyed — yes — but the tense expectancy of a truly gripped theater was lacking .And the more I think about it, the more I'm convinced that Carroll may possibly be as dead as his own dodo, insofar as the turned-on generation's children — which are the children's theater will reach from now on — if it reaches them at all.

The question may be this: Can we woo them back to the delightfully silly nostalgia of Carroll from an experience based upon amplified music, otherworldly lighting effects, and subliminally speeded-up films? This is the entertainment of today's young people, now picked up by hucksters to the extent that most TV commericals look like underground films.

And the second question, in fantasy, undoubtedly becomes the problem of competing on stage with the ability of film to create complete illusion. When only movie houses offered this superior ability it wasn't so bad. Now that our youth reach kindergarten with as much as 4,000 hours of TV behind them, the tube's influence becomes paramount.

In fact, if one goes along with Marshall McLuhan "The TV child finds it difficult if not impossible to adjust to the fragmented, visual goals of our education after having had all his senses involved by the electric media . . ." this would apply to theater.

ACT'S first children's theater attempt, "Johnny Moonbeam," was basically a western and as such may have reached the children more easily — at least this was my feeling as part of the audience.

In "Alice" I felt that of the various odd animals, only Jerry Franken's White Rabbit and Phyllis Rice's Chesire Cat caught us up and made us believe the fantasy. The rest of them never were more than actors playing animals, a flaw which children catch instantly. The "people" — Miss Rice's roaring Queen, Jane Percival's tart Duchess and Eileen Ramsey's precise Alice —came off better.

However, I do not think the acting ability of the remaining cast is at fault, rather the attempt to engender belief with too little costuming, scenery and with far too bright lighting.

All this brings us to the question attending satire today — how can a play be more absurd than the things which are happening as front page news? Perhaps satire and absurdity are things of the past.

"Alice" plays at the Marines Saturdays at 11 a.m. and 2 p.m.

Sonoma State Sets Auditions For Carroll Play

Auditions for the Sonoma State College production of Lewis Carroll's "Alice in Wonderland" will be held at 7 p.m. today, Wednesday and Thursday in Ives Hall.

Directed by Lynn Clark, drama instructor, the play will be done with an interracial cast. The auditions will be open to nonstudents and will not be based on the usual method of a person reading for two or three specific roles.

Mrs. Clark said there will be group improvisational exercises in which she will look for flexibility of style rather than prior knowledge of a character.

She said the play technically will be made up of mixed media using film, amplified sound, illusionary projected sets, puppets and actors who appear to be puppets.

A professional comedienne, Mrs. Clark was managing director of the San Francisco Repertory Company before joining the Sonoma State staff. She wrote three plays before her curernt adaption of "Alice."

Jet Carrying 119 Hijacked To Havana

MIAMI (UPI)—A passenger pulled a gun on a stewardess today and skyjacked an Eastern Airlines jet to Cuba as it flew from San Juan, P.R., to Miami with 119 persons aboard.

It was the year's 14th successful hijacking to Cuba and the seventh of an Eastern Airlines plane. There also were two unsuccessful attempts.

The DC8 "stretchjet", which landed at Havana's Jose Marti Airport at 11 a.m. (EST), carried 111 passengers and a crew of eight. The plane, Eastern's Flight 950, had been scheduled to land in Miami at 10:40 a. m.

The jet took off from San Juan at 8:30 a. m. and at 9:34 a.m., as it winged over South Caicos Island in the southeastern Bahamas, pilot William C. Latimer radioed to Miami: "I have a man in back with a gun on the stewardess."

It was the first hijacking since Feb. 5 when a Colombian airliner carrying 47 persons was diverted from Cuba while flying from Barranquilla to Medellin, Colombia.

In the past, Cuban officials have allowed the crews of hijacked planes to return soon after landing in Havana.

But the passengers of hijacked planes—except the sick or very young—are normally forced to take a bus to nearby Varadero and ride shuttle planes back to Miami.

Cuban officials claim it is unsafe for a big commercial jet to take off fully loaded from Havana's short runways.

A Need Inspires Community Interest

By GRACE HENDERSON

"Everyone wants to keep our small-town atmosphere in Fairfax," said the wife of Mayor Robert R. Souza in an interview at the family home on Claus Circle one day. "We are happy Fairfax hasn't changed much," she added.

Louise Souza showed an outward composure that must be a result of her three-year training as a Navy WAVE. It was apparent no family could be this calm with four children, a small city of 7,375 population, scouts, church, an extra child or two most of the time and a paper boy to watch over.

A busy quartet of Souzas begins with twins Marian and Edward who are 12, followed by Paul, 9, and Donald, 6. Marian is studying creative music, and is a Cadette Scout; Edward carries the Independent-Journal and is working toward an Eagle Scout rating; Paul is a Cub Scout; and Donald carries the name of his maternal grandfather. The family attends St. Rita's Catholic Church and the children are enrolled at St. Rita's Parochial School. They come home for lunch, in three different shifts.

As if four children weren't enough to keep the home buzzing, Louise took on a "fun time" operation conducting a home nursery school a few years ago. This left her with one child to care for during the day the past three years, a child who calls her "Mom." Michael Walker was part of the troupe Mrs. Souza was forced to abandon for lack of time but he continues to make her home his headquarters when not in nursery school.

"Fairfax needs some high class recreation facilities, like a bowling alley with a good restaurant, but city administrators are our biggest problem," said the woman who describes herself as having a tendency to be a vice-mayor instead of a wife at times. The city administrator resigned in July and the town has been without one since, she said.

"I get lots of telephone calls, mostly pro to our position in city matters," Louise explained in answer to a question. Very few with differing philosophies tell her their views, she commented.

The Souzas were what might be described as a typical couple starting their marriage in an apartment in 1955, moving to her folks' home, then to the house in Farifax which was nothing but bare walls at the time. "We had a couple of chairs and some mattresses," Louise said telling of living with the then four-month-old twins.

This all followed a near-catastrophy of a wedding day. The Marin Catholic High School Chapel in Greenbrae was too small and St. Anselm's was undergoing a major remodeling job unknown to the pair when they selected the setting for their nuptials. When Louise and Robert arrived for their wedding rehearsal, they found to their dismay the ladders were up for painting, canvasses strewn about, kneeling benches disconnected and sawdust everywhere. It was after midnight when the bridegroom-to-be and his friends finished cleaning and the church was presentable.

The first taste of city government came to the couple through problems connected with the miniature park in the center of Claus Circle.

First it had been just a weed patch. Then periodically members of the 13 houses on the circle would get the city council to appropriate $500 towards its improvement which, each year, would go back into the general fund for lack of action. With the threat of the circle to be completely blacktopped, the residents again took their troubles to the council.

This time $800 was earmarked for landscaping, a firm became interested and action began. Grass and ivy were planted and households were deemed responsible for the care and watering of the greenery that was now theirs. More recently, however, the Park and Recreation Department determined the upkeep to be their responsibility and the little plot, that figures in the political life of the Souzas, became a small park.

When asked if she would approve of her husband advancing in the political world, Mrs. Souza contemplated it would be entirely up to him. The job takes a father away from his children at times, like having to miss a scout award night for a council meeting but as the mayor's wife put it "Someone has to serve the city."

MRS. ROBERT SOUZA welcomes home the family following their day at St. Rita's Parochial School in Fairfax. "Helping" her is Michael Walker whom she cares for part-time. The youngsters, left to right, are Marian, Donald, Paul and Edward. They keep their mother too busy to read much now but she has plans for the future when duties of being the wife of Fairfax's mayor and the mother of four children eases a bit. (Independent-Journal photo by Jim Kean)

The children have attended city council meetings and were present when their father was installed as mayor last spring.

Mrs. Souza comes from a family of state employees and her father was president of the California state retirement system. Her sister is Mary Anne Gallagher who lives with their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gallagher of Kentfield. Mr. Souza is from a family of 13 children and his father was with Smith news for many years.

For now, Louise Souza is dedicated to her family and their activities; her town and its welfare; her church and its duties; and the future of all. She likes to read but there isn't much time to explore the bookshelves in each room of the house. "We're a bookish family," she explained. She never wants to work away from her home on a full-time basis but does spend considerable time bicycling both for groceries and running errands and with her husband and children (six bicycles are housed in the yard).

Judging from action surrounding Mrs. Robert Souza, there is plenty to do at home and there will be action in the future as she follows through from her business degree to earn a CPA license. She is a graduate of Dominican College and carried out two years of graduate study at Stanford University. She took a maternity leave from her duties as statistician with the California Public Utilities Commission but never returned following the birth of the twins.

NO KITCHENS

Soviet Women Dislike Cooking

By ANTHONY C. COLLINGS

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet housewives, who often complain about the small size of their kitchens, are being offered as a model of the future an apartment with no kitchen at all.

An experimental project of two modernistic 16-story buildings, now nearing completion here, has 812 apartments but no facilities for the housewife to prepare complete meals.

An architectural oversight? Not at all.

THE CONTROVERSIAL project, called "House of New Life," deliberately excludes kitchens because its planners assume that the Soviet woman of the future will not want to cook.

Instead of eating in their apratments, the approximately 60 persons living on each of the 30 residential floors will take their meals in a communal dining room.

The effect will be something like that of a huge boarding house. The two buildings are designed to house some 2,000 persons.

Planners of the project say the kitchenless apartments will free Soviet women from the dreary task of spending hours every day waiting in lines in this country's shortage-plagued food stores.

THEY BACK up their argument with statistics, based on two-year scientific study begun in 1963 especially for this project. An 80-man group of experts found that in the new apartment houses the average Moscow housewife would spend an average of only 1.2 hours on activities connected with eating, less than half of the current average of 2.75 hours.

Those who occasionally want to eat in their flats can order catered food from the same kitchen supplying the communal dining room. Or they can prepares simple snacks themselves. In one corner of each apartment there will be a small refrigerator and an even smaller two-burner electric stove, plus a few shelves.

Furniture used only when company comes, such as extra chairs, will be kept in a storeroom for communal use and borrowed by each resident when needed.

Other items that will be borrowed from a public supply room include good silverware and china, and appliances such as vacuum cleaners.

"EVERYTHING YOU don't need every hour has been removed from the apartment," the Literary Gazette article said.

The apartments come already furnished. "In theory," construction supervisor Kornelayev said, "each resident will be able to choose from a selection of furniture styles before he moves in. But I don't know if this ideal will be achieved."

In another innovation, the plan calls for each apartment to have its own telephone — an item now missing from the average Soviet home. Unlike older Soviet buildings, these will have toilets and bathtubs in each apartment rather than having several families share them.

In an open space between the two apartment buildings will be an air-conditioned community center including a gymnasium, indoor pool, sauna baths, day care center for children, doctor's office, a widescreen movie theater, library, photo lab for amateurs, barbershop, dry cleaners and a glassed-in winter garden.

EACH FLOOR of the apartment buildings will have its own self-service automatic laundry rooms and places for ironing — again on a communal ironing board.

The communal concept is central to the plan, and carries with it Communist political overtones.

Literary Gazette noted the arguments of some workers who have grown used to collectivized Soviet farm and industrial life but retain a natural desire for individual privacy in their home life.

"The force of inertia is such," the paper complained, "that we don't even ask ourselves: might it not be that being a collectivist in daily (home) life is also good?"

THE PAPER said that, in contrast to previous dwellings, the New Life apartments would create "a different psychological atmosphere . . . and everyone will be interested in every other resident's cleanliness — including the moral kind."

In a separate article in the paper, Soviet academician S. G. Strumilin praised the project for creating a collectivist residential situation making it easy for communist propagandists to reach their targets.

In these new buildings, he said, "there are created the best possible conditions for activization of cultural and ideological-educational work among the workers at their place of residence, and the successful establishment of the norms and rules of Communist society in daily life."

Enthusiastically praising the New Life apartments, Soviet journalist Yuri Polukhinn wrote: "You will have no shops, no waiting in line, no net (shopping) bags. You will avoid getting irritated over petty things . . . people will smile more in the House of New Life."

POLUKHIN'S ARTICLE IN Literary Gazette, which often discusses non-literary questions, said the project could well be "a prototype for our future."

After reading his article, one Russian said: "Oh, it would be great. No waiting in line in food stores. And you can 'eat out' every day, inside your own building, without waiting in line at the reataurants."

But another Russian, reflecting the controversy around the project, complained: "I don't like it. No kitchen?"

Out at the snow-covered construction site, in a fast-growing new district called Noviye Cheryomysky (New Cherry Blossoms), construction supervisor Anatoly Kornelayev said he was convinced the project will be popular.

"Life here will be almost like in a hotel," he said with a big smile.

KORNELAYEV ADDED that each apartment will consist of only one room. Accordion-folding, screen-like walls will be used as room dividers, he said.

Apartments will vary in size from 124.2 square feet for one person to live in, to 432 square feet for up to four persons. Families of more than four will live in two adjacent apartments, he said.

Except for the four-person apartments, Kornelayev added, the rooms will have little closet

HELEN HELP US!

By HELEN BOTTEL

Criticizing Wife Begins Series Of Marital Troubles To Husband

DEAR HELEN:

Wimmin!

My wife was asked to give a speech to the P-TA. She is pretty good at talking, and has spoken at various clubs, but she complained to me that nobody will give her objective criticism. The tendency is, when people get a free talk, to praise the giver, she says. So she asked me to be her critic at the P-TA meeting. "Tell it like it is," she said, "And if I goof, say so."

How can one man be so dumb? I did just what she asked; wrote down all the things she did wrong, what needed improvement, how many "uh's" she had per minute. Oh, I did a masterful job—and now she is playing the "unappreciated" wife to the hilt. In other words, she is being kind and sweet and twisting the knife every chance she gets. I may never get out of the dog house.

Yesterday I overheard her (almost) turn down an invitation to speak because "My husband thinks I'm dull." No matter how I tell her I only did what she asked, I'm cruel and probably jealous to boot. Now, if I say she is a good speaker, she says I'm lying, and if I say nothing, I'm thinking bad thoughts. What can I say? — HONEST HUSBAND

DEAR H.H.:

Tell your thin-skinned missus that professionals thrive and grow on helpful criticism, while amateurs expect only praise: You mistook her for a professional — sorry! — H.

DEAR HELEN:

That graffiti room was a tremendous idea, and shouldn't be brushed off easily, just because the man of the house can't think while staring at the written walls of his study. You wouldn't throw away a guest book, so why paint out "guest walls?"

My suggestion is to put up traverse rods near the ceiling, and hang drapes all around the room. Then "Sir" can draw the draperies when he is working, but when there's a party, the walls will be there to sign on. A.D.

DEAR HELEN:

I'm not a theologist, but even one of those might not be able to figure this out. It is written that Adam and Eve were the first and only persons on earth, and they had sons, no daughters. So how did the world get populated? Must have been a mighty busy snake for a while there. — TIM

DEAR TIM:

I won't answer, on grounds that anything I say, Bible students will use against me. Will a theologist please step forward? — H.

Miss Durham Is A Bride

Linda A. Durham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William A. Durham of Novato, was united in marriage to Richard F. Cole at the First Baptist Church in San Rafael on Friday.

Mrs. Curtis Updegraff of San Rafael served as matron of honor, and Linda's sister, Judie Durham was the bridesmaid.

The bridegroom chose Robert Love of San Rafael as best man and ushers were James Carl Blankenship Jr. of Novato and James Carl Blankenship Sr. of San Rafael, as ushers.

The couple will reside in San Rafael, following a wedding trip to Yosemite National Park.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred H. Cole of Sonoma are the bridegroom's parents, and Mrs. George Cole of San Rafael is his grandmother. Richard was graduated from San Rafael High School, attended College of Marin and is employed at the San Rafael Post Office.

Who Is Keeping Girls Out?

The executive board of the Boy Scouts of America announced last year that as of Jan. 1 they would "be prepared" to admit teen-age girls to the Explorer program for boys.

So far in Marin there have been no girls in the program. It is not due to a lack of interest, according to Brad Clifford, director of public relations for the Marin Boy Scout Council, but rather a tangle of red tape.

The Boy Scout by-laws allow only women over the age of 21 to join as leaders or sponsors. In order to participate in scouting activities girls must be insured, so to get around this the Boy Scouts have allowed girls to join qualified girls' organizations such as the Girl Scouts or Camp Fire Girls and be affiliated with the Explorer program.

Not so simple — since Girl Scouts and Camp Fire Girls are short on teen-age members and do not want to give up the few that show an interest in scouting, according to the Boy Scouts.

The Girl Scouts, who claim many of their programs have been coeducational for years, have a different story.

"The Boy Scouts are not about to become a non-boy organization," says Jean Reagh, public relations director for the San Francisco Bay Council of Girl Scouts. "Instructions were given to senior troop advisors that the plan would go into effect Jan. 1 on a trial basis. Any girl with the approval of her parents and her advisor may participate in the Explorer activities, in fact we encourage girls to have interests beyond the troop."

The question is: why aren't there any girls in the Explorer program?

According to the Girl Scouts, the program has not been in effect long enough to judge its success or failure.

"We just haven't been able to recruit any girls," say the Boy Scouts.

"Girls can't join on their own; they have to go through their leaders," say the Girl Scouts.

Will the boys and girls ever get together?

Congress In Recess For One Week

WASHINGTON (AP) — The 91st Congress, its early weeks marked by general inactivity, is off on its first lengthy recess and there is little expectation the pace will quicken when the lawmakers return Feb. 17.

Although leaders expect President Nixon to make some budget recommendations and a few other legislative proposals in the next few weeks, Congress isn't expected to really get rolling until after the Easter recess in April.

The slow start is normal for a new Congress, particularly when there has been a change in presidential administrations.

Only two major laws have been enacted since Congress convened on Jan. 3. Most of the intervening time was spent on such organization details as selecting committees and getting them operational.

The first law hiked the salary of President Nixon, from $100,000 to $200,000 a year. The second provided $36 million in emergency financing for unemployment compensation payments to veterans and former government employees.

The pay boost for members of Congress, raising them from $30,000 to $42,500 a year, required no affirmative action. It was recommended by former President Lyndon B. Johnson and endorsed by President Nixon and included even bigger raises for some top government executives and judges.

The law under which Johnson recommended the raises makes them effective within 30 days unless either the Senate or the House objected.

The Senate defeated a vote by vote of 47 to 34. The House didn't even consider a veto resolution.

The increases become effective Feb. 14.

Peace Corps Tests

Truth-In-Lending Regulations Mapped

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Federal Reserve Board has issued sweeping regulations requiring businesses to disclose the total interest and service costs charged to customers buying on credit.

The regulations, which go into effect July 1, are designed to prevent gouging on credit purchases by requiring the seller to put in writing exactly how much interest and other charges the customer will have to pay over the cost of the item.

Released in final form yesterday, the regulations were an assignment given the Federal Reserve by Congress last year when it enacted a Consumer Credit Protection Act.

Congress divided enforcement responsibilities among nine federal agencies, with the Federal Trade Commission carrying the heaviest load.

Between now and July 1 the enforcement agencies will attempt to contact all banks, department stores, credit unions, mortgage brokers, credit card plans and other businesses that offer credit to spell out their new duties.

For most, the first reaction will be a rush call to the printers. The basic thrust of the regulations is that in all credit transactions the creditor must make written disclosure of the credit terms.

Fine print is banned in spelling out the information and the key words "finance charge" and "annual percentage rate" are to be printed more conspiciously than surrounding material.

This information will appear, for instance, on the monthly statement department store customers receive when they make revolving charge account purchases.

The regulations also contain tough language aimed at advertisements mentioning the availability of credit.

When an ad in any way describes credit availability in order to promote sales it will have to list fully all pertinent facts, including the annual percentage rate, number of payments, and size of the down payment required.

Criminal penalties for violation of the truth-in-lending rules will range up to a $5,000 fine, a year in jail or both.

The customer may also file civil suit if the finance charge was at least $100 and under $1,000, suing for twice the amount of the charge plus court costs and a reasonable attor-

Citizens Want Novato Sanitary, Water Merger

A committee to push for the merger of the Novato Sanitary District with the North Marin County Water District has been formed in Novato.

Albert C. Weitz of 65 Half Moon Road and Richard L. O'Connell of 18 Isabella Court were elected to co-charimen of the committee, according to Mrs. Evelyn Johnson, recording secretary.

Other officers are John S. Kilsby of 235 Corte Del Cerro, treasurer, and George A. Amaroli of 11 Rebecca Way, public relations.

The group will push passage of the issue in an election scheduled for April 15. The water district board, with endorsement from the Marin County Local Agency Formation Commission, has voted to absorb the sanitary district, with members of the sanitary board and city officials disapproving.

Weekly meetings of the committee will be held at 8 p.m. Wednesdays at the Bank of Marin.

Underworld Is Linked To Army Project

NEW YORK (AP) — A U.S. Army project in St. Louis has been "one of the chief sources of illegal revenue for the hoodlum element in St. Louis," U.S. attorney has told Life magazine.

Life, in its current issue, said yesterday that underworld figures made huge profits on the conversion of a St. Louis steel foundry into a munitiions plant "through a combination of corrupt St. Louis unions and mismanagement and lack of foresight on the part of the U.S. Army."

The plant, known as the Gateway Army Ammunition Plant, began its conversion on Sept. 25, 1967, at an expected cost of $8 million and a scheduled completion date of July 1, 1968, Life reported.

Now the project is expected to cost $22 million and be completed this July, the magazine said.

A Pentagon spokesman said there would be no immediate comment on the magazine article.

Life said:

A federal grand jury is investigating "the loss of millions of dollars at the same plant through union featherbedding, ghost payrolling, work slowdowns, phony overtime. . ."

Veryl L. Riddle, U.S. attorney for Missouri's eastern district, said three indictments had already been returned by the grand jury.

Life listed several men reportedly connected with the Mafia who allegedly received large sums on the payroll of the project although they did no work.

It said Mason-Rust, the contractor, had no permanent work force of its own in St. Louis and had to "make do with an imported management team which was immediately at the mercy of Local 42 (of the Laborers International Union of North America, AFL-CIO). . ."

The conversion has been done on a "cost plus" basis, whereby the government agrees to pay all costs plus a profit for the company, according to Life, which said the Army chose this method as the quickest for completing the project.

Hiring, Center On Fairfax List'

Recommendations to hire a city administrator and to build a new fire-police-administration complex will be discussed by the Fairfax City Council at 8 p.m. today.

The recommendations were made by the civic affairs panel of the December Congress for Community Progress and unanimously adopted by all Fairfax residents attending the congress.

The council is also expected to take a stand on a unification plan for the Tamalpais High School District and will seek authorization to include Center Boulevard in the county urban thoroughfare system so it will qualify for funds from the county.

MARIN WATER PLAN—Proposed supplemental water for Marin would flow to the county through an aqueduct (A) from the Russian River. Financing for the aqueduct will be asked this year in a $30 to $40 million bond issue. The only alternate, the North Bay Aqueduct, (B on this map by Independent-Journal artist Jack Lucey) has been rejected.

MARIN WATER PROJECT

Biggest Bond Issue Expected In County

come from several Northern California sources including the Eel River, the plan proposed.

The legislature authorized the aqueduct in 1957 and appropriated $1,340,000 for preparation of plans. Another million was appropriated in 1959 for lands, easements and rights of way for the aqueduct.

In 1958, Seeger said Marin was interested in the North Bay Aqueduct as a source of supplemental water, but felt at that time that the county's own water resources would last until 2010.

He cited the then planned Nicasio Reservoir and the development of Walker Creek in northern Marin County as the chief pre-2010 water sources.

However, subsequent studies of Walker Creek and water needs by Marin Municipal Water District indicated that the creek would be the most expensive supplemental source and wouldn't supply enough water for needs of 1990.

A year later, 1959, interest in the North Bay Aquedust seemingly had not diminished. Both North Marin and Marin Municipal districts endorsed the aqueduct and said they were including it in their long-range plans.

Also in the long-range plans of both districts, however, was the Russian River, and by 1960 interest in the aqueduct waned.

Jerome B. Gilbert, general manager of the North Marin district, questioned the state's source material for the aqueduct studies and said he believed the "criteria might not be proper," and "additional studies are reasonable."

Numerous hearings by the state showed a definite lack of agreement on the project by the four counties involved, although the state continued pushing it.

In February 1961, a state water official, commenting on a reevaluation of the North Bay Aqueduct, said, "I have seen the studies to date and I am personally skeptical that you people will want to sign up for water at what it will cost." Yet, he added that the preliminary figures indicated other water would cost more than either the aqueduct or locally developed water, such as from Walker Creek.

In November 1961, another state official concurred: "The North Bay Aqueduct is the cheapest way to provide water for the North Bay area."

"The North Bay Aqueduct is the most visible means of providing large quantities of water to satisfy the anticipated demand" of the North Bay area, said still another state water official in 1962.

How much would aqueduct water have cost Marin Municipal Water District users?

Estimates vary. In 1963, the last state report on the four-county project was issued with Marin County's cost based on local water district estimates that 35,500 acre feet of water would be needed in 1990. (The figure has since risen to 45,000 acre feet.)

Cost per acre foot, treated and delivered, was tentatively estimated by the state at about $46 for Marin. (An acre foot is the amount of water it would take to cover an acre a foot deep. It contains 325,000 gallons.) But a more detailed report issued that year by North Marin and Marin Municipal water districts, put the figure at $31.60.

Several aqueduct sizes were proposed and the one which most nearly approximates the size of the now favored Russian River project called for delivering 115,000 acre feet of water per year.

Total costs over the life of the North Bay Aqueduct project (1965-2038) would have been about $64.5 million, including capital expenditures, interest, operation and maintenance of the aqueduct, water, and treatment of water, according to 1963 estimates of the state.

At the same time, the total cost of the Russian River project was estimated at $65.1 million, with an acre foot cost of $34.35.

(Tomorrow: Details of the Russian River project.)

Enrollment Jumps 1,000 At College

Campus unrest at other Bay Area colleges was credited today with contributing heavily to a huge increase of more than 1,000 students at College of Marin this semester.

Students registered for the spring semester — which started today — numbers 6,105, compared to last spring's enrollment of 5,022.

Asked if the student unrest at San Francisco State and other colleges had swollen enrollment, Louis H. Herkenoff, acting college president, replied, "Yes, and this is the biggest spring enrollment in our history."

Dean of Students Irwin P. Diamond said it looks as if the larger enrollment is related to strike and protest movements at other colleges but more will be known at the end of the week when students applications are processed.

Listed were 3,232 day students, 1,802 day and night students and 1,072, night only.

A total of 6,200 students registered last semester and of these, 5,423 remained in classes.

Of the 6,105 students now enrolled, 3,978 are continuing students.

The school population explosion was felt this morning when some students arrived as early as 6:30 a.m. to find parking space. Classes began at 8 a.m. on the Kentfield campus.

Coroner Probes Petaluma Death

A Petaluma woman died last night possibly from a combination of alcohol and an overdose of drugs, according to police.

Anna Mae Doyle, 39, of 821 East Washington Street, was pronounced dead on arrival at Hillcrest Hospital at 7:30 p.m. yesterday. Her husband Charles M. Doyle, 44, told police his wife had been drinking during the day. He called for an ambulance when he could not rouse his wife and found a half empty bottle of pills.

Sonoma County Coroner Andrew Johansen said his office is investigating the death.

Riding Permit Likely For Motorcycle Club

The Marin County Motorcycle Association, a 100-member businessmen's group, will probably win a use permit to continue riding the trails in the hills north of China Camp, county zoning administrator Thomas E. Cordill declared this morning.

Cordill said he wants to contact the sheriff's office to make sure that proper law enforcement is available if needed before a use permit is issued.

Even if the permit is allowed, it will be a temporary one that is subject to renewal so that complaints from neighboring residents can be reviewed, said Cordill.

Stanley Wisnes of 211 Union Street, San Rafael, sales manager for Campbell-Bishop Chevrolet in Corte Madera, is president of the group.

"The members are all local businessmen, many of them fireman," said Wisnes. He assured Cordill that the club is nothing like the Hells Angels or the Grim Reapers.

Restaurant Is Hit By Gunman Who Takes $365

A gunman with shoulder length hair escaped with $365 Saturday night from L'Europe Restaurant, 2214 Fourth Street, San Rafael police reported.

Restaurant owner Fritz A. Verburg told officers he was counting receipts in the dining room at 11:45 p.m. when the robber, armed with a .38-caliber automatic pistol, entered through a kitchen door.

An accomplice was heard in the kitchen, but not seen by Verburg. Both escaped in a car parked outside.

The gunman was described as about 25 years old, five feet, nine inches tall, weighing about 160 pounds, with brown hair.

Girl Bruised As Car Stops For Dog

Lisa Lorente, 10, of 251 Fawn Drive, Sleepy Hollow, was treated for bruises at Marin General Hospital yesterday after a two-car collision at 4:45 p.m. on Butterfield Road, the California Highway Patrol said.

She was a passenger in a car driven by her brother, Warren J. Lorente, 18, of the same address. The highway patrol said Lorente stopped his car suddenly when a dog walked into the road and his car was hit by another driven by Diane L. Gillespie, 21, of San Bernardino.

Belvedere Home Hit By Slide

A 63-year-old Belvedere home was ordered abandoned yesterday as earth slides threatened to dump the house into Belvedere Cove.

By this morning, a large section of the bank adjacent to the home at 188 Beach Road, owned by Gloria Spatta, had slid over the cliffs to the Beach below, at some points dropping away as much as five feet from the original slope level.

Although the slide had not reached the foundations of the house itself, a first floor patio and second floor deck slid away from the house yesterday afternoon.

The slide was first noticed yesterday by Jamie Kink of 312 Beach Road and Steven Manning of 196 Beach Road. The two youngsters, playing in their tree house adjacent to the Spatta home, smelled gas and upon investigating noticed the slides.

The Belvedere police and fire departments were notified and the Pacific Gas and Electric Co. was called to shut off all utilities.

Mrs. Spatta and her son, George, were out of town for the weekend and stayed with neighbors when they returned to Belvedere last night.

Belvedere City Mgr. William L. Cavalli said the slide was apparently caused by rain saturation. At the moment, he said, it appears the house can be saved but the final determination on the fate of the house will be up to a soils engineer.

The Spatta property and an adjacent public pathway have been closed to the public, Cavalli said.

Screens Taken

James Sanford, 77 Carlton Drive, Petaluma, reported to police yesterday that nine window screens and a sliding glass door had been stolen from his home.

Attorney Vows Fight For Locks

While the Air Force prepared today to ship Michael R. Locks to Leavenworth Federal Prison in Kansas, his attorney announced he would fight to keep the young man from serving his sentence of one year at hard labor.

Locks, 25, was found guilty Friday of violating an Air Force order when he appeared in uniform Oct. 12 at an antiwar rally in San Francisco.

Attorney Richard J. Werthimer said he will file a writ of habeas corpus in federal district court in San Francisco and will also appeal directly to Maj. Gen. Robert W. Barns, commander of the Fourth Air Force, to suspend Lock's sentence.

Locks is presently detained at the Hamilton Air Force Base stockade, but is to be sent to Leavenworth soon, according to a base spokesman, who said military regulations do not permit delay in serving a sentence during appeal.

Dixie Trustees Switch Session

Dixie School District trustees will meet at 8 p.m. tomorrow instead of Wednesday night because Wednesday is Lincoln's Birthday.

Filippo Construction Co., which built Oak View School additions, will ask the trustees for more funds for work which the contractor said was not called for in the plans and specifications.

Another item on the agenda is a proposed demonstration school designed to improve instruction in history. The project calls for bringing students of minority races to the Dixie School District for the summer session to work with Dixie pupils. The project, undertaken jointly by the Dixie District and Sonoma State College, would be financed by federal funds from the Educational Professional Development Act, said Supt. Dennie B. Willis.

Trustees will also discuss policies and regulations on the selection of innovative materials and library books for the school district.

Auto Dismantling Yard Permit Asked

An application by Robert H. Greene to include an automobile dismantling yard in a light industry zone at 54 Industrial Way is scheduled for consideration at the 8 p.m. meeting tomorrow of the Larkspur Planning Commission at city hall.

Larkspur has no zoning permitting such an operation.

Dismissal Asked In Dope Case

A motion to dismiss charges against Thomas Keynard Driskill, 19, of Alto, accused of possessing marijuana for sale, was entered today in Marin Superior Court.

His attorney, Carl B. Shapiro, said that a search warrant issued in the case had not contained Driskill's name and that this made the evidence obtained illegal.

Driskill turned himself into county authorities in November after reading of a raid at his home at 4 Crystal Court, where narcotics agents confiscated three kilograms of marijuana.

Judge Harld J. Haley continued the case until Feb. 24.

Two Important Reports; Much Different Reactions

A report on "Problems in the Administration of Justice in California," which suggested shakeups all along the line from arrest to imprisonment and parole, was issued last Thursday by a Washington, D.C., lawyer.

The report by Ronald L. Goldfarb, commissioned last year by the Assembly Judiciary Committee, was sharply critical of the juvenile courts, the bail system, the handling of civil suits and probate matters, the state's penal institutions, and even California's long-vaunted system of indeterminate sentences. It suggested shakeups in all of them.

IF THERE WAS A TOE not stepped on in the administration of justice, from the cop on the beat to the state Supreme Court itself, we don't know whose it was.

Goldfarb delivered his report to Assemblyman William T. Bagley, who headed the judiciary committee at the time it was ordered. Bagley immediately released it. There was no suggestion it should be kept under wraps until review by the whole committee or by the numerous arms of government which came under its fire.

No great outcry followed release of the report. Those whose toes were stepped on may have grumbled privately, but they called no press conference, issued no retort, gave vent to no public maledictions.

TWO DAYS BEFORE the Goldfarb report, the staff of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education delivered to that council, and made public, a report requested by the Legislature on "Meeting the Enrollment Demand for Higher Education in California Through 1977."

This report held that no new University of California or California state college campus will be needed during the next eight years, and that 19 of 30 new junior college campuses being planned will not be needed within that period. Among those 19 is the Novato campus of Marin Junior College District.

THE COORDINATING Council for Higher Education — which includes among its members representatives of the university, the state colleges and the junior colleges — reacted with outrage. Members criticized the staff for making the report public. The council wound up returning the report to its staff to be worked over and resubmitted in October.

Theodore C. Wellman, president of the Marin district's board of trustees, asserted: "The staff took the ball and ran with it by sending it all over the state without any appreciation of the council."

IT IS NOT AT ALL surprising that U.C. and college officials should be unhappy over a report that upsets some of their long-laid plans.

What is a bit surprising though, and certainly disturbing, is that they should suggest the report should have been suppressed until approved by the council.

The Legislature called for the report for guidance in appropriating money for the various higher education jurisdictions that compete for funds. If the findings were subject to suppression by those same jurisdictions, what on earth good would they be?

Certainly the staff of the Coordinating Council for Higher Education cannot be accused of being anti-education. It may have erred in its findings. But then, too, it is just possible that U.C., the state colleges, and the junior college districts, all doing their own planning, may each have counted many of the same heads in projecting future enrollment.

AFFAIRS OF STATE

Many Bills On Campus Unrest, But None Seeks To Find Cause

By HENRY C. MacARTHUR

SACRAMENTO (CNS)—Continued disorders on California university and state colleges campuses would seem to indicate a new approach is needed.

If the facts behind the revolution in higher education are known, they have not been made available to the public at large.

If students and faculty members have legitimate complaints which lead them to destructive actions against the physical properties of the schools, these too have not been outlined specifically.

UNTIL THE FACTS are known, many different kinds of opinion will be advanced for solutions, none of which will solve the problem in any comprehensive manner.

For instance, it is strongly suspected in many quarters that the forces of communism in one way or another spark demonstrations and other publicity-seeking events which serve to continue the attacks. Yet there have been no announced attempts to get to the bottom of this suspicion.

There is the contention on some fronts that college administration has become faulty, that highly paid professors are turning the process of teaching over to "aides," some of whom know less about the subject than do the students.

On the part of legitimate students, there are complaints that the campus disruptions are causing them to attend classes in a state of apprehension and actual fear that they will suffer violence.

Fundamentally, a seat of learning cannot exist indefinitely when force and violence are tolerated. Neither can the expenditure of public monies be justified when students are expected to continue their studies in an atmosphere of apprehension.

Gov. Ronald Reagan has said many times that force and violence will not be tolerated, and to back up his statements, just last week authorized use of the highway patrol to combat the militants. Yet demonstrations continue.

THE STATE Legislature has before it more than 40 bills and resolutions seeking return of the campuses to their normal functions. But there is no proposal to get to the heart of the subject through a factual investigation to determine what is actually wrong. Should such an investigation ever be authorized, it is apparent that it should be conducted by persons or firms outside faculty or administration influence.

It is one thing to keep educational institutions open by force, but it is quite another to secure facts which would determine the original causes of unrest and correct situations which cause disruptions.

It will be only when the facts are determined that steps can be taken to maintain higher education on an acceptable basis.

"You say they're BOTH ours?"

WHAT OUR READERS SAY

Nary A Kind Word For Gov. Reagan

According to the papers, "our hero" Twenty Mule Team Reagan has promised the overburdened California taxpayer a $100 million tax rebate for his election year, 1970. We the poor tax-paying "slobs" need it desperately now.

Reagan, after promising no new taxes if elected, slaps on a billion-dollar tax increase, and now promises $100 million rebate. What happened to the difference? . . .

He promised immediate tax relief to the property owner; everyone two years later is waiting.

He said all he wanted to do is serve the people of California, and was not interested in the presidency. The echo was not even gone from his words when he spent the next six months campaigning for nomination for President . . .

He has turned the California Highway Patrol into a Gestapo. Under the guise of safety the overtaxed motorist is being stopped and cited at every water hole for some minor defect of his car. This costs him millions of dollars, because the boys in Sacramento have to find something for the boys with a badge to do. Why don't they concentrate on moving the traffic at rush hours at the Golden Gate Bridge, for example, instead of harassing the motorist?. . .

Killings Glorified In Sports Story

Reading the sports page of today's I-J (Feb. 5), I was sickened and appalled by the story of the "Dingaling Red Headed Huntress." I fail to see the sport in chasing and killing an animal, especially one whose numbers are steadily decreasing.

How much more humane and decent, and challenging as well, had the "huntress" captured the beauty of the animal with a camera rather than an arrow through its jugular vein! The "sport" of killing is bad enough. Why glorify it?

'Children Spooked' To Push Bonds

Re the school bond election Feb. 18 for $2,100,000 . . . Kids are coming home "spooked" from hearing at school if this bond isn't passed, it will be half-day sessions or no school a-tall.

Parents were shown a film at school which supposedly represented the way their child would be taught sex ed. What went on after to our kids was adult sex ed. Move lulled parents into apathy while the school was undermining the dignity and sanctity of their homes.

Like the camel who was allowed to stick his nose in the tent flap, and soon everything behind his dang nose followed and crowded master out. Parents saw the nose but their children got the whole animal.

Supt. of Schools Virgil Hollis and various boards of education are fully aware this animalistic sex ed is following a national method of influencing "think patterns" of our children . . . The political "activists" now controlling the National Education Association are responsible for the dissemination and acceptance of this controversial program through their associated school organizations . . .

Lack of discipline in our schools has caused lack of modesty, morals, and created tobacco and pot smoking on school property, not to mention peddling pot in classrooms and on the grounds. If educators can't figure out why voters won't pass school bonds they are stupid indeed . . .

TDTA Fighting For Strong Schools

Your editorial of Jan. 29 declaring that the Tamalpais District Teachers Association "Hold(s) Electorate in Very Low Regard" and their attitude is "the public be damned!" certainly holds in low regard the intelligence of your readers.

The TDTA opposes a "new unification plan" at this time because it feels a split high school district could not provide the excellent educational program the one district now provides. The Marin County Committee on School District Organization is still studying four plans and much more data is needed before one is sent to the voters.

Furthermore, election procedures are vague, and the county committee has not yet spoken on them. Under procedures recently approved the the state Board of Education for other high school district splits, the preponderance of voters in the Redwood attendance area could determine the fate for the other two less populated areas (Drake and Tam). . .

If the district were split three ways, the Drake area would end up with 14 per cent less assessed valuation per child. "Stripped or rhetoric," the TDTA desires the strongest schools possible for all our (the public's) children and feels the single high school district best accomplishes this.

(Editor's note: The Tamalpais District Teachers Association is entitled to oppose any unification plan, whatever its reasons. We think the public is also entitled to a vote on some plan other than the one it has already twice rejected.)

REMEMBER WHEN?

10 YEARS AGO

Feb. 10, 1959

Eighteen were killed and 265 injured when a tornado hit the heart of St. Louis, Mo.

State Sen. John F. McCarthy, R/San Rafael, introduced a bill in the Legislature to create a single Bay Area transportation authority with jurisdiction over bridges, airports and seaports.

Feb. 10, 1959

Dr. J. Paul Leonard of Stanford University gave a public presentation of his report on San Rafael school building needs, which called for a five-classroom school in Santa Venetia, a six-classroom school in Sun Valley, addition of six classrooms each to Coleman and Short schools, a new classroom wing and cafeteria at San Rafael High School, and a new elementary school on high school property.

TRY AND STOP ME

By BENNETT CERF

A firm believer in seat belts, a Mr. Koshland of the California Koshlands drove to church one recent Sunday morning, jammed into the one remaining space in the parking lot, hurriedly unbuckled his belt, stepped out of his car — and his pants fell off.

A salesman's wife complained to her pastor, "My husband's behavior is really becoming scandalous. All the neighbors are now wise to the fact that on these so-called business trips of his, he does little besides playing poker and the ponies, and entertaining wild women."

"Let's face it," commiserated the pastor. "Your husband's a miserable sinner."

"A sinner, yes — but miserable is just what he isn't," contradicted the wife. "The so-and-so's having the time of his life!"

By ROSCOE and GEOFFREY DRUMMOND

WASHINGTON — The United States and the Soviet Union face the most difficult negotiation they have ever undertaken together.

Everything that has been done thus far has been child's play compared to the sticky, sensitive, nearly intractable issues which stand in the way of agreeing to cut back the costs and risks of the unending pileup of nuclear weapons.

Right now Moscow keeps saying "hurry up" to President Nixon. But for two years President Johnson and Defense Sec. Robert McNamara were pleading with the Russians to start nuclear talks. No response.

Now they seem eager, and Mr. Nixon will respond. But there is no reason he should not take time to review thoroughly every major negotiating position and thus be truly ready for the most important and potentially most valuable negotiations we have had with the Russians since the Communists came to power.

THE ACHIEVEMENTS to date are not slight. Five peripheral treaties have been accepted, and it has taken from three to five years to negotiate each:

1—Providing for international exploration of Antarctica and banning nuclear weapons there.

2—Limiting nuclear testing to underground.

3—Prohibiting nuclear weapons in outer space.

4—Making Latin America a nuclear-free zone.

5—The nonproliferation treaty.

THIS IS FINE, better than we might have expected. But it looks more impressive than it is, so far as bearing on the giant task ahead. The reasons are these:

In all of these treaties the nuclear powers are only promising to refrain from doing what they are not doing anyway — giving nuclear weapons to other countries.

In none of these treaties is the Soviet Union accepting any international inspection on its own territory.

In the limited test ban, the United States and the Soviet Union gave up atmospheric testing only after they had decided that underground testing would be adequate for the future.

THESE TREATIES on nuclear matters have great value, but they leave untouched the principal differences between the United States and Russia in the far bigger negotiations now coming.

There can be no agreed slowing down of the arms race, no real cutback of nuclear weapons unless there is effective on-site inspection in both countries. So far, Russia has always given a flat no.

And this time no meaningful U.S.-Soviet treaty can be negotiated which doesn't go a great deal further than just promising to do what they are already doing. The inspection may be a high hurdle, but an even higher one likely will be finding the level at which each nation will be willing to freeze the arms race and still feel that its national interests are not in jeopardy. This can be the toughest, touchiest issue of all, and it lies at the heart of a successful negotiation.

BECAUSE, the other treaties did not have to deal with these crucial matters does not mean that they have not helped. Without them, the coming nuclear talks would not be in prospect at all.

When each of these five treaties was being slowly and painfully worked out, there were times when the outlook was black and many throught success would never come. But it did. For a long time during the test-ban talks the Russians avowed they would never accept atmospheric test-ban by itself. But they did.

Now both sides must realize that the cost of failure is too great.

INSIDE WASHINGTON

New Watchdog Agency For Poverty War Eyed

By ROBERT S. ALLEN and JOHN A. GOLDSMITH

WASHINGTON — Labor Sec. George Shultz is considering setting up a new "watchdog" agency to strengthen his department's check on the multi-milllion dollar manpower training-employment programs it finances.

The contemplated investigative unit would report directly to Shultz instead of going through the usual bureaucratic channels.

President Nixon's known plans to shift various manpower-employment programs to the Labor Department from the Office of Economic Opportunity — the Johnson administration's multi-billion dollar anti-poverty agency which is to be dismantled.

A long series of fraud, corruption, payroll padding, kickback and other scandals in OEO-Labor Department-financed programs throughout the country. An illustration is the recent disclosure of extensive defalcations and other illegalities in New York City's Human Resources Administration. Investigators have established that $2.7 million of OEO-Labor Department funds was looted from the Neighborhood Youth Corps program administered by HRA.

REP. WILLIAM AYRES, Ohio, ranking Republican on the House Education and Labor Committee, has recommended that the Labor Department immediately create a "division of internal audit and inspection" to strengthen supervision and control over the many costly manpower-employment programs.

REP. JOEL BROYHILL, R-Va., member of the District of Columbia Committee, is finally making progress in his long fight for a thorough airing of charges of graft, corruption and other scandals in Pride, Inc., much-publicized project to provide employment for hundreds of Negro youth in Washington's ghettos.

The General Accounting Office has informed Broyhill that it is conferring with Labor Department officials on a joint probe of Pride.

And Sen. John McClellan, D-Ark., chairman of the Rackets Investigating Committee, has advised Broyhill that the Justice Department is examining evidence against Pride "to determine promptly whether criminal prosecution for the alleged corruption is warranted."

The Labor Department has dished out $6.1 million to Pride since it was hastily launched in the summer of 1967 when tensions were running high and the capital appeared on the verge of racial violence. Since its founding Pride has been under attack on numerous counts — payroll padding, kickbacks, embezzlement, fraud and other illegalities.

State Action May Save Some Trees On Bolinas Ridge

When a Coos Bay logging firm bought timber rights on the 1,800-acre Righetti Ranch on Bolinas Ridge last December, the official reaction was that there's not much we can do about saving the trees, short of buying the ranch.

But all may not be lost.

Director William Penn Mott Jr. has written letters to the landowner, Dr. Ethel Righetti of Castro Valley, and to logger George E. Walker of Coos Bay, Ore.

Director Mott points out in the letter that the state has long-planned a scenic parkway from Mount Tamalpais to Samuel P. Taylor Park along Ridgecrest Boulevard. Mott is asking the logger for some arrangement whereby a 300-foot scenic easement on top of the ridge can be saved from the chain saw so that motorists driving along the "scenic parkway" won't be faced with a stretch of denuded ridge strewn with rubble and stumps.

THE NUMBER of meetings that should be covered during the week is staggering. We blamed it on the fact that Marin has "more than a hundred organizations."

Mrs. J. T. McKeever, executive assistant for Marin Aid to Retarded Children, kindly pointed out to us that we missed by 800.

Unbelievable, says Mrs. McKeever, but Marin has 900 organizations — social, civic, religious, sport, art, fraternal, professional etc. She just ticks off a few — 98 parent groups, 39 women's clubs, 105 church groups, 216 sports clubs or teams, 30 music groups, 43 improvement and homeowner clubs, 19 union, citizens, and retired groups, 50 special interest groups, and 35 conservation groups.

Assuming that each of the 900 meets once a month (many meet more often), that would be 30 meetings every day including Sundays. If you leave out weekends, that would be 45 meetings each day. If each group met twice a month, there would be 90 meetings each week day.

And I'd swear half of them meet at the Civic Center.

THERE'S a rumor that the amiable colonel from the Corps of Engineers, Frank C. Boerger, may be retiring soon. He's the one, you recall, who's been prescribing esthetics like vinyl fences, textured concrete, and weeping willow screening to doctor up the Corte Madera Creek Flood Control Project.

Hope the Army retains him as "esthetics consultant" for all of its projects.

'And We Have A Fifth Column Within The City'—General Mola

During the civil war in Spain, the Spanish rebels, in the fall of the year 1936, had four columns advancing on Madrid, and inside the city, attacking the defenders from within, there was a subversive fifth column.

You think of this and you look at the columns of young men and women advancing on schools demanding they be closed. You hear all their demands, many so absurd, so preposterous they stagger reason and insult good sense. And you hear the instructors and professors from within adding their strident voices to the assault. And you wonder—when, where, how did it all come about? Then you think of the fifth column and how it works. . . .

AFTER DINNER the talk turned to politics. Someone touched an idea and everyone leaped as if at a game of tag. Then Paul, rebutting a point, said:

"What you say is not likely. Everything is relative."

No one objected. Paul made his point and went on to greater feats of sophistry. "Everything is relative" stood boldly as a giant thought, a Gibraltar of a postulate — unapproachable, untouched, unquestioned. No one argued that when everything is relative, then nothing is absolute. If nothing is absolute then "there's no base from which to operate." With this drifting, catch-as-catch-can philosophy, anything goes. Nor did anyone paraphrase Voltaire: "If there were no absolute, it would be necessary to invent one."

AT ANOTHER time and another place someone said: "We must be tolerant. Toleration is a cardinal virtue!"

Again, it was a statement allowed to stand without so much as a raised eyebrow. Would it have been too heretical to suggest that there are some things, some actions, some ideas and yes, even some people who should not be tolerated? Would you argue that disease should be tolerated? Murder? Thuggism? Hitler? When we become so tolerant as to become unintelligently tolerant, we leave the field to those very ones who are militantly intolerant of any who go counter to their beliefs and whims.

HOW MANY TIMES have you heard: "You can't beat the system!" or "You can't fight city hall!" And these, too, are allowed to stand for few bother to mention the system has been beaten many times and city hall has, indeed, been fought and beaten often. Individual man, we are told, is frustrated by the awesome forces surrounding him; he feels powerless before a gargantuan government. These forces are great, but it doesn't mean that man is too weak to cope with them — not unless by repeated suggestion, he comes to believe it! Witness the changes wrought by a humble, old man called Socrates, a kindly, gentle Christ, a determined Columbus, an insistent Jefferson, a steadfast Lincoln. The list goes on and on.

THIS, THEN, is a glimpse of but a part of our fifth column which bores from within and corrupts the intellectual and moral structure of our educational institutions and ultimately our society.

And when we permit effete latter-day intellectualism to contaminate our campuses and classrooms with virulent fifth column work, working at making us fearful of taking positive action, fearful of exercising reason, fearful of enforcing laws and most of all, fearful of being courageous, then the fifth column has done its work well. Very well indeed!

Chicago Unrest A Tragedy: LBJ

NEW YORK (AP) — Former President Lyndon B. Johnson, in a look back at the 1968 Democratic National Convention, has conceded that "without question, the bloodshed and terror in the streets of Chicago was a tragic, horrible thing."

The March issue of True Magazine published yesterday an interview Johnson granted just before he left office.

"The violent confrontation that occurred is a sad lesson in what happens when decent people on both sides abandon restraint and understanding," Johnson told True.

Johnson said he had trouble communicating with young people. "I would give us a decent grade for our efforts," he said, "but a poor grade for our effectiveness."

Novato Planners Due Two Plans Change Requests

An amendment to the master plan of the Marin Highlands subdivision will be considered by the Novato Planning Commission at 8 p.m. Monday in the Community House.

The developer, Sono-Marin Builders, seeks to substitute building lots for a recreational area in the planned community on 250 acres west of Trumbull Avenue and south of Vineyard Road.

The commission will also continue a hearing on the revised master plan for 900 acres of the Bahia Subdivision at the end of Bugeia Lane. The Union Bank of Los Angeles, developer, seeks to change the size of a lagoon and to add apartment houses and townhouses to the site.

Other items to come before the commission include a request by Loyal Davis for a planned residential development on approximately 2.5 acres east of Railroad Avenue and south of Orange Avenue and one to rezone from commercial to multiple family 63,800 square feet east of Diablo Avenue south of Warner Creek by J. C. Youngberg.

Supervisors To Tackle Social Woes

How can Marin County best provide improved facilities and opportunities for disadvantaged groups through "social planning"?

This question will be tackled by the board of supervisors tomorrow at its regular all-day meeting, beginning at 9 a.m., at the Civic Center.

County Administrator Alan Bruce will recommend that major planning projects be circulated to other departments engaged in people services (such as social services, human rights, recreation) for their comments and recommendations. The project would then go to the planning commission.

Bruce will also recommend that Marin City organizations and the Marin Senior Citizens Coordinating Council be included in the citizens advisory committee that approves the workable program for community development. The workable program must be submitted to the federal government annually to qualify the county for federal funds for low income and elderly housing.

Also at tomorrow's meeting, the supervisors will get a request for more deputy clerks in Marin Municipal Court to meet an increasing workload.

The Marin Historical Society will ask for salvage and preservation of the adobe walls inside the historic Rancho Olompali mansion north of Novato, which was razed by fire on Feb. 2.

The parks and recreation commission will recommend a county resolution against overdevelopment of Angel Island.

The supervisors will tour Marin Juvenile Hall during the lunch hour.

In the afternoon, the board will proceed with abatement of nuisances and illegal structures on Richardson Bay at Waldo Point. Seven owners of houseboats and other structures, including Donlan Arques, who have been ordered to abate the nuisances, will get a hearing at 3 p.m.

Burglars Gather Varied Property

Three burglaries were reported to San Rafael police Friday.

A jar containing $100 in 50-cent pieces was taken from the home of Gordon E. Dresser, 40 Jewell Street, between 4:30 a.m. and 11 p.m.

James W. Good of 8 De La Guerra Road, told police that burglars with a thirst took seven bottles of champagne, two bottles of cointreau and four bottles of red wine, valued at $60, from his garage between 10:10 and 10:30 p.m.

Mink Coat, TV Sets Are Stolen

Sheriff's deputies reported that a color television set, a brown mink coat and ladies' and mens' suits, value unlisted, were taken from the home of Coulter McKeever, 53 Moncada Way, Bayside Acres, Thursday.

The burglary, which occurred while the McKeevers were vacationing, was reported by Ralph L. Schooling, the caretaker, deputies reported.

Clocks Taken

Larry Adams, 10 Baker Court, Petaluma, reported that jewelry, clocks and a lighter, their value unspecified, were stolen from his home during the weekend. Police said there were no signs of forcible entry.

Charles Michals Is 'Man Of Year'

Charles Michals of Greenbrae was named "Man of the Year of the Marin Republican Council" Saturday night at the council's annual membership dinner dance at the Meadow Club, Fairfax.

Mchals, a public relations executive with a chemical company in San Francisco, was given a plaque by council president Henry J. Broderick of Tiburon. Michals is chairman of the Marin County Republican Central Committee.

More than 200 persons attended the dinner.

Recreation Report Due Board Review

A report on recreational use of high school facilities is to be presented to the San Rafael Board of Education at 6 p.m. tomorrow at the Administration Building, Third and E streets, San Rafael.

The board also will consider adopting a revised policy on exchanging teachers with other districts, which would permit exchanges with foreign countries.

Market Charge

WASHINGTON (UPI)—Used Volkswagens are being sold to U.S. customers as new cars in a "multimillion-dollar black market," according to Ralph Nader, the market place militant. Nader made the charge in a letter to Sen. Warren G. Magnuson, D-Wash., whose Senate Commerce Committee will soon begin hearings on small car imports.

Tam Basketballers Waiting To Ambush Redwood

An ambush could be the offing for Redwood High School's high-flying basketball team when it visits Mill Valley tomorrow afternoon for a date with dangerous Tamalpais High in one of the feature battles of a four-game Marin County Athletic League schedule.

The other big game finds Terra Linda's Trojans fighting for survival at Novato High in a game that the Trojans must win. Both games are at 4 p.m.

In a pair of night games, San Marin opens its very own gymnasium against Marin Catholic at Novato at 7 o'clock and Drake visits San Rafael, also at 7.

Redwood, after losing its first game, 56-55 to San Rafael, has cut a devasting swath through the league, knocking off contenders Terra Linda, Novato and San Rafael in succession to wind up on top of the league standings with a 7-1 won-lost record.

But Tamalpais, with a deceptive 4-4 mark, could provide trouble. The Giants have had their problems winning in Mill Valley and they'll more than likely run into a slower game than they're used to playing.

Amazingly accurate shooting and good height have been the Giants' mainstays. As a team, they're shooting 45 per cent from the field, with Jerry Piro, John Boro and sophomore Bill Challender all hitting over 50 per cent. Challender, and Pete Webb are both 6 feet, 6 inches tall.

The Indians play a steady kind of ball, with balanced scoring and good defense the watchwords.

The Novato-Terra Linda games shapes up as a sheer battle of survival, with neither team being able to afford a loss, especially the Trojans. Terra Linda is not 5-3 in league play, the Hornets are 6-2. A loss by the Trojans would virtually knock them out of the race. A loss by the Hornets would seriously hurt their chances.

The Hornets have been a one-two team, relying heavily on Steve McNally and Ed Herrnberger. The pair split 50 points in an 80-64 win over Drake last Friday.

Terra Linda has a little more balance, but the clutch player is Pat Purcell, top scorer in the league with a 20.8 average. Mike Timmel, Mike Pedan and Bob Nadell can all score but are inconsistent. And the Trojans will probably keep a close eye on soph Dana La Ferriere, who scored 18 points in Novato's early win over Terra Linda.

San Rafael could once again have its hands full trying to stop the erratic but never dull Drake Pirates. The Bulldogs, 5-3 in league play, must win this one, but they'll have to slow down top Drake ace Clark Jamison, fifth among league scorers.

Marin Catholic, fresh off an 54-53 upset win over Tamalpais, will gun for its third loop victory over winless San Marin.

Mike Murray, Steve Tellender and Shamus O'Reilly pace the 'Cats while Gary Howard is the only steady scorer for San Marin.

JIM GILMARTIN

New N.L. Schedule Has Me Confused

BACK TO SCHOOL — After studying the 1969 National League baseball schedule, released yesterday, I am more confused than ever and I hope the national pastime's new commissioner, Bowie Kuhn, knows more about the geographical makeup of these United States than did his predecessor, General Electric . . . or whatever his name was.

Because the N.L has expanded to 12 cities (welcome Montreal and San Diego), it has been split into two divisions for the first time in its 94-year history. Winners of each division will meet in a five-game playoff to determine the league's representative in the World Series.

Which is fine, except the planners didn't think very clearly when they drew up the Eastern and Western divisions. In the East are Chicago, Montreal, New York, Philadelphia, Pittsburgh and St. Louis while the Western Division will be composed of Houston, Los Angeles, Atlanta, Cincinnati, San Deigo and San Francisco.

What Is West Of What?

The last time I checked my trusty Rand-McNally coloring book, Cincinnati and Atlanta of the Western Division were located EAST of Chicago and St. Louis of the Eastern Division. Or if you look at it from another angle, St. Louis and Chicago are WEST of Cincy and Atlanta.

Anyway, it's terribly confussing, but I guess baseball is just keeping stride with the National Football League which somehow placed Atlanta, Ga. and Baltimore, Md., in the Coastal Division of its Western Conderence.

But, then again, baseball and football probably studied geography from the golf professors who scheduled the 1966 Western Amateur Golf Classic in — Pinehurst, North Carolina! Since the only thing North Carolina is West of the Atlantic Ocean, the sponsors wriggled out of their geographical embarrassment by explaining the Pinehurts Country Club is located six miles west of U.S.Highway 1 in North Carolina.

It's Topsy-Turvy World

Go west, young man, and you may wind up in the Atlantic Ocean.

MEMORY LANE — After reading the I-J account of former major league pitcher Tony Freitas' recent induction into the Marin County Hall of Fame, Mrs. Harriett McKay Massoni of 247 Santa Margarita Drive, San Rafael recalled her childhood friendship with Tony in Mill Valley.

"I still remember the day — oh, I was 11 or 12 years old," she said, "that Tony was teasing me and chasing me around the neighborhood. I picked up a rock and just threw it back over my shoulder and it hit him on the head. '(The original beanball, thrown by a girl, yet!)

Tony Was A Seals Killer

"Also, I thought you would be interested to know that my brother, James T. McKay, who now lives in Santa Barbara, took Tony to his first professional baseball game to see the Seals play way back in the 1920s."

How ironical because years later, when he was ace pitcher of the Sacramento Solons, Freitas was known throughout the Pacific Coast League as the Seals Killer.

Recalled Walter Mails, another old time lefty, "I don't think the Seals ever beat Freitas. He had uncanny success against San Francisco with his slow, tantalizing curve balls. He could just throw his glove out on the mound and the Seals would roll over dead."

Bruins Rally To Tie Seal Hockeymen, 3-3

OAKLAND (AP) — As far as the Boston Bruins are concerned, Oakland is the most unpopular team in the National Hockey league.

The Bruins have been beaten only once since a 3-1 loss to the Seals Christmas night, and in a later meeting, the teams tied 3-3.

They tied 3-3 again last night in Boston. The Bruins who lead the NHL East Division, came from behind with two third-period goals by Derek Sanderson and Ken Hodge.

The Seals, who defeated Toronto 4-1 Saturday night after beating Montreal Wednesday night, play their fourth straight East Division team Wednesday night at the Oakland Arena when they meet the New York Rangers.

The tie before 7,704 who defied a driving snowstorm, solidified the Seals' hold on second place in the West Division, as third-place Los Angeles lost to Detroit 3-0.

Wayne Cashman sent the Bruins into a first-period lead when he bounced in a rebound off his first shot at Smith.

Oakland struck twice with 32 seconds early in the second period as Earl Ingarfield knocked in a deflected shot for his ninth goal and Mike Laughton tipped in a pass for his 14th goal of the season.

The Seals made it 3-1 in the opening seconds of the third period as Carol Vadnais' slap shot caromed off teammate Gerry Ehman into the net.

SITTING DOWN ON THE JOB

Tars Stun DeAnza Quint

By KIMO CAMPBELL

Playing a superb all-around game throughout, the College of Marin basketball team destroyed DeAnza College of Cupertino 77-63 in a key Camino Norte Conference game before about 250 fans in Kentfield Saturday night.

Outjumping the taller Dons time and again, the Mariners' front line stalwarts — Pat Schafer, Tom Seidenberg, Ches Bornia, Bob Tait, and Gary Hanson — clobbered DeAnza under the boards, capturing 50 rebounds to just 33 for the visitors. Schafer had 17 rebounds and 26 points to lead both clubs.

With the win, Marin now has a 5-2 win-loss record in the CNC, behind unbeaten Contra Costa College of San Pablo (7-0 in the league, 21-3 overall). The Dons are now 15-8, 4-3 in the conference, and will probably drop several notches from last week's number 16 ranking in the state.

After DeAnza had tied the game early at 5-5, baskets by Seidenberg, Schafer and Andre Horn put the Tars ahead for good. Seidenberg roamed at will under the basket, canning 14 points before intermission. Schafer had nine, and with both aiding Bornia on rebounding, the Tars had a 30-21 lead at the break, while DeAnza ace John Seraceno was saddled with four fouls.

The Dons got seven straight points in the first moments of the second half to come within six, 34-28, but Marin turned on the gas again and was in control the rest of the way. Seraceno, the six-foot-six Don forward, fouled out with 12 minutes to go, having scored but one field goal. John Dybvig and Bob Van Hoy followed Seraceno to the bench a bit later, and the Tars coasted in as Schafer got 17 points in the half.

Marin shot 46 per cent from the floor to the visitors' 27 per cent, and outplayed the taller DeAnzans on defense as well as offense.

With one big win under their belts, the Tars must face dangerous West Valley College in Campbell Wednesday night as they continue to play catch-up to Contra Costa. Since they have no league games next weekend, the only action the Kentfield five will have will be against the Stanford frosh at Palo Alto, Saturday night in the New Roscoe Maples Pavilion.

Warriors Tip Sonics In Thriller

ATLANTA (AP) — The San Francisco Warriors find themselves in third place of the National Basketball Association's Western Division as they travel to Atlanta to tackle the second-place Hawks tomorrow night.

Jeff Mullins' two free throws with one second left yesterday at Seattle gave the Warriors a 121-120 victory over the Sonics and pushed them up from fourth place as San Diego lost to Milwaukee.

Mullins led all scorers with 34 points and his free throws iced the game at 121-118. The officials allowed a basket by Seattle's Bob Rule at the buzzer.

Rule led his team with 31.

Six technical fouls were called in the game — played before 7,545 — and officials sent Seattle's John Tresvant and Sonics' trainer Jack Curran to the dressing room.

Fouls were called 59 times and the Warriors got 57 free throws, making 43 of them.

Nate Thurmond backed up Mullins with 20 points. former Stanford star Art Harris scored 23 for the Sonics.

Canadian Pair Avert U.S. Sweep In Figure Skating

The Syracuse University pair's campaign to notice the importance of dance, now that Peggy Fleming no longer dominates U.S. figure skating, suffered a setback Saturday night. At the North American Figure Skating Championships they were upset by Bruce Lennie and Donna Taylor of Toronto.

Lennie, 23, and Miss Taylor, 18, fell 4.7 points short of Sladky and Miss Schwomeyer but received the dance title because they got more over-all first-place votes in the three-day competition.

Pleasing a crowd of 9,089 with their black and pink outfits and their artful if not tricky, skating, Lennie and Miss Taylor averted what loomed as the United States' first sweep in the competition since 1951. Canada took all four titles in 1963.

Tim Wood, not showing the effects of a 100-degree temperature from a cold, received first-place votes from all seven judges in free skating to take the men's title over Jay Humphry of Vancouver, B.C.

Tiny Janet Lynn, 15, of Rockford, Ill. narrowly defeated Karen Magnussen, 16, of Vancouver, in the women's singles Friday night.

Ronald Kauffman, 22, and his sister, Cynthia, 20, of Seattle, easily defended their North American title in the pairs.

Sladky will be graduated from Syracuse in June with a degree in chemistry but says, "I'll probably just be a figure skating teacher." He wants the dance made a part of the Olympic competition.

"The audiences seem to like the dances more, especially the more mature audiences.

"I think it's more exacting. You're tense all the time and you have to skate on your toes more. However, the pairs is probably the most physically demanding."

Sladky, who "sort of fell into" the dance routine, says most skaters can compete in singles, pairs or dance.

The North American title was "the greatest victory yet" for Lennie and Miss Taylor, who have been skating together for only 2' years.

Wood, a 21-year-old pre-law student at John Carroll University in Cleveland, said he felt weak. But he still performed a triple-toed loop and a triple Salchow.

John Misha Petkevich of Great Falls, Mont., was third.

Wood, a silver medalist in the 1968 Olympics, took a 70-point margin over Humphry into the men's free skating, and came out with an 84-point margin.

Gary Visconti of Detroit, the North American men's winner in 1965, finished fourth.

S.F. State Tops Sonoma Quintet

Sonoma State lost its seventh Far Western Conference basketball game of the season Saturday, dropping an 87-68 verdict at San Francisco State.

The Gators, leading the FWC with a 7-0 mark, broke from a 12-12 tie in the early going to win easily.

Ray Solomon had 30 points and game scoring honors for Sonoma State, now 8-10 on the season.

Casper Charges To Golf Victory, $20,000 Prize

PALM SPRINGS (AP)—Billy Casper finally got off the launching pay and onto the victory stand. A position he occupied six times in golf in 1968.

A nonwinner in this new season, Casper forged from behind in the final round to capture the $122,000 Bob Hope Desert Classic yesterday at the par 36-36—72 Indian Wells Country Club.

The 37-year-old Californian pocketed $20,000 a nice start in a bid to repeat as the game's leading money winner. He was tops with $205,000 last year.

A last-round six-under par 66 for a 90-hole score of 345-15 under par for the marathon—was three shots in front of Dave Hill's 348 last round 66. Hill, from Evergreen, Colo., won his second largest purse, $11,400.

Such stars as defending champion Arnold Palmer, a former winner, Jack Nicklaus, as well as U.S. Open champion Lee Trevino, did not fare well on the bright and sunny day.

Never serious threats, Nicklaus had a final 69 for 345 and $1,350 Trevino 71 for 353 and $1,800 and Palmer 70 for 356 and $755.

Casper and the sentimental favorite of the show, Art Wall Jr., rounded the turn into the final nine holes all even.

Wall, the 1959 Masters champion and one of the tigers of the 50s, began to wilt and Casper virtually settled it all with an eagle 3 on the 478-yard 14th hole Billy hit a No. 4 wood 25 feet from the cup and sank it.

It was a breeze on in but Casper, a determined guy, went for another eagle 3 on the last green from 45 feet. The ball lagged up short three feet and he closed out with a birdie.

"My goal was to get off to a good start," said Casper. "At no time later did I ever have it in mind to play conservatively. I've lost quite a few tournaments playing that way. I was shooting for birdies from start to finish."

The most spectacular round was the 33-29—62 by former amateur champion Deane Beman. Playing the back nine first, Beman registered five birdies and an eagle 3 on the 14th for his 29. A 45-yard strike with a pitching wedge produced the eagle.

Beman, of Louisville, Ky., said:

"It was my best round since I turned pro. I played like a lot of us practice on the driving range

Saijo Retains Title; Gomez To Retire Soon

TOKYO (AP) — Pedro Gomez of Venezuela, beaten in his challenge to wrest the world featherweight boxing title from Japan's Shozo Saijo, said today he probably will retire from the ring.

But, Gomez said, he expects to have three or four more fights then retire—probably in December. He said he hopes to get another crack at Saijo, who retained his World Boxing Association crown.

Saijo, making his first defense of the crown he won from Californian Raul Rojas last September, piled up a big early edge and withstood Gomez' late surge to earn a unanimous decision last night.

There were no knockdowns in the 15-round fight before a crowd of about 6,000. The 22-year-old champion, 19-5-2, weighed 125½ pounds and Gomez, 22-2-1, scaled 123¼.

Ex-Champ Servo Dies Of Cancer

PUEBLO, Colo. (AP) — Marty Servo, former world welterweight boxing champion, died yesterday after a long bout with cancer which kept him bedridden the last year of his life. He was 49.

Servo, born in Schenectady, N.Y., came to the southern Colorado town after his retirment from fighting in March, 1946. For six years, he battled cancer but grimly conceded it was a losing fight.

In a telephone conversation last November with the sports editor of a Schenectady newspaper, Servo said:

"This is one I'm going to lose. When you feel this way, you have to die . . . Did you think the day would come when I would admit defeat to anyting?"

Servo held the crown only briefly. He knocked out Fred "Red" Cochrane on Feb. 1, 1946 in Madison Square Garden to win the title but on his next fight, a nontitle match with middleweight Rocky Graziano, he was knocked out. He announceed his retirement shortly after.

Relatives here said Servo had 10 operations in the past five years in an attempt to stop cancer. He is survived by his widow, Carol, one son, two daughters and a grandchild.

Burial will be here Wednesday.

Three Blazers Crack Records In Track Meet

Mike Wood, Larry Stump and Aaron Collier broke records Saturday when the Mill Valley Blazers competed in their first official Amateur Athletic Union age group track and field meet at San Mateo College.

Wood, competing in the 14-15 age division, set Northern California AAU records in the 440-yard run (57 seconds) and the shot put (45 feet, 2 inches) and also placed second in the 50-yard dash to win high point honors for the Mill Valley team.

Stump also won two events in the 12-13 age group, setting a Northern California AAU record in the 440 at 63 seconds and winning the long jump.

Collier, running in the 9 and under division, set his record in the 880-yard run at 2 minutes, 53 seconds. He also placed third in the 440.

The Mill Valley team, open to boys from throughout Marin County, is sponsored by the Mill Valley Recreation Department. The Blazers will compete in another AAU meet next Saturday at Foothill Junior College in Los Altos.

5 Straight League Victories

Novato High School's wrestling team, with seven individual crowns, swept to its fifth straight Marin County Athletic League Wrestling Tournament championships at San Rafael High School Saturday.

The Hornets piled up 139 points to outdistance runnerup Tamalpais, which has 107 points. From there, it dropped down to Terra Linda with 78 points; San Rafael, 66; San Marin, 51, and Redwood, 46.

Novato, as expected, was especially tough in the middle and lower middle weights. Beginning with the 115-pound division, where Kirt Donaldson won by a fall over Ron Engel of Terra Linda, right through the 136-pound division, Novato swept four straight titles.

Other Novato winners were Rob McCown at 148 pounds, Ray Sparling, 168, and Tom Zechlin, 194.

Larry Castano of Tamalpais won at 98 pounds. Jeff Grant of Terra Linda took the 106-pound division while Harry Peloquin of Tamalpais won at 141 points. Ray Wirts of San Rafael took the 157-pound title, Dennis Miller of San Marin won at 178 pounds and Charles McBride of Tamalpais was the heavyweight titlist as all the schools won at least one title with the exception of Redwood.

The top three finishers in each division will go on to the North Coast Section meet at Pacifica High School in Hayward Saturday.

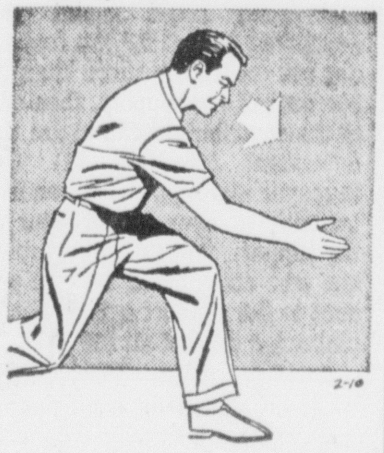
Bowling Tips

By DON CARTER



I may sound like a golf instructor now, but keeping the head down is just as important on the bowling lane as on the links. If you have a tendency to look too quickly at the pins after releasing the ball, you'll probably miss your spot and you'll come up too quickly.

Good-Bye Wisconsin, Says Vince Lombardi

MILWAUKEE, Wis. (UPI)—Vince Lombardi, the iron man of the Green Bay Packers, choked with emotion as he bade farewell to Wisconsin with a promise to remain a loyal friend of the team that he led to greatness.

Lombardi, named last week to be coach, chief executive and part owner of the Washington Redskins after a decade with the Packers, was honored at the first dinner of the Wisconsin Pro Football Writers Association.

"I have said before that I could be loyal and a friend while not necessarily being here," Lombardi said. "I will be loyal—I will be your friend—and I hope that you will be mine. I will say, too, that the Pack will be back."

Lombardi, who stepped down as Packer coach a year ago while staying on as general manager, recounted to 700 persons the circumstances that led to his decision to join the Redskins.

That decision, he said, was predicated upon the opportunity to gain equity, but mostly to get back into coaching.

"I can say I have the best job in football," he said. "I was very unhappy out of coaching, even though a year ago I had every intention of staying out of it. As you can well understand, to come back as coach here would have been grossly unfair to players and coaches alike. I did what I had to do."

Lombardi's voice broke as he spoke of George Halas, founder-owner of the Chicago Bears, who was honored in absentia for distinguished service to football. Halas underwent surgery in England two months ago and is under doctors' orders not to travel.

Tars' Freshmen Breeze To Win

Art Goepp had 15 points and 13 rebounds, Bill Hoge and Terry Bennett 14 makers apiece, and Gerald Battle II as the Tarbabes improved their record of 9-5 for the season. Coaches Jim Halm and John Panagakis gave up a player to the Hospital team, which arrived a man short.

Marin Frosh scoring: Leete 11-4-26; Goepp 7-1-15; Black 1-0-2; B. Smith 1-0-2; Battle 5-1-11; Cupples 4-0-8; Hoge 7-0-14; Bennett 5-4-14. Totals: 41-10-92.

Letterman's Hospital scoring: Brown 8-4-20; Younger 5-4-14; Carmody 7-1-15; Failla 4-4-12; Schaefer 0-3-3. Totals: 24-16-64.

Rod Laver Wins Net Tourney

PHILADELPHIA (AP) — Rod Laver has a new cure for a backache—five games of tennis.

Laver, a 30-year-old Australian, was due on court yesterday for his best three-of-five set final against countryman Tony Roche in the Philadelphia International Indoor Open Tennis Tournament. But Laver's back ached. It seemed he pulled a muscle a few days ago and it was acting up.

So Laver took a hot shower. Then he had some linament applied. That didn't help much. The final match got under way and Laver looked like a guy with a backache.

Roche, who could be the second best tennis player in the world—Laver is acknowledged No. 1—zipped to a 4-1 lead. The 23-year-old Roche appeared ready to tear up his fellow Aussie for the third time in their last four meetings.

Suddenly, the tide changed. Laver began to hit the shots that made him the No. 1 pro money winner in 1968 with earnings of $70,359. Roche appeared to press a little. The strokes he had been scoring with earlier now were just out.

Laver tied it at 4-4, and went on to take the set and the match by 7-5, 6-4, 6-4. His efforts earned him the $7,000 top prize, while Roche soothed his own pain with $4,000 second money.

"I've got a little history of a back condition," Laver confided. "It's a bit of a problem, though nothing to worry about. I've got be a little careful getting the back warm. That's why I'm a slow starter. After a few games it 'frees' up, and I can play completely normal."

This first world's indoor open tournament was somewhat of a lark for Laver's powerful game. He sailed through the five-day affair without losing a set, defeating Francis Pierre Barthes, Earl Buchholz of St. Louis, Charles Pasarell of Santurce, P.R., and Ken Rosewall enroute to the top money.

In the doubles final, Marty Riessen of Evanston, Ill., teamed with The Netherlands' Tom Okker to defeat the Australian pair of John Newcombe and Roche 8-6, 6-4. The winners earned $700 apiece and the losers, $300 each.

Orr To Return

BOSTON (UPI)—Defenseman Bobby Orr, who suffered an injury on Jan. 30 to a knee operated on twice last summer, may return to the Boston lineup in 10 days, Bruin officials said yesterday.

Washington Cagers To Get Another Chance At UCLA

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

"We opened our conference season in the state of Washington and I guess we were a bit too confident because we lost both games up there," explained John Wooden recently of a season in the past.

When Wooden's UCLA basketball team travels to the state of Washington for games next Saturday and Monday, overconfidence probably won't be a hard illness to cure. The Bruins have already tasted half a defeat.

UCLA is still the nation's top-ranked team after weekend Pacific-8 triumphs over Washington, 62-51, and Washington State, 108-80. But Washington scared the Bruins.

The Huskies, playing Tex Winter's careful offensive game, took only "sure" shots and led 33-29 at halftime last Friday night. It may have made this weekend's game a bit easier.

"The game was good for us," Wooden said. "It came at a time when we may have subconsciously taken our opponents too lightly. Now we realize that things don't fall into place for us so easily."

In other Pac-8 games last weekend, Southern Cal beat Washington 69-56 after losing to the Cougars 72-70 Friday night in overtime; California beat Oregon State 69-57 but lost to surprising Oregon, 84-73, and Stanford lost two games by a total of three points: 74-72 to Oregon and 63-62 to Oregon State.

Ron Taylor aided USC by clogging the middle in Saturday's victory over Washington. The Trojans grabbed 20 more rebounds than the Huskies and used the 22 points of Ernie Powell and 18 of Mack Calvin to post their third Pac-8 victory in six games.

California hit a cold spell Saturday night and when it was over, Oregon had scored 16 straight, assumed a nine-point lead and won in a walk. Jackie Ridgle scored 30 for the Golden Bears in a losing cause and reserve Leonard Jackson got a career high of 17 for the Ducks.

UCLA takes on Washington State this Saturday night in Pullman and then faces the tough Huskies again next Monday in Seattle. Southern Cal plays both Washington teams on alternate nights.

California and Stanford host Oregon schools, Cal playing Oregon's Ducks and Stanford playing Oregon State's Beavers on Saturday night.

It's Battle For WCAC Second Spot

By ASSOCIATED PRESS

The three-way logjam at second place in the West Coast Athletic Conference has to give this weekend when up-and-coming University of California at Santa Barbara plays at San Jose State.

Santa Barbara, San Jose and University of Pacific are tied for second in the WCAC standings at 5-2. Santa Clara leads the league and is undefeated in 20 games.

Santa Barbara joined San Jose and Pacific in the second place race Saturday by defeating St. Mary's 78-70 on Steve Rippe's 20 points while Pacific clipped San Jose 76-68.

Pacific guard John Phillips was the key to his team's victory as he sparked a late rally when San Jose held a 54-49 lead with six minutes left.

Phillips finished with 12 points. Lanky Tom Jones, 6-foot-10 Pacific center, scored 27. Coby Dietrick led San Jose with 23.

Third-ranked Santa Clara was dealt a blow to its NCAA hopes when high-scoring forward Bud Ogden sprained his ankle in the first half of an 88-60 victory over Pepperdine.

His brother Ralph and center Dennis Awtrey scored 17 apiece for the Broncos.

University of San Francisco claimed its first WCAC victory by beating Loyola 70-61 as USF's Rich Schaer hit on 11 straight free throws in the final 10 minutes.

Schaer led USF with 26 points and teammate Pete Cross contributed 20. Rich Dixon led Loyola with 19.

USF takes on Santa Clara at San Jose Saturday. In other games, Loyola will be at Pepperdine and St. Mary's plays at UOP.

SUCCESSFUL INVESTING

Profitable Future In Technologies

By ROGER E. SPEAR

Q. Some time ago on favorable news in more than one publication I bought EG&G and Gulton. I'd like your opinion on whether to hold or to take a loss. — V.Z.

A. If you are patient and don't need the capital these represent, I believe you'll be well rewarded by holding. Both now trade at the lower end of their 1968 price range and can be purchased by readers, who'll appriciate their singular skills and will not be bothered by above-average volatility. Both tend toward relatively high price-earnings multiples.

Fiscal 1968-69, ending Feb. 28, will be the first year the Gulton reports lowered earnings since 1963, though sales will probably top prior records by exceeding $100 million. Several temporary difficulties caused the earnings drop — a strike, relocation of one division, developmental costs of new products and less demand for aerospace and hi-fi items. Future prospects should improve from anticipated acquisitions, more aggressive commercial marketing and further new products. A larger stake in medical electronics and Gulton's lithium batteries for automobiles should not be overlooked.

EG&G is being publicized widely in connection with nuclear underground fracturing. As the one controlling agent of all blasting operations, so designated by the Atomic Energy Commission, the company should produce rapidly accelerating profits as the new industry becomes stabilized.

Q. I own some IBM and I am most discouraged to see quotations go down continuously. I anticipate receiving some money. Should I buy more IBM or other stocks? — M.S.

A. Whether to buy more IBM depends on the percentage of your capital already invested in this one issue. For long-term investors IBM is now trading at a reasonable multiple, although near-term prospects are clouded. The recent Justice Department suit — brought by the Johnson Administration — may be de-emphasized under President Nixon. Nevertheless, some changes in pricing policies will definitely come as a result of this and other suits pending against IBM. But divestiture or other extreme measures at this time look doubtful.

Topps And Trowsers To Open In Northgate Fashion Mall

A new store scheduled to open about the middle of March at Northgate Fashion Mall is called Topps and Trowsers.

This firm, according to president Harold Schwartz, was established last March and specializes in "coordinated sports wear." No suits or jackets are sold. Inventories are in the pants, shirts and sweaters line, with other related items.

Topps and Trowsers is leasing 3,000 square feet next to the Northgate Fashion Mall office and located near the City of Paris.

Headquarters are in the Serramonte Shopping Center, Daly City. Other stores are located at the Cannery on Leavenwoth Street, San Francisco and in Concord. An opening is also planned at El Cerrito.

INSURANCE BROKER Lee Ceccotti has opened a real estate business handling residential, commercial and income property and property management at this office at 645 Tamalpais Drive, Corte Madera, under the name of Lee R. Ceccotti, Realtor. He will continue his life and general insurance business.

OTHER REAL ESTATE. Richard Gregory of Mill Valley has joined the staff of Frank Howard Allen and Co. of Mill Valley. He has been in Southern Marin real estate for the past six years, has a broker's license, notary public commission and is a candidate for designation as Certified Investment Broker with the National Association of Real Estate Brokers.

Another Attell has gone into the real estate business — this one is Peter Attell of San Rafael, who has joined Frank L. Bargalotti's office in San Anselmo. He is the younger brother of Mervyn Attell, with Gallagher-Sturiale Realty and is studying at College of Marin to get his broker's license.

If 1968 was a good year in Marin County real estate sales, 1969 should be better and measure up to expectations of $80 million for the 12 months. January got off to a good start with $6,155,676 in reported multiple listing sales, compared to the year-ago figure of $4,019,686. Total of sales completed in January amounted to $4,708,886, compared with $3,446,296 for the first month of 1968.

An educational and sales conference for local brokers and salesmen will be held Feb. 25 at El Rancho-Tropicana in Santa Rosa. The meeting is being cosponsored by the Marin County Real Estate Board and the California Real Estate Association.

NEW MANAGER of the F. W. Woolworth Co. store in the Corte Madera Shopping Center is Duane Nelson, once assistant manager here when the branch was opened in 1958. Since then he has managed two Napa stores and has been manager of the San Carlos branch since 1963.

Kettenhofen Is Building Owner

The Thirty-Thirty Bridgeway Building in Sausalito has been purchased by Ernest N. Kettenhofen, former Marin County supervisor.

The structure, which once served as the Administration Building at Marinship, contains approximately 22,000 square feet of floor space and has more than an acre of offstreet parking. The building and land was bought by Kettenhofen from William Winterburn of San Rafael. Sale price was not disclosed.

Kettenhofen said it will be operated in conjunction with the Industrial Center Building on Gate 5 Road, which he also owns, and is managed by his son, William. He said both buildings will be improved to attract tenants.

Sloane Signs Lease For Northgate Store

W and J Sloane has signed a lease for a home furnishing store in the Northgate Fashion Mall.

The 125-year-old firm which operates 20 stores throughout the United States will open its 21st next to the Northgate Theater in August. The store is expected to cover from 30,000 to 40,000 square feet and will have entrances on the mall and also from the east parking area.

The lease was negotiated through Coldwell, Banker and Co., agent for the Northgate Fashion Mall, and Anderson Associates, San Francisco.

Part of the area to be occupied is already under roof and requires only interior finishing, but to acquire the full amount of space needed, an addition to the building will be constructed, permitting windows on three sides.

Edward R. Hill, vice president and West Coast manager in San Francisco, said the Northgate store will have a staff of 12, mostly sales personnel. Sloane's complete lines of furnishings will be carried, he said.

Sloane is headquartered in New Nork City and recently opened its 20th store in Garden City, Long Island. Five stores are now operated in the Bay Area.

INCOME TAX FACTS

By PETER JAMES WIKEL, CPA

Five Conditions Are Listed For Claiming Of Dependents

Wikel

How many dependents can you claim?

Each dependent must meet all five of the following conditions.

1. Dependent must have received over one-half of his support from you in 1968. (Or see below — multiple support agreement.)

2. Dependent did not have over $600 income in 1968, unless the dependent was your child or stepchild under 19 years of age, or if over 19 years of age, a full time student for at least five months, in which case the dependent child can earn any amount as long as you actually provide over one-half of the cost of support.

3. Dependent is not claimed by any other taxpayer and does not file a joint return with another taxpayer. For instance, do not list a dependent married daughter who files a joint return with her husband.

MUST BE CITIZEN

4. Dependent must be a citizen of the United States or a resident of the United States, Canada, Mexico, The Republic of Panama or the Canal Zone.

5. Dependent must be closely related to you or be anyone else who meets requirements 1, 2, 3 and 4 above and had your home as his principal place of abode and was a member of your household, even if not related to you.

If the dependent has worked part time and earned less than $600 or was your child under 19, or over 19 and a student, and income tax was withheld from such earnings, the dependent should file a tax return to secure refund of the tax withheld.

This will in no way prevent you from also claiming the exemption for the dependent, provided, of course, that the dependent meets all five of the conditions.

OTHER AIDS

Also, if your dependent can qualify in all other ways except that you do not furnish over one-half of his support, then perhaps this will help you.

Where two or more persons contribute more than 50 per cent of the support of a dependent and each could claim the dependent except for the fact he did not contribute more than 50 per cent of the support, then one of the contributors can claim the dependent provided: (1) The taxpayer claiming the dependent contributed over 10 per cent of the support, and (2) Every other one who contributed over 10 per cent to the support agrees not to claim the dependent for 1968.

An agreement, Form 2120, must be signed by each person (other than yourself) who contributed more than 10 per cent to the support of the dependent. The agreement must be filed with your return claiming the deduction for the dependent.

$1.33 Million Pact Signed On Quail Hill

Signing of a contract in excess of $1.33 million dollars for site preparation with A. Teichert and Son, Inc., general contractor of Sacramento, was announced today by Quail Hill, Inc., wholly owned subsidiary of Commerce Clearing House, Inc., a Chicago based legal publishing firm.

The 83-acre property locally known as Quail Hill — centered in Northgate Shopping Center — will be the site for the western regional headquarters for CCH and related companies with the balance of the acreage subject ot a master plan approved by the City of San Rafael.

G. H. Tetlow, treasurer, A. Teichert and Son, Inc. announced plans to get started as soon as weather permits, and probable completion in November.

Design and plans were accomplished under the direction of Marquis and Stroller, architects; by Carlos E. Gonzalez, civil engineers; Harding-Miller-Lawson and Associates, soil engineers and Eckbo-Dean-Austin and Williams, landscape architects.

Construction of the western regional headquarters of CCH and related companies is expected to start this year with a building in excess of 100,000 square feet.

Priest Starts A New Church

MILAN, Italy (AP) — Michel Colin, self-proclaimed Pope Clement XV, has founded "The New Church of Christ" in a drafty three-room apartment here.

Colin, 63, a French former priest, said Christ told him, "You will become a priest, then a bishop and finally pope."

Now known as the Antipope of Fatima, Colin met with newsmen accompanied by two of his cardinals. He wore purple robes and an ermine cape.

Colin says the official church "is no longer able to enlighten anyone."
